REVISED NOTICE.

HER EXCELLENCY LADY HARDINGE of Penshurst has decided to give, out of the funds which have been collected for a Medical College for Women at Delhi, a certain number of scholarships for lady students who may wish to join that institution when it is opened.

2. It is proposed to allot 18 scholarships of Rs. 30 a month each, tenable for two years. Out of the five scholarships allotted for students who are residents of the Presidency of Bengal, two have already been awarded and three remain to be awarded.

3. The object of the scholarships being to enable ladies to enter the College at Delhi and to take up a professional course there, the award will be made to those, otherwise eligible, who are prepared to join the Junior Intermediate class of a recognised College or any similar class this year with a view to qualifying, after a course of study for two years, for admission to the Medical College at Delhi.

4. Candidates for these scholarships must be statutory natives of India. They must also guarantee that they will study for two years in a college affiliated to the local University, the course leading up to the Intermediate examination, or an examination recognized for this purpose as equivalent thereto, such special subjects as may be prescribed by that University as qualifying for entrance upon a professional course of medical study being included in the course. They must also undertake that on the completion of these two years they will seek admission to the Medical College to be established at Delhi, and continue their studies up to the examinations for the Medical degree for which that College will prepare students.

5. The question of providing scholarships tenable during the period of study in Delhi is under consideration by the Governing Body of the College. It is hoped to make an announcement on this subject shortly. The continuance of the scholarships and the award of any further scholarships will be contingent on the progress of the scholars and the receipt by the Local Government of good reports upon them.

6. Scholarships will be awarded to such lady students as the Local Government may, on the results of the examination which closes the secondary school course, regard as most likely to profit by the facilities which the proposed College at Delhi will offer. Applications in the enclosed form, which must be submitted through the head of the College or head of a high school of which the applicant is a student, will be received in the office of the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, up to the 31st July 1914. The scholarships will run for two years from the date on which each scholarship-holder enters on her preliminary course of study. In the case of a lady student who has already entered upon a course of study, the successful completion of which would qualify her for admission to the College, a scholarship may be awarded with retrospective effect from the date on which she entered upon the course or any date subsequent thereto.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Forecast of the rabi crops of Bengal, 1913-14.

(Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1911-12, the area under summer rice in Bengal represents some 0·5 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.)

Explanatory.—The crops dealt with in the present forecast are the spring crops, such as summer rice, barley, gram, tobacco, etc., which are generally sown during September and October and harvested between February and April. In the food-crops are included kalai, arhar, mung, peas, lentils, khesari, kulthi, buck-wheat, cheena, potatoes, yams, melons and chillies, and in the non-food-crops, tobacco, ganja, fodder, fibres, etc.

Character of the Season.—The rainfall in September was general throughout the Province. In October it was generally above the average and sufficient for sowings, which generally began in the normal time. The rainfall in November generally favoured the growth of the crops. Light to moderate rain fell during the second week of December, but the next month was generally dry. This affected the growth of the crops to some extent. The rainfall during the third week of February improved the prospects generally; but being excessive it damaged the crops in some places. The season on the whole has been fair and a little better than last year.

Acreage.—The normal area under the different rabi crops in the Province dealt with in the forecast is estimated at 3,831,500 acres. The area actually sown this year is reported to be 3,073,900 acres against 3,077,900 acres last year, which shows a slight decrease. 340,900 acres are reported to be under summer (boro) rice this year against 314,700 acres last year.

Outturn.—Estimated percentage of outturn in the 16 districts where the crop is most important is as follows:—Rangpur, Malda, Bakarganj and Burdwan 100, Tippera 95, Nadia and Murshidabad 92, Pabna 91, Faridpur 90, Mymensingh 89, Dacca and Jalpaiguri 88, Jessore 83, Noakhali 82, Midnapur 75 and Rajshahi 70.

According to the estimate of the District Officers the outturn of the different rabi crops for the Province as a whole works out to 89 per cent. of the normal against 83 per cent. last year.

Accepting 94 per cent. as the outturn of summer rice, the gross yield of the crop for the Province, on the basis of a normal yield of 13½ maunds of clean grain per acre, is estimated at 3,178,300 cwts. against 2,809,200 cwts. last year. The increase works out to 13 per cent. only.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

The apparent difference in other heads is due to alteration in the classification of crops. The weather has been favourable. The decrease in outturn is mainly due to decreased outturn reported from Jamalpur owing to decay of fertility of the soil and to want of proper manuring.

No. 2831—42.

Extract (paragraphs 1 and 2) from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Home Department (Public), under date Calcutta, the 8th December 1899.

RESOLUTION.

THE Secretary of State for India has brought to the notice of the Government of India that it not infrequently happens that natives of India, students or others, who have proceeded to England, desire to obtain passports to enable them to travel to foreign countries in which the possession of a passport is necessary or desirable, and that difficulty often arises from want of evidence to show that the applicant is a British subject, and therefore entitled to a passport. Appeals for assistance are also frequently addressed to His Lordship by destitute Indians who desire to return to their country and by students who, owing to embarrassed circumstances, are unable to complete their course of education.

2. In order to enable the Secretary of State to deal with such cases satisfactorily, the Governor-General in Council has decided that it is necessary to press upon Indian students and others visiting England the desirability of providing themselves, before their departure from India, with an authoritative certificate of identity, in the form appended to this Resolution, signed by the head of the district (in a Presidency town, the Commissioner of Police) in the case of residents of British India and by the Political Officer in that of residents of Native States. For a student the certificate should be signed by the head of his last school or college and countersigned by the District Officer (in a Presidency town, the Commissioner of Police) or Political Officer, as the case may be.

2. It is proposed to allot 18 scholarships of Rs. 30 a month each, tenable for two years. Out of the five scholarships allotted for students who are residents of the Presidency of Bengal, two have already been awarded and three remain to be awarded.

3. The object of the scholarships being to enable ladies to enter the College at Delhi and to take up a professional course there, the award will be made to those, otherwise eligible, who are prepared to join the Junior Intermediate class of a recognised College or any similar class this year with a view to qualifying, after a course of study for two years, for admission to the Medical College at Delhi.

4. Candidates for these scholarships must be statutory natives of India. They must also guarantee that they will study for two years in a college affiliated to the local University, the course leading up to the Intermediate examination, or an examination recognized for this purpose as equivalent thereto, such special subjects as may be prescribed by that University as qualifying for entrance upon a professional course of medical study being included in the course. They must also undertake that on the completion of these two years they will seek admission to the Medical College to be established at Delhi, and continue their studies up to the examinations for the Medical degree for which that College will prepare students.

5. The question of providing scholarships tenable during the period of study in Delhi is under consideration by the Governing Body of the College. It is hoped to make an announcement on this subject shortly. The continuance of the scholarships and the award of any further scholarships will be contingent on the progress of the scholars and the receipt by the Local Government of good reports upon them.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 1.

By the Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR :—

Travelling allowance, etc., of Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors of the Vaccination Department

* 1. (a) Are there any proposals before Government for the revision of the scale of travelling and horse allowance payable to Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors of the Vaccination Department ?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state what these proposals are, and in what manner and for what reasons they differ from the system hitherto in force ?

(c) Is it a fact that Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors are not allowed to put up at Dâk Bungalows and Inspection Bungalows ? If so, why ?

The Hon'ble MR. SAMMAN replied :—

1. (a) & (b) The scale of travelling and horse allowance payable to Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors of the Vaccination Department was revised as recently as November last. No proposals for its further revision are before Government

(c) Dâk Bungalows are intended for travellers. The rules make no distinction in favour of Inspectors or Sub-Inspectors of Vaccination or any other public officers. Every traveller can claim shelter for 24 hours in a Dâk Bungalow on payment of a fee of Re. 1, and no traveller can claim shelter for more than 24 hours.

Inspection Bungalows are of two kinds, viz., those of the Public Works Department and those of the District Boards. The former are constructed with the object of enabling officers of the Public Works Department to supervise their work, and they have the first right to occupy them. Non-gazetted officers of other departments are not ordinarily entitled to occupy them, but the Superintending Engineer has the power to grant special permission in exceptional cases for particular periods, but such permit must be granted to individual officers by name in each case. The case of Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors is governed by these rules.

For District Board Inspection Bungalows the rules are framed by the District Board concerned.

By the Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID NAWAB ALI CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR :—

Consolidated pay for the Lower Subordinate Educational Service.

* 2. Are the Government considering the desirability of introducing a system of consolidated pay in the Lower Subordinate Educational Service in place of the present system of progressive pay ?

The Hon'ble MR. SAMMAN replied :—

2. The Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer given to Question No. III (unstarred), asked by the Hon'ble Babu Prasanna Kumar Ray at the meeting of the 26th March, 1914."

By the Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID NAWAB ALI CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR :—

* 3. Will the Government be pleased to state—

State scholarships for training in Forestry.

(i) what is the actual number of State scholarships granted during the last five years to students proceeding from this Presidency for a course of training in Forestry at Dehra Dun, and (ii) how many of them were granted to Muhammadans ?

Questions and Answers.

The Hon'ble MR. KERR replied :—

3. (i) The total number of Government stipendiaries deputed for training at the Forest Research Institute and College, Dehra Dun, from Bengal, as at present constituted, during the five years from 1909 to 1913, was 16.

(ii) One of these was a Muhammadan.

By the Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID NAWAB ALI CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR :—

Proposed amendment of Bengal Municipal Act 1884 (Ben. Act III of 1884).

* 4. Will the Government be pleased to state whether there is any proposal before them for amending the Bengal Municipal Act (Ben. Act III of 1884), with a view to the grant to municipalities of more extensive powers for the prevention of the adulteration of food-stuffs ?

The Hon'ble MR. SAMMAN replied :—

4. The whole question of the prevention of adulteration of food and drugs is at present under the consideration of Government, but it is not possible at this stage to say whether the Bengal Municipal Act (Bengal Act III of 1884) will be amended for that purpose.

By the Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID NAWAB ALI CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR :—

Amalgamation of the cadre of the Provincial Educational Service.

* 5. Will the Government be pleased to state whether the details regarding the amalgamation of the cadre of the Provincial Educational Service in both parts of the Presidency have been worked out and, if so, whether it is proposed that all existing vacancies should be filled up with retrospective effect ?

The Hon'ble MR. SAMMAN replied :—

5. The amalgamation of the cadre is under consideration. The question of the date from which promotions shall be made is also being considered, but no decision has yet been arrived at. These matters are of much importance and difficulty, and have engaged the earnest attention of Government for some time past. It is hoped to pass final orders upon them at a very early date.

By the Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID NAWAB ALI CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR :—

Disintegration of the Educational Service

* 6. (a) Is it the intention of Government to disintegrate the whole of the Educational Service into three separate branches, namely, the teaching, inspecting and clerical ?

(b) If so, what measures are Government taking to relieve the block of promotion which will result from such disintegration ?

The Hon'ble MR. SAMMAN replied :—

6. (a) The future of the Education Service, as a whole, will not be decided till the Royal Commission on Public Services has submitted its report and orders have been passed on any recommendation that it may make.

(b) The question does not arise.

By the Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID NAWAB ALI CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR :—

Teaching of Arabic and Persian in certain high English schools.

* 7. (a) Are the Government aware that there are many high English schools whose teaching staff does not include any teachers of Arabic or Persian ?

(b) If so, are the Government considering the desirability of insisting upon the appointment of such teachers in the case of those high schools which are in receipt of aid from Government ?

Questions and Answers

The Hon'ble MR. SAMMAN replied :—

7. (a) There are in the Presidency of Bengal only five Government schools in which there is no Persian or Arabic teacher, and in those five schools there are no Muhammadan pupils. In the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions all high schools attended by Muhammadan boys have either a Persian or an Arabic teacher, and in the Rajshahi Division all the aided high schools are provided with Maulvis. Persian teachers, where necessary, are being insisted on as a condition of aid.

In the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions there are several aided schools which have no Persian or Arabic teachers, but it is reported that in some of these schools the Muhammadan pupils are very few in number and in the others they study Sanskrit in preference to Arabic or Persian.

(b) In the East Bengal Divisions grants-in-aid are given to schools only on condition that they employ Arabic or Persian teachers. In the West Bengal Divisions the same condition is usually enforced, but less rigorously.

By the Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID NAWAB ALI CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR :—

Representation of Muhammadan interests on the managing committee of high English schools.

8. (a) Are the Government aware that there are many high schools on the managing committee on which the interest of Muhammadans is not duly represented ?

(b) Are the Government taking any action to remedy this state of affairs in the case of such high schools as are in receipt of aid from public funds ?

The Hon'ble MR. SAMMAN replied :—

8. (a) Government are aware that the Muhammadan element on the managing committees of many high schools is weak. In Eastern Bengal the Divisional Commissioner and in West Bengal the Collector of the district is consulted before the committee of an aided high school is first formed, and every endeavour is made to select members representative of all classes of the community, but until recently it has frequently been impossible to find Muhammadans duly qualified to serve on these committees. In the case of Government high schools, the managing committees are composed for the most part (in West Bengal entirely) of ex-officio members.

(b) The general question of the future constitution of managing committees for high schools is now under the consideration of Government. The point raised by the Hon'ble Member will be fully examined in this connection.

By the Hon'ble BABU UPENDRA LAL RAY :—

Construction of a bridge over the Dakatia river near the Chandpur railway station.

* 9. (a) Are the Government aware of the representation made from time to time to the Assam-Bengal Railway authorities, as well as to the Government, for the construction of a bridge over the Dakatia river near the railway station at Chandpur in the district of Tippera ?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is intended to construct such a bridge ; if so, when is the project likely to be taken in hand ?

The Hon'ble MR. GREEN replied :—

9. (a) Government have not received any representation on the subject of the construction of a bridge over the Dakatia river near the railway station at Chandpur, nor are they aware that such representation has been made to the Assam-Bengal Railway.

(b) Government have no information on the subject.

By the Hon'ble BABU UPENDRA LAL RAY :—

Feni High English School.

* 10. (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to a letter, purporting to be written by the Inspector of Schools, Chittagong Division, reproduced in the "Amrita Bazar Patrika", "Bengalee", and "Herald" newspapers in which that officer demands—

(i) the dismissal of Babu Kailas Chandra Chakrabarti, Head Master, Feni High English School, (ii) the abolition of the existing school committee, and

(iii) the formation of a new committee as nominated by himself, and threatens the discontinuance of the Government grant of Rs. 175 a month if these demands are not complied with ?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state the circumstances in which the Inspector of Schools has demanded the dismissal of the said Head Master and the abolition of the existing committee ?

The Hon'ble MR. SAMMAN replied :—

10. (a) The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) The school was in such a bad state that it was impossible to continue to make a grant-in-aid to it from Government funds unless prompt steps were taken to introduce radical reforms. The whole matter is still under the consideration of the Educational Department, and no further statement can be made on the subject at present.

By the Hon'ble BABU UPENDRA LAL RAY :—

Construction of a residence for the Principal of the Chittagong Government College.

* 11. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the circuit-house at Chittagong is now being used as a residence for the Principal of the local Government College ?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state whether it is intended to construct a separate residence for the Principal of the said College ?

The Hon'ble MR. SAMMAN replied :—

11. (a) The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) The question is now under the consideration of Government.

The Provincial Educational Service.

* 12. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether, and, if so, when, the existing vacancies in the Provincial Educational Service will be filled up ?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the said vacancies will be filled up with retrospective effect ?

The Hon'ble MR. SAMMAN replied :—

12. (a) The existing vacancies in the Provincial Educational Service will be filled up shortly, but no definite date can be fixed.

(b) The question of the date from which the promotions will have effect is under the consideration of Government, and it is hoped that a very early decision will be arrived at.

UNSTARRED QUESTIONS.

By the Hon'ble BABU PRASANNA KUMAR RAY :—

Raising of the minimum pay of clerks in the subordinate offices in Calcutta.

I. (a) Are the Government aware that the clerks in the establishment of the various subordinate Government offices in Calcutta, who draw the minimum pay of Rs. 30 per mensem, find it difficult to meet their expenses owing to the high cost of living in Calcutta ?

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble BABU PRASANNA KUMAR RAY—concld. :—

(b) Is it a fact that the minimum pay of these clerks (Rs. 30 per mensem) is the same as that drawn by clerks in corresponding positions in the mufassal?

(c) If so, will the Government be pleased to state whether they are considering the desirability of raising the minimum pay of clerks in Calcutta?

The following answer by the Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON was laid on the table :—

I. (a) The minimum pay of Rs. 30 for Government officers in Calcutta was fixed after a careful inquiry into the organization of the Bengal Secretariat and Government are not aware that the minimum is insufficient.

(b) The Ministerial Officers' Salaries Committees fixed the minimum pay of clerks in district offices in Western Bengal at Rs. 25, and in Eastern Bengal at Rs. 30.

(c) The answer is in the negative.

By the Hon'ble MAHARAJA RANAJIT SINHA OF NASHIPUR :—

Jessore Drainage Engineering Division.

II. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state what action, if any, has up to date been taken by the Jessore Drainage Engineering Division?

(b) Has any ad interim report been submitted by the Engineer-in-Charge?

The following answer by the Hon'ble LT.-COL. DEL. JOLY DE LOTBINIÈRE was laid on the table :—

II. (a) Investigations have been in progress since November 1912 into the drainage conditions of the tract of country lying between the Ichamati on the west and the Bhairab on the east. This part of the Jessore district is reported to be the most seriously affected. Some investigations in the north of the district have also been made, but in no detail. The drainage project, which is the result of these investigations, is said to be almost complete and will be submitted shortly to Government. No more definite pronouncement can be made on the subject until the scheme has been received and considered.

(b) The reply is in the affirmative.

By the Hon'ble MAHARAJA RANAJIT SINHA OF NASHIPUR :—

Utilization of additional grants on account of Public Works cesses by District Boards.

III. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state for what purposes the different District Boards of this Presidency have utilized the additional grants on account of the Public Works cess received by them during the financial year 1913-1914?

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of ear-marking a portion of such grants for the purposes of medical aid, sanitary improvement, and water-supply?

The following answer by the Hon'ble MR. SAMMAN was laid on the table :—

III. (a) Government have no information at present how these grants are being utilized by District Boards.

(b) The grants were made unconditionally for the year 1913-14 as there was insufficient time to consider fully whether any, and, if so, what, conditions should be attached to them. The policy to be adopted in future years will be discussed after the passing of the Bill to amend the Cess Act (Ben. Act IX of 1880), so as to legalise the transfer of the Public Works cess to Rural Boards.

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZ-UL-HAQ :—

Promotion of Government servants serving on extension.

IV. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether there is any rule against the promotion of Government servants to whom an extension of service has been given?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state what considerations prevail in the matter of granting extensions of service to officers?

(c) Are there any settled rules on the subject, or are these matters left to the unfettered discretion of heads of departments or any other final authority?

The following answer by the Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON was laid on the table :—

IV. (a) There is no rule against the promotion of Government servants to whom an extension of service has been given.

(b) & (c) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer given to a similar question by the Hon'ble Mr. K. B. Dutt at a meeting of the Bengal Legislative Council, held on the 26th February, 1910.

By the Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZ-UL-HAQ :—

Punitive Police in the Basirhat subdivision.

V. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that punitive chaukidars have been posted in several villages in the Basirhat subdivision?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state the reason for this measure, and the period for which it has been sanctioned?

The following answer by the Hon'ble MR. CUMMING was laid on the table :—

V. (a) & (b) It is not a fact that punitive chaukidars have been posted in several villages in the Basirhat subdivision. In consequence of four attempts to derail trains on the Barasat-Basirhat Railway, which occurred during the year 1913, four additional chaukidars were appointed by the District Magistrate in different villages of the Basirhat subdivision from the 20th November, 1913, and have been employed in patrolling portions of the line. Reports have been received of two further attempts at derailment on the same line which occurred in January and February, 1914.

By the Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZ-UL-HAQ :—

By the Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZ-UL-HAQ :—

Mr. Samman; Maulvi A. K. Faz-ul-Huq; Sir William Duke.

The following answer by the Hon'ble MR. SAMMAN was laid on the table :—

SUPPLEMENTARY QUESTION.

LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM NO. 2.

THE BENGAL EXCISE (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1914.

2. The Hon'ble Sir William Duke moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend the Bengal Excise Act, 1909.

He said :—

"My Lord, this is another of the measures of legislative unification, which have been rendered necessary by the redistribution of the provinces. The Act in force in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions and the district of Darjeeling is Bengal Act V of 1909, while Eastern Bengal and Assam Act I of 1910 is the law applicable to the eastern divisions. These acts were passed very near the same time. They are framed upon the same model, and intrinsically it makes little difference which of them is selected for continuance and which for repeal. In West Bengal, however, a complete Excise Manual based upon the new Act was published over two years ago, while no manual has ever been published in East Bengal. This fact determines the selection of Bengal Act V of 1909.

The opportunity has been taken to introduce a certain number of minor amendments. One of these—clause 3—is designed to get rid of doubts which have accumulated about the words "intoxicating liquor" by substituting for them the words "alcoholic liquor" which make it clear that the presence of alcohol is the sole test.

Clause 4—Eliminates the Board of Revenue in all the places in which under the existing law it performs executive functions. Since the Board was reduced to a single member it has been necessary to lighten its duties by relieving it of as many as possible of its non-statutory functions. Amongst others the administration of excise has been taken over by Government, leaving of course the statutory appellate functions of the Board unimpaired.

Clause 5—Is intended to give precision to the law relating to cocaine and drugs prepared from it or of similar character, the greatly extended use of which invests them with increasing importance.

Clause 6—Gives control under the Excise Act of the importation of excisable articles from foreign territory like Chandernagore, on the frontiers of which no custom houses have been established.

Clause 18—Increases the penalties for offences in respect of cocaine, which have recently become so numerous and demoralising. The penalties provided are the same as are already in force in Bombay. It is obviously undesirable that lower penalties should attach to smuggling into one principal Indian port than to another.

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson ; Maulvi A. K. Faz-ul-Haq.

Clause 19—Is designed to deal with the offence of attempting to restore to a potable condition spirit which has been denatured and so has escaped payment of the full duty. It is a very difficult offence to detect in operation, and it has been thought necessary to apply a primâ facie presumption of guilty knowledge to the possession of spirit which has been tampered with in this way. At the same time, to prevent harassment by petty charges and for the protection of possible bonâ-fide purchasers of small quantities, no unfavourable presumption is allowed against possessors of quantities not exceeding half a gallon.

Clause 24—Provides for the composition of petty offences against the Act, which it may not be necessary to bring into Court.

These are the more important new provisions which the Council will have to consider. Most of the rest are unimportant or have been introduced to embody in the law points of procedure which are actually in force in East Bengal.

It is the intention of Government to refer the Bill to a Select Committee at the first meeting of Council which will be held in the rains."

The motion was put and agreed to.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 3.

THE BENGAL MEDICAL BILL, 1914.

3. The Hon'ble Mr. Stephenson moved that the report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Medical Bill, 1914, be taken into consideration.

The motion was put and agreed to.

DISCUSSION OF AMENDMENTS.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 1.—The Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Faz-ul-Haq moved that the words "of whom three at least shall be registered practitioners ordinarily residing outside Calcutta" be added after the words "Local Government" in line 2 of clause 4 (b).

He said :—

"I think, my Lord, that the amendment which I now put forward for the consideration of the Council speaks for itself. It will be seen that by the provisions that have been made by clause 4, the minimum representation of two mufassal members has been secured for the medical Council. I think Hon'ble Members will bear me out when I say that this representation is not adequate so far as mufassal interests are concerned, and it is with a view to safeguard the interests of medical practitioners in the mufassal that I beg to move that provision should be made that, as regards the nominated members, three at least shall be medical practitioners residing in the mufassal.

With these words, my Lord, I commend this amendment for the consideration of the Council."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"I think the mover of the amendment proceeds under a misapprehension as to the electorate set up by the Select Committee. The Select Committee have set up three electorates from the medical practitioners, and they have also given Government nominations for a majority of the Council. The reasons why they have given the Government a majority of nominated members of the Council has been explained by me before—that the Act is an experiment. Government must guide this experiment for the first year or so at all events, and the only alternative to having a Government-nominated majority on the Council is that Government should retain to themselves so close a control over the actions of the Council that the Council will be a nonentity. We decided therefore to give Government nominations for the majority of the members of the Council, but it is not intended that Government should use those nominations to represent interests. They are to nominate the best men they can find in the medical profession. I think the situation is entirely different when you come to the electorate. The Select Committee divided the medical profession as a whole into three classes—three electorates—and we felt that in the case of at least two of the three electorates, it was very likely that the Calcutta interest would be so predominant, that the mufassal practitioners might feel that they were being left out of it altogether. We therefore provided that in their case one member at least should be elected. But that argument does not apply in the case of nominations ; the nominations are not to represent interests, but they are to place on the Council the very best medical men that Government can procure, and I think that it would be a great mistake in any way to hamper Government's choice in the selection of the men to be put on the Council. I therefore oppose the amendment."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Maulvi A. K. Faz-ul-Haq ; Babu Surendra Nath Ray.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZ-UL-HAQ said :—

"My Lord, it is not in a spirit of hostility that I move this amendment. The Hon'ble Member in charge mentioned that I was under a misapprehension. I hope, my Lord, the Hon'ble Member will pardon me when I say that he himself has proceeded under a misapprehension of the spirit which actuated me in moving this amendment. I do not wish to restrict or question the power of nomination of Government. That must remain as it is. But I propose that, in making these nominations, at least three members shall be mufassal representatives, and it is no doubt necessary that the best men should be selected ; but I think it will not be difficult to find men practising in the mufassal and belonging to the medical profession who can be considered fit to occupy a place in the medical Council. It is only to protect mufassal interests that I want to provide for due representation of at least three members of the medical Council If it is not acceptable to Government, I do not wish to take up the time of this Council by useless argument."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 2.—The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray moved that the words "of whom three at least shall not be Government servants or in receipt of any pay or allowance from Government" be added after the words "Local Government" in line 2 of clause 4 (b).

He said :—

"My Lord, my object in moving this amendment is that there should not be a very large number of official members on this Council. There may be a majority of official members in the Council, but the clause, as it is framed, will give not only a large number of official members, but perhaps about three-fourths of the members will be officials. It appears that the President is to be nominated by the Local Government. We can very well assume that he is to be an official, because in another public body (I mean the University of Calcutta), it is after 60 years that we have got a non-official Vice-Chancellor. We shall have to wait for at least a quarter of a century to see a non-official gentleman appointed as President of this Council. In clause 4 we see that a member is to be elected from among the members of the Faculty of Medicine by the Senate of the University of Calcutta. Only this morning I consulted the Calendar of the Calcutta University, and I saw that, out of 16 members of the Faculty of Medicine, there are 12 officials and only 4 non-officials ; we can very well assume that the gentleman who will be elected by the Senate of the Calcutta University will be an official. Then one member is to be elected by the registered practitioners who are qualified to be registered under the Medical Acts. Probably he will be a non-official member. Then there are three members to be elected by registered practitioners who are graduates or licentiates in medicine or surgery of the University of Calcutta. One member shall in each case be elected by registered medical practitioners practising outside Calcutta. So that of the three members to be elected under clause (e) and the two members to be elected under clause (f)—at least two should be elected by registered practitioners outside Calcutta; and, with reference to these two members, I think if the Civil Surgeon of a district wishes to become a member he is sure to be elected, and no non-official will be elected. We can very well assume that these two members will also be officials. So that what I say is that it is not only intended that a majority of the members will be officials, but that about three-fourths of the members will be officials if the clause be left as it is. In these circumstances, I think Government would do well if they were to accept the amendment proposed by me. Government have thought it proper to give a non-official majority to the Legislative Council. Government have thought it proper to give a non-official majority to municipalities, and Government have thought it proper to give a non-official majority to District Boards. I really cannot understand why there should be such a predominance of official members in this Medical Council. With these words, I beg to move this amendment."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson; Babu Mahendra Nath Ray.

The Hon'ble Mr. STEPHENSON said :—

"I am afraid I must oppose this amendment on the same ground as I opposed the last, viz., that the whole object of giving Government nominations is to enable Government to put the best men they can get on the Council. There is no reason whatever why Government should not put a Government servant on the Council, if that Government servant is in their opinion the best man available. If a non-official is the best man available, then Government will put a non-official on. But I object very strongly to this separation of officials and non-officials in the case of the medical profession. The whole object of the Bill is to improve the medical profession as a whole. I fail to see why, because a medical practitioner is in the service of Government, his views on the medical profession should be different from those of one who is not in the service of Government. I do not propose to deal with that point specifically here, because there are several other amendments which bring the matter up more closely. This particular amendment operates to hamper the choice of Government in the nomination of the members of the Council, and on that account I oppose it."

The motion was then put and lost.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 3.—The Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray moved that the word "non-official" be inserted between the word "the" and the word "members" in lines 1 and 2 of clause 4 (c).

He said :—

"Clause 4 (c) provides that of the 15 members who will constitute the Council, one member shall be elected from among the members of the Faculty of Medicine by the Senate of the Calcutta University. The proposed amendment is to make this clause run as follows—'that the members be elected from among the non-official members of the Faculty of Medicine by the Senate of the Calcutta University.' The question has been raised, especially in some observations which have fallen from the Hon'ble Mr. Stephenson, about the desirability or undesirability of classifying members of the Council in two classes, official and non-official, and in so far as such a provision tries to characterize any difference between members of the Council, whose duties are statutory and uniform, I certainly approve of the remarks made and the spirit in which they are made. But at the same time, remembering the discussion that has taken place all over the country in connection with the proposals of this Bill, remembering what we have heard what the non-official medical practitioners of this country say about the scope and the objects of the Bill, and how their interests are likely to be affected, practical men cannot ignore the differences or the distinctions, however undesirable it may be to characterize them—between the interests of the non-official medical practitioners on the one hand, and the interests of the official medical practitioners on the other, however deplorable it might be to recognize such distinctions, it seems to me, I am bound to say, that with regard to the amendment which I venture to bring before the Council for consideration, there is one safeguard in the clause itself as proposed in the Bill which might make it unnecessary for me to press my motion, namely, that the election is to be made by the Senate of the Calcutta University. My hon'ble friend Babu Surendra Nath Ray has just reminded us, although his figures are slightly inaccurate, that of the 15 members now constituting the Faculty of Medicine of the Calcutta University, only three are non-officials. If the election had rested with the Faculty of Medicine, well, human nature being constituted as it is, one should have expected that the member to be elected by the Faculty of Medicine would be an official. Therefore there would virtually be one official added to the 8 who are likely to be appointed by the Government under clauses (a) and (b) of the Bill. It might be pointed out, however, to an objection like this that the election does not rest with the Faculty of Medicine, but with the Senate, we, however, remember that the Senate consists of nearly 100 members of whom 80 are nominated by Government. Therefore it seems to me that while you give a body, of which 80 per cent. consists of Government nominees, power to elect a member for the Council, it is desirable that a restriction like this should be imposed. If we compare the figures proposed by clause 4 of the Bill with the figures of the only Medical Council which are readily accessible to us, I mean the General Medical Council for the United Kingdom, what I find is this that of the 32 members who constitute that Council, 5 are nominated by the Government, 22 are nominated by the different corporate bodies, including the 13 elected by the different universities of the United Kingdom and 5 nominees elected by the registered medical practitioners. The largest element of course are the 22 elected by the different corporate bodies. Now it is a well-known fact that of the 13 who are elected by the different universities in the United Kingdom, the election rests with people, who are not—if I may be permitted to use an expression—under direct official domain. Of the 13 persons to be elected by the universities therefore, it will be follow that the large majority will be non-official medical practitioners. Instead of 13 members to be elected by the universities in the United Kingdom out of the 32 who constitute the General Medical Council, we have here one single member to be elected by the Calcutta University from the members of the Faculty of Medicine, the constitution of which, as I have just pointed out, is that of the 15 members who constitute the Faculty, only 3 are non-officials. Having regard to these facts, my Lord, it seems to me to be desirable that a condition like this should be imposed in order that the number of official members of the Council might not be too large. This is all that I have to say on this amendment."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson; Babu Mahendra Nath Ray; Col. Harris.

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON :—

"I must in the first instance thank the Hon'ble Member for helping me to destroy his own amendment. I would point out that the comparison with the Medical Council in England is quite out of place here. The Medical Council proposed here in India is in a very different position. The English Council consists of 30 members. I think I am right in saying that."

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"I think it consists of 32 members."

The Hon'ble COLONEL HARRIS said :—

"I think the number is 38, and including the President it is 39."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson; Dr. D. P. Sarbadhikari; Babu S. N. Banerji.

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON, continuing :—

"I think that, out of that number, I am right in saying, there are 5 appointed by the Privy Council and the rest are elected, one each by those universities and bodies which have a right to give licenses to practise. The position here is absolutely different. The Select Committee gave the University of Calcutta a representation on the Council because it is the only body in Bengal that can give a license to practise. We asked the University themselves how it would be best to arrange for this representation on the Council, and we have provided that a member shall be elected from among the members of the Faculty of Medicine by the Senate of the Calcutta University. That is what the University themselves desire. The point of the amendment is simple: it is to narrow down the power of the University to elect a member. We have already been told that there are 15 members of the Faculty of Medicine, and instead of allowing the University to choose one out of that number, the new proposal is to tie down to one out of three non-official members. Surely that proposal carries its own condemnation. For the same reason as I have already objected to the Government power of nomination being restricted, I object to the Calcutta University's power being restricted. Therefore I oppose the amendment."

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"My Lord, I have an amendment on the agenda paper in much the same terms. I take it that it will not be necessary for me to move it separately, but it would serve my purpose if I spoke to this motion. I desire to associate myself with all that has fallen from the Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray in support of the amendment. I do not agree with the Hon'ble Mr. Stephenson that this would be really narrowing down the choice of the University. He will remember that whenever, in regard to outside representation, the University has been called upon to appoint a representative,—although there may not have been any written law on the subject—the unwritten law is to have a non-official if possible. My Lord, in spite of what the Hon'ble Mr. Stephenson may say with regard to the undesirability of the distinction between the official and non-official in the medical profession, there is, unfortunately, a marked cleavage, which has to be taken into account, and in order to get rid of the possibility of which the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray has spoken, it is of great importance that non-official opinion should have a fair representation, and that can be secured only by circumscribing the choice in the manner proposed by the amendment, so that non-official representation may be as complete under the circumstances as possible. This is not a case of introducing a new principle in the election at all. The Council will remember that in regard to the election in the municipalities and District Boards and to this Council, a principle like that which is sought to be here imposed is not only allowed but insisted upon; and even when a Government pleader of a district offers himself as a candidate for election, though it is questionable whether he is a Government servant or not, the first ceremony that he has to go through is to resign his Government pleadership, so that he may be wholly exonerated from any colour that may be lent to his position as an official. Having regard to these considerations and a certainty of almost all non-official representation being dwindled, if restrictions like these be not provided, I think this amendment ought to be accepted by the Council."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said :—

"I wish to offer one or two remarks with reference to the observations which have fallen from my friends behind me and from those on my side. The whole question resolves itself into this: This Council is to consist of 15 members, of whom 8 are to be officials to be nominated by the Government. The issue is simply this: Do the Government want more than 8 officials on the Council? If the Government do not, I think it ought to accept the amendment. It is not a question of restricting the choice of election on the part of the Senate. The power of restriction is inforced as has been pointed out, in connection with the elections to this Council and if there are circumstances present in connection with this case which call for the restriction of the power, I don't see why the limitation should not be enforced. It seems to me therefore that this is eminently a reasonable amendment, and having regard to the fact that the Government do not want to have more Government officials, they ought to accept the amendment."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur; Babu Upendra Lal Ray.

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I have a similar motion and I do not think it necessary to formally move my amendment. I shall associate myself with the observations that have fallen from the Hon'ble Dr. Sarbadhikari and the Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray. My Lord, I want to make one observation with regard to the speech of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill in reply to the amendment moved by the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray, that the power of the Government to nominate should not be fettered in any way and that Government should be free to nominate 8 out of the 15 members constituting the Board. That principle having been accepted by the Council by the rejection of the amendment of my friend, the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray, I submit that it naturally follows that the election of the other 7 non-official members should not be fettered in any way, so that a purely non-official body might be able to nominate purely non-official members to represent the medical profession on that body. We submit that the Act being in its infancy, its operation should be controlled by Government through the majority which they have in this Council. That majority will consist of the President and the seven members who will be nominated by the Government, and the other members who are to be non-officials, I submit, should be purely members elected by the bodies mentioned in the subsequent part of clause 4.

Then, my Lord, it has also been stated—I do not wish to take up the time of the Council, as it has been very well illustrated by my hon'ble friend Dr. Sarbadhikari—that in the representation of the municipality and District Boards on this Council the Government very generously and wisely laid down the rule that the officials should have nothing to do with the nomination or election of the non-official members of this Council. That principle has been followed for some years past, and it is rather late in the day to initiate a new principle. I submit that the motion which has been moved by my hon'ble friend may be accepted without any harm to the principle laid down by the Hon'ble Member in charge, as the Government will have a standing majority through the nominated official members, and I do not think that the object which the Government have in view will be in any way frustrated by giving the non-officials a free scope to nominate their own representatives on the Medical Council."

The Hon'ble BABU UPENDRA LAL RAY said :—

"My Lord, I beg to associate myself with the Hon'ble Members who have spoken on this clause. It is the most important of all the clauses in the Bill and requires careful consideration. I congratulate the members of the Select Committee on the wise step they have taken in increasing the number of members of the Council and in eliminating the provisoes relating to the appointment of the first Council. By doing this they have won the confidence and grateful thanks of the public, and specially of the members of the medical profession, inasmuch as the enlarged Council is likely to be representative of all classes and interests concerned. This is certainly the object of the Bill; but it has to be seen how far that object has been attained. The manner in which clause 4 has been recast by the members of the Select Committee by increasing the number of members of the Council to 15 instead of 9 clearly shews that the object is to have representation of all classes of medical practitioners. Of the 15 members 8 (including the President) are to be nominated by the Government. The rest will be elected as per sub-clauses (c), (d), (e) and (f). The public feeling is that the 8 nominated members would most likely be officials. It is therefore fair that the 7 elected members should be sent in by the non-official medical practitioners who form an overwhelming majority in the Province. I beg therefore to suggest that proper care should be taken to ensure this, and this can only be done by altering the clause a little on the lines proposed. It is only fair that at such elections no Government official should be entitled either to stand as a candidate or to vote. The necessity for such provision is well known and this is not without precedent. The election of non-official additional members of Your Excellency's Council is held on such principles, the utility of which is beyond question. I anticipate that the reply of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill is likely to be that the seven members to be nominated by the Local Government would not necessarily be officials in Government service. If this is so, the answer is that without the alteration of the clause in the manner suggested, some at least of the elected members also would be Government officials, as in the mufassal stations the Civil Surgeon and the Assistant Surgeon in charge of hospitals command great influence, and if they themselves stand as candidates or exert their influence in the elections, no outsider would have any chance of getting returned by the electorate. With these remarks I beg to commend this amendment to Your Excellency's acceptance."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Sir William Duke.

The Hon'ble SIR WILLIAM DUKE said :—

"My Lord, I would wish that in a Bill like this, designed as it is to regulate matters connected with a learned profession, less importance were attached to official and non-official politics. It is not exactly a matter of politics ; it is mainly a question how the best could be done for the advancement of a learned profession, and the state of things would be happier if so much stress were not laid upon the official and the non-official point of view. I may observe that professional attainments have nothing to do with official relations with the Government. If members desire to make it a question of politics it cannot be helped, and I presume that many points can be worked up on political lines, at any rate as regards the University. I must again, however, draw attention to what the Hon'ble Member in charge has already pointed out, and that is that in the case of the University at any rate, the choice should not be limited in any way and the member whom the University will send to the Council ought to be the best man it has in the profession, a man with the highest professional character and greatest weight. He may or may not be an official, and there can, I think, be no question that, in principle, the Faculty ought not to be restricted as to the member whom it may send by any other condition than that he should be one of the Faculty."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motions were then, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

List of Amendments—Motion No. 4.—The Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the word "non-official" be inserted between the word "the" and the word "members" in lines 1 and 2 of clause 4 (c).

List of Amendments—Motion No. 5.—The Hon'ble Mr. Chakravarti to move that the word "non-official" be inserted between the word "the" and the word "members" in lines 1 and 2 of clause 4 (c).

List of Amendments—Motion No. 6.—The Hon'ble Babu Upendra Lal Ray to move that the word "non-official" be inserted between the word "the" and the word "members" in lines 1 and 2 of clause 4 (c).

List of Amendments—Motion No. 7.—The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur to move that the word "non-official" be inserted between the word "the" and the word members" in lines 1 and 2 of clause 4 (c).

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur; Maulvi A. K. Faz-ul-Haq.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 8.—The Hon'ble Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur moved that the words "not being Government servants" be added after the word "practitioners" in line 2 of clause 4 (d).

He said :—

"My Lord, after reading the objects and reasons of the Bill and after going through its provisions I am convinced that the Government are desirous of taking the public into their confidence in constituting the Council mentioned in the Bill and to make it a representative one as far as can be under the present circumstances of the country. The measures which are being sought to be introduced are quite new to this country, and I can confidently state that neither during the Hindu nor during the Muhammadan periods any attempt was made to discriminate publicly between a duly qualified and an irregularly brought up medical practitioner; and as far as I am aware, that only in the year 1858 a measure like the present one was introduced into so far advanced a country as the kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland. In my humble opinion India is not yet prepared to have a Council like the one mentioned in the Bill; but as it is the wish of the Government that such a Council should be established it is our duty to see that it does the work allotted to it satisfactorily. By clause 4 (a) and (b) power has been reserved by Government to nominate 8 members of the Council and therefore in my humble opinion they will be easily able to command a majority at any time, and if in addition to these 8 members other Government servants are allowed to have seats in it the result will be that the Council will not be looked upon as a representative body but as a new department of the Government. For the above reasons I beg to propose that, under clause (d), Government servants, who are qualified to be registered under the Medical Acts, should be excluded from voting. My amendment runs as follows: 'That one member to be elected by registered practitioners not being Government servants who are qualified to be registered under the Medical Acts.' Strictly speaking, Government servants are not practitioners as they do not live by practice; they are in the service of the Government and their time is at the disposal of Government, who have, however, as a matter of favour, granted them permission to practise. As far as I have been able to ascertain, Government servants form the majority of the gentlemen who have British qualifications in this Province and if they are allowed to elect a member it is almost certain that another Government servant will become a member. All the District Civil Surgeons and Presidency Surgeons, as well as Professors of Government Medical Colleges and Schools, possess British qualifications for being registered and unless they are excluded from the category of voters the result will be what I have already stated. For the above reasons I hope that the amendment will be accepted."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZ-UL-HAQ said :—

"My Lord, I have got an amendment which practically includes amendments 3 to 15, and I find that after the discussion of amendments 3 to 7, one portion of the amendment which I intended to propose is gone. I do not know at that rate what will be the fate of the other amendments, and I doubt very much whether there will be anything left for me to urge. It is for these reasons that I crave Your Excellency's permission to say a few words as regards the discussion which, I see, has been raised between official and non-official members so far as their utility on this Council is concerned. I forget, my Lord, who it was who said that all laws are made for the sake of man and not man for the sake of law. I believe, my Lord, that one object of this legislation is to afford relief to the people, and it is in consonance with the wishes of the people that all legislative Acts should be undertaken. It is through non-official element that the wishes of the people are best ascertained. I can well appreciate the importance of the remarks made by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill deprecating any unnecessary distinction between official and non-official element; but so far as their respective duties are concerned, I certainly believe that officials and non-officials, when thrown together in the performance of a public duty, can act with perfect fellow-feeling in the spirit of comradeship. But it is best that we should remember that the distinction exists, and does exist for the best of reasons. Some of the Hon'ble Members have already spoken on this subject : but I think a little frank confession has to be made. It is this, that we non-officials feel somewhat afraid of an official majority. It seems to me that, when somehow or other officials predominate in a representative body, the acts of that body are likely to be construed by the general public as having been dictated by the Government authorities. They may be right or they may be wrong in their views, but such a feeling does exist, and if that feeling exists I do not see why Government should be so particularly anxious to have an official majority on the Council. I, therefore, do not see any real point in the opposition which is being offered to the amendment by which we all recommend that there should be a majority of non-official members. For these reasons I wish to accord my support to the amendment."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson.

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

" My Lord, the effect of these amendments will be to disqualify completely every Government servant as a medical man, not only the members of the Indian Medical Service, but every Government Assistant Surgeon, all Government Sub-Assistant Surgeons, are to be deprived of any voice whatever in their own Government. Is this what the Hon'ble Members consider is in accordance with the spirit of liberty and democracy ?

What is the justification for this wholesale disfranchisement ? The Select Committee took away the original clause 4, which set up a Council of 4 ex-officio members out of 9. We deliberately did away with that composition because we felt that, in the case of the medical profession, when you were setting up a Council to govern that medical profession, there was no question whatever of official or non-official. We therefore deliberately swept away all ex-officio representation. Hon'ble Members now come in and ask us to go further and to set up deliberately a non-official Council. What is this distinction between officials and non-officials ? One Hon'ble Member has stated that the object of having non-officials on this Council is that it is only through non-officials that the public voice will be represented. We do not want the public voice to be represented on this Council. We want the voice of the profession represented. What difference is there between an L.M.S. man who has taken Government service, who has passed his life in the mufassal, and an L.M.S. man who has not taken Government service, but who has set up practice in the mufassal ? What is the reason why they should regard medical matters from a different point of view ? The Hon'ble Member who spoke last was afraid that there would be at all events a fear that the public would consider that Government were influencing every action of this Council. What is the work of this Council ? This Council has to set up a register. It has to register certain people with certain qualifications. There is no question of policy in it. If they have the qualifications, they go on the register. It has also some very small disciplinary powers. It is entrusted with the power of refusing to register, or turning off the register, a man whom they considered guilty of infamous conduct Where do Government come in there ? It is the trial of a man by his own peers. What interest have Government in hounding a particular member of the profession ? Do I understand that the Hon'ble Member considers that every time a man is turned off the register, even if the case is clearly proved, the public generally would consider that Government have turned him off, that Government have issued an order to the official majority of the Council to turn him off the register, to find him guilty of professional misconduct ? What is the objection to have Government servants on the Council ? It must be either that they have too high an ideal for the rest of the profession to live up to, or that they have so low an ideal that they would bring the rest of the profession down. I do not think Hon'ble Members would accept either of those alternatives. What is the disqualification of a man who is an eminent physician or surgeon, but is also an official for serving on the Council? What is this crime of being a servant of Government? It seems to me that these amendments strike at the whole underlying principle of the Bill. What we hope to effect by this Bill is to weld the whole medical profession into one, with a single aim for its own higher advancement. As long as we perpetuate any distinction between officials and non-officials, we are bound to have two camps in the Council, two camps in the profession, and we shall never have a whole unified profession, raising the ideals of the medical profession to the heights which they have reached in other countries, and for that reason I protest most strongly against any idea of importing a distinction between officials and non-officials into an institution which deals solely and entirely with the organization of an efficient medical profession which knows neither country nor colour nor creed.

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Babu S. N. Banerji; Mr. Stephenson.

I feel very strongly that any attempt to set up two opposite parties, looking at each other with jealous eyes, will harm the whole faculty, and for that reason I oppose this amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said :—

"My Lord, the Hon'ble Member who has just spoken labours under the idea that there is no real divergence of interest between official and non-official medical men, and that the effect of these amendments would be to set up two opposite camps in this Council, one camp consisting of the official members and another of non-official members. He says that this Council, which is to represent the medical profession as a whole, has no reference whatever to official and non-official interests. Now, is that so? Is it the case that there is no divergence of interests between officials and non-officials, even so far as the medical profession is concerned?—"

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"I did not say there was divergence of interest between medical men. I said that, so far as this Bill is concerned, the interests of the profession are the same. No doubt there is a difference of opinion and interests in professional matters, but so far as this Bill is concerned, there is no divergence."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said :—

"At least we have one qualification that, so far as this Bill is concerned, there is no divergence of interest. Therefore it is admitted that there is divergence of interest between officials and non-officials in the medical profession so far as other matters beyond the Bill are concerned. That is a concession which I am glad to be able to extort from my hon'ble friend. But, Sir, this Bill covers a very wide ground connected with the medical profession, and in that wide ground there are interests that are divergent and conflicting—interests which might be said to be of a particular character looked at from an official point of view, but of a wholly different character looked at from a non-official point of view. My hon'ble friend must have noticed that a series of amendments have been started from this side of the House with reference to confining the official element to within certain limits. Why should we feel so strongly about this matter? Why should we feel that it is necessary that we should have a certain non-official representation on this Council? Because we believe that, if the official majority was predominant, if the voice of that majority was not to be restricted by a non-official minority, the interests of the profession and of the country would suffer. We are not acting under any feeling of perverseness. We think this is a matter in which the Government should admit that we should have a voice. It is a new experiment, and, being a new experiment, the initiation of it, the guidance of it, must in the first place be left to the Government. That is the view on this side of the House, and we do not dispute it. But, my Lord, at the same time we are of deliberate opinion that in the constitution of this body there should be a substantial leaven of the non-official medical profession, and all these amendments are directed towards this object in view ; and it is somewhat surprising that my hon'ble friend should not know the attitude of this side of the House, and should not be in sympathy with it. We are anxious to make this Bill a success. We are anxious to leave the guidance in the hands of the Government, but we also feel that if this Bill is to be a success, it can only be so by an adequate representation of the non-official element on this Council—that the officials must be permitted to have a predominant voice, but that that voice must be tempered by such considerations as the non-official minority may find it necessary to advance. That is our attitude, and all this talk about officials and non-officials having no divergence of views is irrelevant. If there is no divergence of views, why don't you accept all these amendments, and let us have all the non-officials there ? I challenge my hon'ble friend to meet me on that ground. If there is no divergence of opinion, if the interests are completely identical, I do not think he ought to object to these amendments. Is my friend prepared to take that challenge ? I hope and trust he will."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson ; Babu S. N. Banerji ; Babu Mahendra Nath Ray.

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

" May I point out that we do not mention a single official in clause 4 ?"

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI continuing said :—

" The word is not mentioned, but I think past experience is our guide in these matters. We know that when Government have the right of appointing representatives, they will, in many cases, appoint officials, a large majority of them, and if they will not appoint a large majority of officials, they will appoint persons whom we call quasi-officials, who are worse than the officials. The latter will be under no obligation to Government, not even under the obligation of drawing their pay from Government. They will be only under the obligation of having been appointed to these offices by the Government, and therefore they feel it their duty to vote for the Government in season and out of season. We do not object to officials, but quasi-officials we hate, abominate, and are afraid of, and therefore we would much rather have officials than quasi-officials. I do hope that my friend will not object to the amendments, because we are anxious to help Government. Our attitude is that Government should have a preponderating influence, but that we should also have as a minority a substantial voice in the deliberations of this Council."

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY said :—

" My Lord, having already spoken on my motion, I had no desire to say more on a somewhat similar subject, but this elaborate attempt on the Hon'ble Mr. Stephenson's part to raise a question of morals, so to say, has compelled me to submit a few additional remarks on this subject. The Hon'ble M . Stephenson has told us that all that we require is the voice of the medical profession, and he has also put the very pertinent question, why should Government servants be disqualified ? Both these propositions—one a direct proposition and the other in the form of a question—are excellent in principle, but the point is this :—Has the medical profession as a whole no divergence of interest ? The Hon'ble Member in charge told us that, so far as this Bill is concerned, there is not recognized and need not be recognized any diversities of interest. The Hon'ble Member will pardon me if I say that I am afraid this statement is based on a fallacy. Let us look at the clause which we are now discussing—clause 4 itself. Clause 4 does recognize divergence of interests in the medical profession, or else why should separate provision be made in clauses (d), (e) and (f), respectively, for election of members to the Council by different branches of that profession ? Why don't you say, let six members be elected by all registered practitioners, whether qualified under the Medical Acts or under the Bill introduced now ? Why not leave out all that distinction about one member being elected by those who are registered under the Medical Acts, and three by those who are graduates or licentiates of the University of Calcutta, and two by all the other registered practitioners ? I am afraid, therefore, the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill evidently overlooked that cardinal principle of his own Bill when he said that, so far as this Bill is concerned, no diversity of interests in the medical profession ought to be recognized. Now the Bill itself does recognize one kind of diversity of interest. This amendment proposes recognition of another kind of diversity of interest. The Bill recognizes diversity of interest so far as it affects those who are registered under the Medical Act, as distinguished from those who are graduates of the Calcutta University, as distinguished from those, the others, the residue of the medical practitioners registered under the Act. This is a distinction as to diversity of interests which we believe to be quite sound. What is proposed is to introduce another element in respect of this diversity of interests, and that is this : we believe, that, for reasons which lie on the surface, the interests of the non-official members of the profession are not in all respects identical with the interests of the official members of the profession. If this hypothesis is wrong, all these amendments are based upon wrong principles. But if this hypothesis is sound, these amendments are all based upon sound principles, and the object of these amendments is to safeguard against the constitution of the proposed Council being in an overwhelming official majority. It is no use, my Lord, under the semblance of plausible arguments, to overlook this menace, and to say that the interests of science do not recognize the distinction between officials and non-officials. It will be fallacy if you overlook that. As a matter of fact, having regard to various circumstances which you need not stop to consider, it is a fact that in certain essential respects the interests of that large body of medical practitioners in this country who are non-officials are not exactly identical with the interests of the official nominees. If there is a diversity, it cannot be removed or swept away by appeal to the sacred cause of science or to the cosmopolitan character of the profession. All that is very good to hear, all that is very good to argue, but if such diversity of interests exists, recognize it and try to give effect to it. If such diversity of interests does not exist, you have every right to say that these amendments are based on unsound principles, but no reference to the sacred cause of medical science can remove diversity of interest, which does, as we honestly believe, affect the situation."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Sir William Duke.

The Hon'ble SIR WILLIAM DUKE said :—

"I would just like to say a word or two in respect of what has been urged in favour of putting men in the service of Government on a different footing to others ; I must say that I remain unconvinced, because I think we ought to recognize facts. However much we may hope for and believe in the future of the medical profession of Bengal, the fact cannot be got over that the Government service will probably, for many years to come, form the largest (certainly the most important) part of it, and Government are not prepared to permit the disfranchisement of a very considerable portion of the profession, including some of the most eminent practitioners in the Province, merely for the sake of what I may call an academic idea that Government servants as such should stand aside from the self-administration of the profession. Now, as to the stated facts, we are at present dealing with an amendment to clause (d) which concerns only those who have European qualifications. The state of the case is that in all, in Bengal, Calcutta, and the mufassal, there are 120 men with such qualifications, and almost exactly half of these men are Government servants. I do not pretend to say for a moment whether the Government servants are the more eminent class or not ; at any rate, they are numerically as important as the others. It seems to me that no ground of principle whatever has been brought forward, as to why 60 out of 120 of these men having European qualifications in Bengal, should be disqualified from ever voting for or being members of the Council. I think my hon'ble friend Babu Surendra Nath Banerji sometimes possibly says more than he means. I did not really know that he regarded non-officials nominated by Government with such extreme hatred and loathing. I do not believe that he abominates the Hon'ble Dr. Nilratan Sarkar."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Babu S. N. Banerji; Sir William Duke; Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur; Mr. Stephenson.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said :—

"I rise to a point of order. I think the remark is objectionable, that I do not mean what I say."

The Hon'ble SIR WILLIAM DUKE, continuing, said :—

"I take it, then, that the Hon'ble Member does abominate the Hon'ble Dr. Nilratan Sarkar, and regards him with loathing. I presume he also abominates the Hon'ble Mr. S. P. Sinha. It is very hard on both these gentlemen, who have my sincere sympathy. The Hon'ble Member says they have no responsibility; they are not responsible to Government, and yet they always vote with Government when required. I think, before making a remark of that kind, he should read the published Proceedings of the Council and see how often these abominable nominees of Government have voted with them!"

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said :—

"I did not refer to all, Sir."

The Hon'ble SIR WILLIAM DUKE, continuing, said :—

"Well, there are some of these gentlemen at any rate to whom the Hon'ble Member admittedly referred (though at the time he seemed to embrace all Government nominees in his remarks), and I think it is very unfair of him to have done so; and as they are not here to defend themselves, I think it my duty to do so for them."

The motion was then put and lost.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 9.—The Hon'ble Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur moved that the words "not being Government servants" be added after the word "practitioners" in line 2 of clause 4 (e).

He said :—

"Some of the grounds mentioned by me in connection with my amendment of clause 4 (d) apply to the present amendment also. A very large number of graduates and licentiates in medicine or surgery of the University of Calcutta are in the service of Government, and for the reasons already stated, their names should not appear in the list of voters. In the election of the members of the Legislative Council, Government servants have been rigidly excluded from voting. It may be mentioned also that, under the provisions of the Bengal Municipal Act, two-thirds of the total number of Commissioners of each municipality are elected, and although the Government have been empowered to appoint the remaining one-third of the Commissioners, the Act has taken care to mention, as a proviso, that the number of persons holding salaried offices under the Government and appointed as municipal Commissioners shall not bear a larger proportion than one-fourth to the total number of Commissioners elected and appointed. A similar provision has been made in the Local Self-Government Act also. For the above reasons I hope this amendment will be accepted."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"Your Excellency, I am afraid I must oppose this amendment on the same ground as the last. I do not wish to weary the Council by going over the same ground, as regards officials and non-officials. I would only like to drive home, perhaps even more strongly, the point that, under this Bill, there are only two things the Council can do,—one is to put a man on the register, and the other is to take his name off. As regards those two things, I cannot see that there are any divergent interests between any members of the medical profession. This particular amendment proposes to exclude officials from those members who are elected by registered practitioners who are degree-holders or licentiates of the University of Calcutta. There are in the list published by the Inspector-General of Hospitals 804 such men in Bengal, of whom 374 are in Calcutta. There are well over 300 Assistant Surgeons, I think, in Bengal, all Government servants. Why is this huge proportion of the whole to be left out on the single argument that Government have 8 members in the Council, and therefore it is not necessary that there should be any more public servants on the Council. I take it that this is the only reason for the amendment."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

List of Amendments—Motion No. 10.—The Hon'ble Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur to move that the words "not being Government servants" be added after the word "practitioners" in line 2 of clause 4 (f).

List of Amendments—Motions Nos. 11-15.

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"I beg Your Excellency's ruling as to whether the other amendments having been lost, the moving of Amendments Nos. 11-15 would be in order, because practically they cover the same ground.

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"The only question that has not already been dealt with is about candidates for election."

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"Then the amendments may be put with the omission of the words "either a voter or."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"That is so; with my permission, the words 'either a voter or' occurring in amendments Nos. 11-15 must go out, and these amendments may now be moved with those words deleted.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Chakravarti is not here, so the amendment standing in his name (No. 11), which is identical with the other amendments, drops. I call upon the Hon'ble Dr. Sarbadhikari to move amendment No. 12, which stands in his name."

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI then moved that the following proviso be added at the end of clause 4, namely :—

"Provided also that no Government official shall be entitled to be a candidate in respect of any election under clause (d), clause (e) or clause (f)."

He said :—

"Your Excellency, with that verbal alteration, I beg to move the amendment standing in my name. There seems to be a certain amount of delusion that we are indulging in on both sides of the House. Some are under the impression that there is nothing in this Bill that need alarm the profession or the public, and therefore there need be no particular anxiety in regard to this matter. Some are under the impression that there is a great deal in the Bill, and therefore it is to be desired that the Council should be as representative as possible of all interests."

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"My Lord, I beg simply to support this amendment as another amendment similarly worded stands in my name, namely, amendment No. 13."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur; Maulvi A. K. Faz-ul-Haq; Mr. Stephenson.

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I beg to support the amendment which has been moved by my friend the Hon'ble Dr. Sarbadhikari, as an amendment exactly similar in terms stands in my name. I would say a very few words, as I have nothing particular to say on the great principle that has been discussed, that there is no distinction between official and non-official interests so far as this Bill is concerned. My Lord, in this matter it has been said, and I believe it is also recognized by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, that it is a great privilege for a person to be tried by his own peers ; but, my Lord, even in a jury trial both the prosecution and the defence have a right to challenge the jury, and here in this case there would be a trial of a medical man by his peers, and so far as official element is concerned, it will be in a standing majority, and if the non-official element is to be restricted, I am afraid this privilege of being tried by his own peers will be to a large extent frustrated. There is thus this great apprehension, as Your Excellency might have gathered from the Press and from the utterances in this Council.

My Lord, in view of the assurance that has been given by the Hon'ble Member in charge, that there is no intention of making any distinction between officials and non-officials so far as this Bill is concerned, it strikes me whether it would not be better, although there is no motion to that effect, to leave the constitution of the Council entirely in the hands of the medical profession. Let the register of all medical practitioners and degree-holders, official and non-official medical men, be prepared and let them elect the members of the Council, so that there will be no distinction between officials and non-officials in the election of members to this Council.

It has been said that the Government should have—and we all admit it—a hand in the controlling of the operations of the Act, when the Act is in its infancy, and we admit that it is not proper to press for election of the members of the Council by the medical profession as a whole, but we submit, my Lord, that the privilege of nominating a candidate as far as candidates from the electorates under clauses (b), (e) and (f) of clause 4 are concerned, should be at least with the non-officials, and having regard to the amended form in which this amendment has been moved, the officials and non-officials of the profession will have the privilege of nominating a candidate, who must be a non-official, and the officials and non-officials shall have an equal voice in his election. Now that the amendment has been reduced to such a harmless proposition, I think it will be acceptable to the Hon'ble Member in charge."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZ-UL-HAQ said :—

"My Lord, as I have a motion exactly similar in terms, I wish to say a few words in support of this amendment. My Lord, the matter has been thoroughly discussed, and I wish only to say this that in this Council, we, the non-officials, are supposed to be in a majority, and it is very easy to see from the number of amendments that have been proposed, that the trend of non-official opinion is most overwhelming, of having a non-official majority on this Medical Council. I think that if non-official opinion has any value, the officials ought to take it that it is the wish of the non-officials that there should also be a non-official majority in the Medical Council."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"Is the Hon'ble Member in order in referring to the non-official majority in this Council ?"

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZ-UL-HAQ, continuing, said :—

"I wish to put before the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill that the mere fact of so many members having sent in amendments similar in character, recommending a non-official majority in the Medical Council, shows that our apprehensions are that the constitution of the Medical Council will practically be as at present, namely, that the official element shall predominate. I do not wish, however, to take up the time of the Council."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson; Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur.

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"My Lord, I was myself struck with the number of identical amendments which have been sent on this Bill, but the inference which I drew from this was that the Hon'ble Members had consulted together and had drawn up amendments in identical terms. I will not, however, weary the Council by any further discussion on the question of the official and the non-official element. This amendment is confined to one point, and that is whether a Government official may be a candidate or not. The Council has already declined to disfranchise a Government official. Government officials are in a minority, and I think that the Council will agree that there is no reason why the member whom the registered practitioners may wish to elect should not be a Government official."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motions were then, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

List of Amendments—Motion No. 13.—The Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray to move that the following proviso be added at the end of clause 4, namely :—

"Provided also that no Government official shall be entitled to be either a voter or a candidate in respect of any election under clause (d), clause (e) or clause (f)."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 14.—The Hon'ble Babu Upendra Lal Ray to move that the following proviso be added at the end of clause 4, namely :—

"Provided also that no Government official shall be entitled to be either a voter or a candidate in respect of any election under clause (d), clause (e) or clause (f)."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 15.—The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur to move that the following proviso be added at the end of clause 4, namely :—

"Provided also that no Government official shall be entitled to be either a voter or a candidate in respect of any election under clause (d), clause (e) or clause (f)."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 16.—The Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Faz-ul-Haq to move that the following proviso be added at the end of clause 4, namely :—

"Provided also that no Government official shall be entitled to take part either as a candidate or as a voter in any election under clause (c), clause (d), clause (e) or clause (f)."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 17.—The Hon'ble Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur moved that the following two provisos be added at the end of clause 4, namely :—

"Provided also that if, after the expiration of three years from the commencement of this Act, or at any subsequent time, the Local Government are of opinion that the Council should be granted the privilege of electing one of their own members as President, it shall be lawful for the Local Government to direct accordingly, by notification published in the Calcutta Gazette:

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson; Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur.

"Provided further that, of the seven members to be nominated by the Local Government under clause (b), two at least shall be non-officials."

He said :—

"Under the English Medical Act of 1858 power was given to the Council, constituted under its provisions, to elect its President. It may be said very reasonably that what is good for England is not necessarily good for India inasmuch as India is far behind England : there can be no doubt on the point, and I do not propose that just at the commencement of the operation of the present Act such power should be given to the Council. We hope, however, that in course of three years the Council will be able to discharge its duties satisfactorily without any reasonable complaints from any one. If our expectations are fulfilled, the Government will then be in a position to judge whether the privilege should be granted, and if in their opinion the Council will be deserving of the privilege they may be disposed to grant it. My proposition is that power should be reserved to do so. If my proposed proviso be not enacted into law, the Government will not be competent to grant the privilege even if it be disposed to do so without amending the present Act. I beg to submit that my proposal is very moderate, and in my humble opinion, is a very reasonable one, and I hope the member in charge of the Bill will kindly accept it."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"My Lord, I think the Hon'ble Member's proposal must be based on the Home Rule proposals for Ulster. I do not think that it is a businesslike way of dealing with the question. If we are satisfied that for at least three years a particular form of constitution is required, I think we would leave it to the future to alter that form when it was no longer required. The Hon'ble Member need be under no apprehension that there would be any difficulty. In Bombay, I believe, within a very few months of the passing of the Medical Bill the Bombay Council passed an amendment to it and I am perfectly certain that we shall be willing to do so here when the time comes."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 18.—The Hon'ble Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur moved that the words "and unless it finds a place in the agenda paper" be inserted after the word "present" in line 3 of proviso (i) to clause 12 (1).

He said :—

"My Lord, the reason for moving this amendment is obvious. Only to guard against a decision being suddenly arrived at without giving any previous notice, I may say it is a universal rule for transaction of business by any corporate body or council that only those matters are decided at a meeting which are mentioned in the list of business. I therefore hope that the Member in charge of the Bill will kindly accept my amendment which does not clash with any of the main provisions of this Bill."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"My Lord, the amendment which the Hon'ble Member wishes to move really comes, I think, under the head of the Rules of Business. Under clause 12(c), we give the power to the Council to make regulations to regulate the conduct of business, and this amendment is really covered by that. I think the Hon'ble Member will withdraw his amendment."

The Hon'ble RAI NALINAKSHA BASU BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, after the assurance given by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, I beg to withdraw the amendment."

The amendment was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson; The President; Babu S. N. Ray; Colonel Harris.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 19.—The Hon'ble Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur moved that the words "except as otherwise expressly provided in this Act" be inserted before the word "all" in line 1 of proviso (ii) to clause 12(1).

He said :—

"My Lord, I have proposed the amendment in view of the alteration I intend to move in respect to the provisions of clauses 17 and 24. I have to move later on that the decision of the Council finding a practitioner guilty of infamous conduct must be by a majority of at least two-thirds of the total number of members of the Council. If that amendment of mine is carried, the provisions of clauses 17 and 24 will clash with the provisions of this clause. I hope my amendment will be accepted on the above grounds."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"My Lord, I may submit that this is, more or less, a consequential amendment, and it would be more convenient to take it after the main amendment.

The PRESIDENT said :—

"It is pointed out that this is a dependant amendment. It will be taken up later, if necessary."

The discussion of the amendment was thereupon postponed.

Clause 13.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 20.—The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray moved that the words "such fees for attendance at meetings of the Council, and," in lines 2 and 3 of clause 13 be omitted.

He said :—

"Clause 13 of the Bill provides :—

> There shall be paid to the members of the Council such fees for attendance at meetings of the Council, and such reasonable travelling expenses, as may from time to time be allowed by the Council and approved by the Local Government.

My reason for moving for the omission of the words is this : that the object for introducing the Bill is to raise the tone of the medical profession. Membership to this Council should not be considered in the light of a directorship of a company. The question of pounds, shillings and pence should find no place in this Bill. We know very well that members of the Syndicate of the Calcutta University such as my friend the Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray and the Hon'ble Dr. Sarbadhikari, who is now the Vice-Chancellor, spend about four to six hours every week ungrudgingly for the University. Some members of our Council come from distant places such as Chittagong, Jalpaiguri and Darjeeling, and they never think of ever charging any fee for the services which they render to this Council. I cannot really understand why a member of this Medical Council should think of getting any fee. It is enough that we are going to have this Council ; and, of course, speaking for myself, I see the utter inutility of this Council. It is also a matter for surprise that the services of such a distinguished medical officer as the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals have been requisitioned. For what purpose? To be applied as a blister, I suppose. I do not think that any fee should be paid to members for attendance at the meetings of the Medical Council."

The Hon'ble COLONEL HARRIS said :—

"My Lord, although I am regarded as a blister, I may perhaps be permitted to make one or two remarks on the amendment which the Hon'ble Member behind me has just moved. I have to thank him for his remarks about myself. But I feel constrained to oppose his motion that the members of the Council of Registration should not be paid reasonable fees for their attendance. Clause 13 of the Bill is based on section 12 of the English

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Babu S. N. Ray; Babu S. N. Banerji.

Medical Act of 1858, which provides that there shall be paid to the members such reasonable travelling expenses as shall, from time to time, be allowed by the General Council and approved by the Commissioner of His Majesty's Treasury. There is also a similar provision in the Bombay Act. Under the rules of that Act the members get a fee of Rs. 50 a day for attendance on the meetings of Council. The meetings of the Medical Council will be very few indeed—not more than one or two in a year; so this will not amount to a large sum. The fact that members of this Legislative Council attend meetings without any fees does not seem to have anything to do with the point at issue, and I do not propose to make any remarks on the subject. I do not understand why the members of the proposed Bengal Medical Council of Registration should serve gratis if they could be remunerated for their labours from the income of the Council. It may be hard for the members if they are required to attend without any reasonable fee, as otherwise why should they leave their place of practice without any compensation? There can be no analogy between the directors of a company and the members of the Council. I think that, besides these fees, they should be paid reasonable travelling expenses. For these reasons, I oppose this amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"My Lord, I simply object to the payment of fees and not to any reasonable travelling expenses, such as travelling expenses, which are paid to members of this Council."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said :—

"My Lord, I desire to make one observation, if I am in order, and it is this that fees are paid to members of the General Committee of the Corporation, and I think that if fees have to be paid to members of this Medical Council, this provision should be incorporated in the Act as in the Calcutta Municipal Act and not left to be determined by the rules to be framed hereafter. I think that this is also included in the Bombay and Madras Acts."

The motion was then put and lost.

Clause 14.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 21.—The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray moved that after the word "Registrar", at the end of clause 14 (1) (a), the following be added, namely :—

"who shall be either—

(i) a Doctor or Bachelor of Medicine of the University of Calcutta of not less than 5 years' standing, or

(ii) a member of the Indian Medical Service who has served in civil employ in Bengal for at least 3 years, or

(iii) a Doctor of Medicine of the University of London, or a Licentiate in Medicine or Surgery of the Universities of Edinburgh or Glasgow, with not less than three years' experience in Bengal."

He said :—

"What I want, my Lord, is that the Registrar should not be a mere lay man, but he should have some experience of the practice of medicine, because he is not only Registrar, but under clause 19 of the Bill, he is also to act as Secretary to the Council. So we must not have a mere ministerial officer as Registrar but a man with some medical qualifications, i.e., a man who is competent to act as executive officer of the Council.

Under clause 19 of the Bill, every person applying for registration of his name must satisfy the Registrar that he is possessed of some title or qualification referred to in the schedule. The Registrar must therefore be fully acquainted with the different qualifications which candidates may possess, and unless he be a medical man himself, he will not be able to fully understand what qualifications are necessary to entitle a person to be registered.

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson; Colonel Harris.

Then, under clause 22, if any person is dissatisfied with any decision of the Registrar refusing to enter the name or any title or qualification of such person in the register of registered practitioners, he may, at any time within three months from the date of such decision, appeal to the Council, whose decision shall be final. So that we see that he is not only to be a mere ministerial officer but a go-between between the Council and the public. He will have to exercise some executive power, and against his decision there is an appeal to the Council. What I want is that he should be a qualified medical man, and the qualifications which I want him to possess I have specified in my amendment. As the Secretary will have important duties to perform in the Council, I think that he should be a properly qualified man. It is for this reason that I have proposed the amendment. I hope it will be accepted."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"My Lord, I must oppose this amendment. I may observe that sub-clause (iii) is another injustice done to Ireland, as all Irish degrees are excluded. But apart from that, I think that this amendment ties the Council down far too much. The Registrar will be a very important person as he will have the driving power, but it does not seem necessary that he should be a doctor. The Council will not be a rich body, and I do not see why men of the Assistant Surgeon class should not be sufficient if it is necessary to have a doctor. The Council will not be a rich body ; we have to pay travelling allowances, and I am told that the travelling allowances of this Council amount to Rs. 18,000 a year. So that travelling allowances may very possibly be quite a reasonable amount of money. The Council will very likely not have enough money to appoint a whole-time M.B. The work of the Registrar is secretarial work, and it will not be very much in the first year or two. I understand that in Bombay the Council only met twice in the year. During the time that the Council is not meeting it will be purely secretarial work, corresponding with the people on the register and so forth. His other duties are to be satisfied as regards the qualifications of candidates for the register. He has to exercise a certain amount of intelligence, but the question before him will be—Has the candidate got the qualifications he claims he has? That is a question of fact, looking up the registers, corresponding with the Registrars of the University, and so forth. No actual technical medical question will come before the Registrar at all. It is not really necessary to have a highly-trained medical man. It is quite possible that it will pay the Council best to employ a half-time officer, something on the lines of the Secretary to the Examination Board. He need not devote the whole of his time to the work, and it might pay the Council not to have a medical officer at all. I do not think therefore that it is really necessary to tie down the Council to any technical qualifications. The Registrar can only be appointed subject to the orders of the Local Government. I think that will be sufficient. I quite agree with the Hon'ble Member that the Registrar should be a good man, and the Act cannot work unless the Registrar is a good man ; but I hope that in this way we shall be able to keep sufficient control."

The Hon'ble COLONEL HARRIS said :—

"I would just like to say that I am in entire agreement with the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, that it is not necessary at all to have a Registrar as a medical man. There are no strictly medical duties which the Registrar would have to perform. His duties are almost entirely clerical. His chief duty is to enter into a book certain qualifications which are given to him, and of the genuineness and registerability of which he is satisfied. There are no medical duties at all, and I do not see why a man with medical qualifications is required. It is more a man with commonsense and a man who is a strong man, at the same time a man with tact, who is required because he may sometimes have to deal with people who do not understand why their qualifications cannot be registered, and he should therefore possess the suavitor in modo with the fortiter in re.

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur; Mr. Stephenson.

I may point out that in the General Medical Council in England, which is a body much more concerned with strictly medical matters—for instance, it takes up the question of degrees and examinations and so on,—the present Registrar, Mr. James Robertson, is not a medical man. The Registrar of the Branch Council in Scotland, Mr. Roe, is not a medical man. The Registrar of the Branch Council in Ireland is not a medical man. The Registrar of the Bombay Medical Council, whom they have just appointed, is not a medical man. I do not see why any medical qualifications are necessary. I quite agree that he should be a good man of business, but he will have very little work to do, at any rate at first, and it must also be remembered that the Council will not have too much money to give in the way of salary. Moreover, I do not think that it necessary to engage a whole-time man for the appointment, if, as is likely, there may be only two or three meetings in the year. For these reasons, I am against the appointment of a medical man for the post.

There is another reason which I think has to be stated, that is to say, I think it will be a very unenviable post for a medical man. I as a medical man would not like to hold the office of Registrar, and have the possibility of people saying that I was approachable. I do not think that it would be a nice position at all for a medical man. At the College of Surgeons, which is a technical body, the Secretary, that is to say, the Registrar; is not a medical man; at the College of Physicians, he is not a medical man. Why, therefore, should we have a medical man for this Medical Act of ours?"

The motion was then put and lost.

Clause 16.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 22.—The Hon'ble Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur moved that the words "duly registered under the postal rules" be inserted after the word "letter" in line 3 of clause 16 (2)."

He said :—

"This amendment, as well as the one which follows it, is a very simple amendment. From our experience, we say that letters not registered are often times miscarried. In order to ensure their safe delivery to the person addressed, I propose the letter be registered under the postal rules. This second amendment is proposed with a view that the Council may be satisfied that the letter addressed by it has reached its destination. I do not think it safe to erase the name of a registered practitioner without being sure that the letter sent by the Registrar has been received by the practitioner. I therefore hope that my amendment will find favour with the Member in charge of the Bill."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"I think the Hon'ble Member will find that this amendment is unnecessary. Section 28 of the General Clauses Act states that whenever any document is to be served by post, whether the expression served or given or sent, or any other expression, is used, the document is to be sent by registered post. Therefore the Hon'ble Member's amendment is altogether unnecessary."

The amendment was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The Bengal Medical Bill.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

List of Amendments—Motion No. 23.—The Hon'ble Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur to move that the words "notwithstanding that an acknowledgment by the addressee of the receipt of the said letter has been received" be inserted after the word "if" in line 7 of clause 16 (2).

Clause 17.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 24.—The Hon'ble Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur moved that for the word "they," in line 1 of clause 17 (b), the following be substituted, namely :—

"the Council at a special meeting, by a resolution in favour of which not less than two-thirds of the members of the Council have voted."

He said :—

"My Lord, the charge of being guilty of infamous conduct by a practitioner in any professional respect is undoubtedly a very serious one, and if proved, it not only acts prejudicially in regard to his profession but casts a stigma on his character; it is therefore absolutely necessary that a thorough and impartial inquiry should be made by men who should be considered above all bias, and who, in the estimation of the accused and the general public, may have no reason or ground whatever to have a leaning for or against the accused. A Civil Surgeon of a district is generally the head medical officer of that district, and has a number of subordinates under him who are assistant as well as sub-assistant surgeons. All these men under the present rules are allowed to practise, and the contest as to who shall have the largest practice lies between the Government medical officers and the private practitioners, who, in the majority of cases, being masters of their whole time, are able to acquire the best practice. Consequently a sort of jealousy exists between the two classes of practitioners, and instances are not wanting that a Civil Surgeon's ears have been poisoned against private practitioners, if not deliberately, owing to unconscious bias against them. To guard against all possible contingencies I have proposed that the same rule as prevails in the municipalities and the District Boards with regard to the removal of a Chairman or a Vice-Chairman may be also laid down in this Bill. Section 24 of Bengal Act III of 1884 says a Chairman may be removed from his office by a resolution of the Commissioners in favour of which no less than two-thirds of the whole number of the Commissioners have given their votes at a meeting specially convened for the purpose. The Local Self-Government Act has a similar provision for the removal of a Vice-Chairman. I therefore humbly request that Your Lordship's Government may be pleased to take the above facts into their consideration."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY said :—

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My main amendment is No. 27, but that is practically the same as that moved by my friend, the Hon'ble Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur, with the exception that he wants to insert the words at the beginning, whereas I have given notice that the words should come at the close. Therefore, I submit that the principle being the same, I will support the amendment moved by the Hon'ble Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur. It is for the Government to decide if they wish to accept the principle. In this connection I would only say that the two-thirds majority is the majority accepted by the Calcutta Municipal Act and in the other mufassal Municipalities Act, and I believe that the Government will not reject such an amendment, because such are important question as the refusal of registration and removal of names from the register should be decided by a two-thirds majority. It will be admitted

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson ; The President.

on all hands that the removal of names for misconduct should be at a full meeting and must be decided by two-thirds the number of total members present and not at a meeting where a snatch vote would obtain a decision. I believe that this harmless suggestion will be accepted by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"Your Excellency, the amendment under discussion requires that a two-thirds majority should be necessary before a member of the medical profession is found guilty of infamous conduct in professional respect. In framing this Bill the Government and the Select Committee avoided introducing the bludgeon clauses of the Bombay Act which gives the Government power to supersede the Council. To meet the fear that a bare majority on the particular point would not carry weight with the profession, the Select Committee introduced an appeal to the Local Government. As, however, there appears to be a considerable body of opinion that the question whether a member of the medical profession has been guilty of infamous conduct should not be decided by a bare majority, the Government would be prepared to accept an amendment providing for a two-thirds majority in the case both of refusing to put the name of a practitioner on the register and, under clause 24, of taking the name of a practitioner off the register. The exact form of the amendment which Government will be prepared to accept, I would rather take time to consider. Therefore I will ask Your Excellency's permission that this amendment and other amendments to clause 24 be postponed, until I have had time to consult the Secretary to the Council as to what form they should take."

THE PRESIDENT said :—

"It appears quite reasonable that the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill should have time to consider the form of amendment, and therefore I propose not to take this amendment now."

The discussion of the following motions was then postponed :—

Clause 17.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 24.—The Hon'ble Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur to move that for the word "they," in line 1 of clause 17(b), the following be substituted, namely :—

> "the Council at a special meeting, by a resolution in favour of which not less than two-thirds of the members of the Council have voted."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 25.—The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray to move that for the word "they", in line 1 of clause 17 (b), the following be substituted, namely :—

> "the Council at a special meeting, by a resolution in favour of which not less than two-thirds of the members of the Council have voted."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 26.—The Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Fazul-Haq to move that the word "capacity" be substituted for the word "respect" in the last line of clause 17 (b).

List of Amendments—Motion No. 27.—The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur to move that after the word "respect", at the end of clause 17 (b), the following be added, namely :—

> "by a majority of at least two-thirds of the total number of members present and voting at a special meeting."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 28.—The Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that after the word "respect", at the end of clause 17 (b), the following be added, namely :—

"by a majority of at least two-thirds of the total number of members present and voting at a special meeting."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 29.—The Hon'ble Babu Upendra Lal Ray to move that after the word "respect", at the end of clause 17 (b), the following be added, namely :—

"by a majority of at least two-thirds of the total number of members present and voting at a special meeting."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 30.—The Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Fazul-Haq. to move that after the word "respect", at the end of clause 17 (b), the following be added. namely :—

"by a majority of at least two-thirds of the total number of members present and voting at a special meeting."

The Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari not being present, the following motion which stood in his name was held to be withdrawn :—

List of Amendments—Motion No. 31.—The Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the following proviso be added at the end of clause 17 (b), namely :—

"Provided also that any person the registration of whose name the Council have refused to permit may, if dissatisfied with such refusal, have recourse to the Civil Court in this behalf."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 32.—The Hon'ble Babu Upendra Lal Ray moved that the following proviso be added at the end of clause 17 (b), namely :—

"Provided also that any person the registration of whose name the Council have refused to permit may, if dissatisfied with such refusal, have recourse to the Civil Court in this behalf."

He said :—

"My Lord, I understand that the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur has got an amendment identically worded as mine. I will accept what he has to say about it."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, in this Bill there is no definition of infamous conduct and this is left practically to the decision of the Council, without giving a right of appeal to a court of law. The amendment which I have the honour to propose would provide the safeguard should any injustice be done to any person the registration of whose name has been refused. The acceptance of this amendment will create great faith and will inspire great confidence in the people, especially in the medical profession, who have been very much perturbed since the introduction of the Bill. If this amendment, which has been suggested not only by my humble self but also by two other members of the Council, namely, the Hon'ble Dr. Sarbadhikari and the Hon'ble Babu Upendra Lal Ray, be accepted, I am sure it will inspire much confidence and the Bill will be denuded of some of the objectionable features which the medical profession apprehend. The resolutions of the meetings held in Calcutta also show that the medical profession and the public will be greatly conciliated if such a provision is inserted in the Bill. It will not hamper the Council in any way. A decision in a British court of justice will not only be acceptable to the party concerned but will satisfy the Council and the Government. In these circumstances I trust that this amendment which I have the honour to move will be accepted by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson; Babu Mahendra Nath Ray.

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"Your Excellency, the first objection to the amendment is that it gives an appeal to the Civil Court from the decision of the Council. My second objection is that it brings in the Civil Court without clearly defining what the power of the Civil Court would be. The Civil Court has no right to come in because there is no definition of infamous conduct in the Act, and what constitutes infamous conduct depends on the standard of medical etiquette and morality at a definite place and time. We trust that the Council will consist of the best men in the medical profession in Bengal and they should be the final and only arbitors of medical etiquette and medical morality. Why should an appeal lie from their decision to a Munsif or Sub-Judge or even a High Court who may understand nothing of medical morality or etiquette. The whole object of the disciplinary powers given by the Bill is that the medical profession should rule itself and set up its own standard of medical professional etiquette and morality. It is contrary to the whole principle of the Medical Council in this aspect to set up a Sub-Judge or even the High Court as a superior arbiter on what constitutes professional misconduct. The interpretation of infamous conduct in a professional respect depends upon the standard of the profession in any particular time and place, and we hope that the Medical Council in Bengal will strive after the professional standard set up by the Medical Council at Home. It is not a question of the interpretation of law, but it is a question of applying the sanction of the professional public opinion, and surely the only body who can do that are the members of the profession. There is a further danger, I think, in setting up the law courts as a judge of infamous conduct. If we let in the Civil Courts we stereotype sooner or later a definition of infamous conduct, and retard rather than promote the raising of professional ideals. We trust that the ideals of the profession in Bengal will steadily rise as they have risen in England. That is the one object which is hoped for this Medical Registration Bill. If we once let in the legal profession to decide as to what medical etiquette is, we get the whole definition stereotyped and we once and for all block the progress of the ideals of the medical profession. I therefore oppose these amendments on the ground that they are against the whole spirit of the Bill and that they will block that progress of the medical profession which I sincerely hope for."

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"My Lord, I am sorry I cannot support this amendment. It is my duty to point out also that, when reference has been made to British courts of justice, the British courts of justice decline to interfere in cases where the General Council has after proper inquiry held that a person is guilty of infamous conduct. The only instance known as an exception to the case is that where it can be proved that the General Council has acted mala fide. Now having regard to the precautionary measures taken, namely, the opportunity given to the person accused of misconduct to appear by Counsel or pleader and the further precaution which has been promised of making it necessary that only two-thirds of the number of members can declare that a person is guilty of infamous conduct and that his name may not be registered, no question of mala fide can arise. I therefore am sorry that I cannot support this amendment."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motions were then, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

List of Amendments—Motion No. 33.—The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur to move that the following proviso be added at the end of clause 17 (b), namely :—

> "Provided also that any person the registration of whose name the Council have refused to permit may, if dissatisfied with such refusal, have recourse to the Civil Court in this behalf."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 34.—The Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Faz-ul-Haq to move that the following proviso be added at the end of clause 17 (b), namely :—

"Provided also that any person the registration of whose name the Council have refused to permit may, if dissatisfied with such refusal, have recourse to the Civil Court in this behalf."

The Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari not being present, the following motion, which stood in his name, was held to be withdrawn :—

List of Amendments—Motion No. 35.—The Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the following further proviso be added at the end of clause 17 (b), namely :—

"Provided further that the decision of the Council shall be subject to confirmation at a subsequent meeting by the same majority as hereinbefore in this section provided."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 36.—The Hon'ble Babu Upendra La Ray moved that the following further proviso be added at the end of clause 17 (b), namely :—

"Provided further that the decision of the Council shall be subject to confirmation at a subsequent meeting by the same majority as hereinbefore in this section provided."

He said :—

"My Lord, this is a simple suggestion and this practice obtains with regard to the proceedings of all public bodies—I mean the District Boards and municipalities and other public bodies of a similar nature, and my suggestion is of a humble nature, and I believe there will be no objection to its acceptance by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill. Any resolution passed at a meeting is confirmed at the next meeting, and after that it is accepted. This suggestion of mine is of a formal nature, and I trust the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill will have no objection to accept it."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said :—

"My Lord, I feel some difficulty in supporting this amendment. My friend has referred to the proceedings of Municipal Committees. I have been a member of a Municipal Committee for the past 25 years. We confirm our proceedings, which means that we say that the record is a correct one. No question which has been once settled will be reopened at a subsequent period. If the suggestion contained in the amendment is accepted, then matters will have to be discussed over and over again. Surely it is not one which the Council will accept. This ought to be left to the Medical Council itself. Any rules regarding the confirmation of proceedings is a matter which I think ought to be left to the Council itself. I hope my friend will withdraw his amendment."

The Hon'ble RAI NALINAKSHA BASU BAHADUR said :—

"I also think that what confirmation means is that the proceedings have been faithfully recorded. Therefore this amendment is quite unnecessary."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Babu Upendra Lal Ray; Dr. D. P. Sarbadhikari.

The Hon'ble BABU UPENDRA LAL RAY said :—

"With Your Excellency's permission I beg to withdraw the amendment."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

List of Amendments—Motion No. 37.—The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur to move that the following further proviso be added at the end of clause 17 (b), namely :—

"Provided further that the decision of the Council shall be subject to confirmation at a subsequent meeting by the same majority as hereinbefore in this section provided."

Clause 18.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 38.—The Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the following be substituted for clause 18, namely :—

"18. If it shall appear to the Local Government, whether on the report of the Council or otherwise.—

(a) that any title granted or qualification certified by any University, Medical Corporation, examining body or other Institution is a sufficient guarantee that persons possessing such title or qualification possess the knowledge and skill requisite for the efficient practice of medicine, surgery and midwifery, or

(b) that any title or qualification referred to in the Schedule is not a sufficient guarantee as aforesaid, the Local Government may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, direct that—(i) in case (a)—the possession of such title or qualification shall, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained and on payment of such fee as may be prescribed in this behalf by regulation made under section 29, entitle any person to have his name entered in the register of registered practitioners, or

(ii) in case (b)—the possession of such title or qualification shall not entitle any person to have his name entered in the said register ; and the Schedule shall thereupon be deemed to be altered accordingly".

He said :—

"The difference between clause 18, as it has been drafted and as I propose that it should be altered, is that the Local Government should have the ultimate power of deciding the matter instead of the Council. The Council in the first instance would have to report on the matter after going into the details, and as important questions of principle are involved, I suggest that, instead of the Council, the Local Government should have the ultimate authority to deal with it. The difference is that the initiative may be taken by others and not by the Council only. That is an advantage that this amendment will have if it is accepted, and it is an advantage of no mean value. It is quite possible that the Council may not see reasons which may actuate others, and those reasons may be powerful enough if they are placed before the Government in a proper manner. So far as the Government are concerned, this power under clause 18, as it stands, is entirely dependent upon the recommendation of the Council, but here, with the words emphasized there—'If it so appeared to the Local Government, whether on the report of the Council or otherwise'—then all that is provided for in clause 18 will be possible. Of course, this does not weaken the Council in any way : it would not be possible to weaken in any way the authority of the Council. The question of initiative only is here concerned. It would, of course, be possible if, on the initiative of others, it should be taken that reference to the Council may be necessary, but the matter ought not to be entirely dependent on the initiative of the Council. That is the reason why I hope the amendment will commend itself to Government."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson ; Babu S. N. Banerji.

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

" Your Excellency, I was rather surprised that the Hon'ble Member, the Vice-Chancellor of the University, should move this amendment. In the original Bill there was a provision that the Council might, if they were satisfied that any qualifications given, including the qualifications given by the Calcutta University, were not sufficient guarantees of efficiency, move the Local Government to alter the schedule so as to exclude those qualifications. The Select Committee removed this provision, and provided that the Council should only have this power in regard to any title or qualification referred to in article III of the Schedule, which excludes the University degrees from the purview of the Medical Council, and does not give the Medical Council power to interfere with University degrees. We now have the Vice-Chancellor of the University wishing to put back into the Bill the original form, giving the Medical Council power to say or to report to the Local Government that any title or qualification referred to in the Schedule is not a sufficient guarantee of efficiency. He therefore restores to the Medical Council the power over the Calcutta University degrees which the Select Committee agreed should be taken away. Apart from that, the object of the Hon'ble Member is to enable theLocal Government to go behind the Council. Under the Bill as it stands the application for what I may call affiliation must come for approval to the Council ; if the Council agree that there is a sound case, they will send it on to the Local Government. If they do not agree that there is a sound case, the matter drops. The Hon'ble Member wants to give the Government power to take the matter up again. We considered this question in Select Committee, and deliberately came to the conclusion that the Bill as it stands embodies a sound principle. We have set up a Medical Council ; surely it is right that we should leave that Medical Council to do its own work. The question whether the training in a particular school or college is sufficient to guarantee efficiency is one which the Medical Council is admirably qualified to decide, and is really much more qualified to decide than are the Local Government. The Local Government, if they take it up, must do so, in contravention of the opinion of the Council. We reserve to the Local Government the power to veto. I think that it is the right principle to leave the Council to do its own work, and give the Local Government the power to veto. For these reasons I oppose this amendment. The effect of the amendment would be to take away from the Council the work which is theirs ; they only come in in common with fifty other different sources of information to the Local Government. The Council of Medical Registration are the best judges of what is the proper equipment of a school, and the teaching and training to be carried out in that school ; and the responsibility should be with them and not with the Government."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said :—

" I think, my Lord, that there is a slight misapprehension on the part of my Hon'ble friend who has opposed this motion. The effect of my friend's amendment is not to give the sole power of initiative to the Council. It is not to take away the power of initiative from the Council at all, but to take away the sole power of initiative. The Council will have the sole power of initiative in ordinary cases, but it will be open in some cases for bodies outside the Council to take up the matter and appeal to Government. I do not think that there is any attempt, so far as this amendment is concerned, to throw the Council overboard or to minimise or to reduce its importance, or to take away from it any power which is now vested in the Council under the Bill, but to make it possible in certain cases, which are conceivable, in which the Council has not moved, to have that power given to some other body. I think that there is not the smallest desire on the part of my friend who has moved the amendment to deprive the Council of the power of initiative, or to minimise the importance of the Council or to take from the Council the power to initiate; and under these circumstances I trust that my Hon'ble friend's amendment will be accepted."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur; Dr. D. P. Sarbadhikari; Dr. Nilratan Sarkar.

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I quite understand that the Council will be the best body of men to consider these questions, but, as I understand the motion of the Hon'ble Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, where representation is made to the Local Government, the Local Government will no doubt refer the representation to the Council for consideration, and on the advice of the Council the Local Government perhaps will publish a notification in the Gazette, as suggested in this amendment. I do not think that the Local Government would do anything on the representation of any outside body without consultation with the Council, and in that sense the amendment seems to be quite right."

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"My Lord, I do not quite follow my friend's pleasantry when he expressed surprise at the Vice-Chancellor of the University bringing up an amendment like this. If the Calcutta University qualification is likely to be challenged at any time, it can be done under the clause, as drafted, because in sub-clause (b) we have it already stated that if any title or qualification required by the Schedule is not a sufficient guarantee, they have the right to go up to the Local Government for modification with regard to that qualification. Therefore, nothing very revolutionary has been attempted by the amendment by the Vice-Chancellor of the University, on which so much stress has been laid. All that is attempted in this amendment, as has been pointed out by the previous speakers, is that the initiative should not be exclusively confined to the Council, but if others feel any grievance, either as to the exclusion or inclusion of any qualification, they should have the right of approaching the Local Government with regard to remedies, though the Council for its own reasons may not. As I have said, it is inconceivable that the Local Government should proceed to take action without referring to the Council. That is not a matter with which we are concerned, but it is conceivable, my Lord, that an outside representation may fall flat if sent up to the Council, whereas it might not do so if it reached the Government, to which we desire to have access in cases of necessity. That is the object of the amendment, and it is not intended to lower the status of the University at all."

The motion was then put and lost.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 39.—The Hon'ble DR. NILRATAN SARKAR said :—

"My Lord, my amendment is on a somewhat different line from the above, though meaning the same thing. I propose that clause 18 be numbered as sub clause (1) of that clause, and that the following be added, namely :—

> '(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), the Local Government may, on their own motion and after such inquiry as they may think necessary, direct such additions to, and alterations in, the said Schedule as are referred to in the said sub-section '.

My Lord, I do not wish that any powers should be taken away from the Council; nor is it necessary that the Government should always interfere with their work; but, situated as it will be, the Council will be formed of medical men belonging to only one section of the profession; and now and again the question of recognizing such colleges or such institutions as, from the point of view of the Council. it would not be desirable to recognize, might arise. In such circumstances the Government would be a far better judge than the Council, consisting of medical men belonging to only one branch of the profession. Unfortunately, there are different branches of the profession, and it is necessary that justice should be done to all. There are no homeopathic colleges here now, but there are homeopathic colleges in America and other countries. The question of recognizing the degrees of their graduates might arise from time to time. That is a thing which is very ticklish to medical men. As a speaker in the Mother of Parliaments once said, if Jenner or Harvey had been living in 1858, none of them would have been permitted to be registered as registered medical practitioners. My amendment only seeks to enable the Government to come to the rescue of the situation under such circumstances. It does not mean any interference at all. It does not mean any want of confidence in the Council at all, or in any members of the Council. The Council will do their work smoothly, but from time to time occasions might arise when the interference of the Government might be necessary. I am not singular in bringing forward this proposal. The Bombay Act, in fact, goes much further than this. There, of course, the whole power is centered in the Government—see section 20 of that Act. The Madras Act also reserves the same power for the Government : it is only in Calcutta that we hear that we want to place unnecessary powers in the hands of the Government, and we want the Government to supersede the Council. In fact, that is not the object at all. The object is only to reserve sufficient powers for the Government to interfere when exceptional cases may arise."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"The Council have already rejected the provision in the Bombay Act, section 20. The present amendment does not go so far as that, but it gives the Local Government power, on their own motion, and after such enquiry as they may think necessary, to direct alteration or addition to the Schedule. I object to this amendment on precisely the same grounds as the last one. We deliberately set up the Council to do this work. I took some credit to the Government just now for not bringing in a bludgeoning section. The Hon'ble Member now wishes to have the bludgeoning section in, in order that the Government shall keep the Medical Council up to its work. I have greater faith in the Medical Council than the Hon'ble Member. It must be remembered that the particular point with which the amendment deals is only in regard to recognizing schools, and it does not affect individuals. Surely a medical council consisting of 15 members, the most prominent members of their profession in Bengal, is in a better position than the Local Government to say what is the right training, and whether a school is adopting that training and has a right standard of equipment. The whole object of this amendment is to get an appeal from the Medical Council where the Medical Council does not consider that the standard is sufficient. I do not think that in a matter of this kind there should be an appeal. The Hon'ble Member is evidently afraid that the Medical Council will set up too high a standard. Well, I think that at all events this is a fault on the right side, and I would rather leave the Medical Council to set up too high a standard than interfere and have an appeal to the Local Government, thereby weakening all sense of responsibility of the Medical Council."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motion was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

List of Amendments—Motion No. 40.—The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray to move that clause 18 be numbered as sub-clause (1) of that clause, and that the following be added, namely :—

"(2) If in any case the Council refuse to make a report as provided in sub-section (1), it shall be lawful for any person whose application in this behalf has been rejected by them to appeal to the Local Government, whose decision shall be final".

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Babu S. N. Ray; Mr. Stephenson; Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur; Colonel Harris.

Clause 20.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 41.—The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray moved that the words "on payment of such fee as may be prescribed in this behalf by regulation made under section 29," in lines 5 and 6 of clause 20, be omitted.

He said :—

"This again, my Lord, is a question of fees. The section is: If any person whose name is entered in the register of registered practitioners obtains any title or qualification other than the title or qualification in respect of which he has been registered, he shall, on payment of such fee as may be prescribed in this behalf by regulation made under section 29, be entitled to have an entry stating such other title or qualification made against his name in the register, either in substitution for, or in addition to, any entry previously made.

I really cannot understand, my Lord, why a person, say an M.B., who gets the title of M.D., should have to pay again a fee to have his name registered as an M.D.

I can very well understand that the Council which is going to be constituted will be impecunious, but it ought not for that reason to be mercenary."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"In my position as Finance Secretary my feelings were with the Hon'ble Member when he objected to the payment of fees, but I cannot go with him when he objects to the receipt of them. The Medical Council will have very few sources of income; these fees are one. Secondly, the Medical Council at Home charges fees for this same registration. It is the same in Bombay and Madras, and the fees are to be prescribed by the Medical Council, subject to the sanction of the Local Government. I think the Hon'ble Member may rest assured that they will not be such as will break any medical practitioner. I should not be willing to deprive the Medical Council of this small additional source of income."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"I think, my Lord, this is a very small matter. The medical practitioners who register themselves may recoup themselves in more ways than one by the extensive practice which it is hoped they will enjoy through being registered under this Act."

The Hon'ble COLONEL HARRIS said :—

"May I say a few words on the subject? I cannot understand why there should be any objection to medical practitioners paying a fee. It will only be a small fee in India for registration. I do not think that any practitioner will object to pay this small fee. It is quite optional on the part of practitioners to register additional qualifications or not. They are not obliged to do so in England, and they will not be obliged to do so here. As has been mentioned by the Hon'ble Mr. Stephenson, the Member in charge of the Bill, these fees are charged to practitioners in Great Britain who register, and I do not know of any case in which they have objected to pay them. Recently, quite recently—by the last mail's papers—the question was raised in the House of Parliament; I forget who raised it. The Secretary was asked whether practitioners should continue to pay fees for registration, and the answer given by the Hon'ble Mr McKenna, after consulting the Medical Council, was that the Medical Council reported that they could not possibly do without the income they got from these fees. Last year the income they got was £750. It is not very much if you consider that these fees form the only income from which the staff will be paid. In fact, there is only one other source of income that this Council of Medical Registration will have, that is, the sale of registers. There is no other source of income, and they must have some income; and as I said before, I do not anticipate that there will be any objection on the part of practitioners. In Bombay, the charge is Rs. 15, in Madras, Rs. 15; that is for the first registration, and for the registration of new titles in Madras and Bombay it is Rs. 5 for additional Indian qualifications, and Rs. 10 for foreign qualifications; so it is not a very large sum. I do not think this amendment ought to be accepted."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Babu S. N. Ray; Mr. Stephenson; Dr. D. P. Sarbadhikari.

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Clause 22.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 42.—The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray moved that the words "or, if the decision of the Council is adverse to him, to the Local Government" be inserted after the word "Council" in the last line of clause 22.

He said:—

"The clause runs: If any person is dissatisfied with any decision of the Registrar, refusing to enter the name or any title or qualification of such person in the register of registered practitioners, he may, at any time within three months from the date of such decision, appeal to the Council, whose decision shall be final.

My amendment is to this effect; 'in case of that decision being adverse to him, to the Local Government'. Here the power of an appeal is given to the Council, and not to the Local Government—while in clause 24(a) an appeal shall lie to the Local Government from any decision of the Council under clause 17 or clause 21. When an appeal is given against orders under clause 17 or 21, I think, my Lord, there ought to be an appeal also in cases where there is an order under clause 22."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said:—

"I am not quite sure what amendment the Hon'ble Member is taking up."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY said:—

"My amendment is to the effect that after the word 'Council' the following words be substituted: 'or in case of their decision being adverse to him, to the Local Government'."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said:—

"Your Excellency, the object of this amendment is to give a second appeal in a case where the Registrar has not entered a name in the register. The Registrar can only refuse when he is not satisfied that the applicant has registrable qualification. If so, it is a question of facts. There is no discretion given to the Registrar; he has got to be satisfied that the applicant has got those particular qualifications. If he is not satisfied, then he does not enter the name of the applicant. If registration is refused, then there is an appeal from the Registrar to the Council, and the Council, I say, is obviously much better qualified than the Local Government to decide whether the qualifications claimed are actually held. If registration is refused on any other ground, it must be under clause 17, which provides for an appeal to the Local Government. For these reasons the amendment should be opposed."

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"My Lord, in view of the opinion taken by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, I find that even the first appeal could hardly be permissible or necessary if it is a question of finding out whether any particular individual is a holder of recognized degrees. The Registrar in such a case would not and can never go wrong. It is only when some question or other that might interfere with his judgment in the matter arises that he expresses his doubt by refusing to register his name. What is a Registrar? He is an executive authority. He is only a hand of the Council, and therefore what the Registrar does is the Council's work. Can there be an appeal from the work of the same body to itself? If an appeal is really permissible, it ought to be to somebody other than that whose action is to be appealed against. Ordinarily, of course, no questions like these are likely to arise, and I cannot imagine cases in which the Registrar will be called upon to decide mere questions of facts that may have to be put right by the Council. The class of question that may arise—but I hope will not—will be somewhat like those that my friend Dr. Nilratan Sarkar has alluded to. For example, a holder of a recognized degree or qualification is following a method of practice that may not commend itself either to the Registrar or to the Council, and not impossibly, he may find himself in a difficulty. Cases like this are rare, and an appeal to the Government will only in these cases be necessary. For example, if an M. B. of the Calcutta University practising homeopathy or the Ayurvedic system were to apply for registration, doubts may arise in the mind of the Registrar as to whether he could allow the name of the applicant to be registered, and it is not unlikely that his doubts will be shared by the Council. In a case like that an appeal to the Council would be almost meaningless."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Babu Mahendra Nath Ray; Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur.

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"I am afraid there is misapprehension somewhere. The duties of the Registrar are defined in clause 19. He has got to see whether a man comes within the Schedule or not, and the Schedule gives the precise list of qualifications, and what the Registrar has to do is to see whether a certain application for registration as a medical practitioner comes within the different clauses of the Schedule or not. No question requiring discretion or exercise of judgment can possibly arise, but the Registrar may make mistakes with regard to the meaning of certain words in the Schedule, and it is then that an appeal is given to the Council, and that I think ought to be enough. I see on comparing with the English Acts that an appeal is given generally to the General Council, and in special cases, to the Local Council, and that is deemed enough. I do not therefore see why there should be an appeal to the Local Government. My friend Dr. Sarbadhikari is evidently thinking of cases where the Registrar may, in the exercise of his discretion, refuse to register the applicant. Such a thing, if the Registrar understands his statutory duties, cannot possibly happen."

The motion was then put and lost.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 43.—The Hon'ble Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur moved that the following proviso be added at the end of clause 22, namely :—

> "Provided that it shall be lawful for the Local Government, if they see fit, to revise the decision of the Council at any time within six months from the date thereof."

He said :—

"My Lord, under this clause the Council has been made the final authority refusing the registration of a practitioner's name or his qualifications. But as the matter involved, with regard to which the decision of the Council has been stated to be final, is a very important one and may seriously affect his practice, I humbly beg that power may be given to the Government to revise the order of the Council. My amendment is a very simple one, and it does not militate against any of the main provisions of the Bill and I hope it may be accepted. As some time will be required to get copies of papers, I think six months' time is not too much."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson; Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur.

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"Your Excellency, it is unnecessary for me to dilate on the point contained in this amendment. I have already pointed out that the power of revision asked for is against the refusal to enter an applicant's name in the register. If the Council is convinced that they had made a mistake, there is nothing whatever to prevent it introducing his name again later on. It is not as if the Council having once passed an order that this man's name would not be entered, the question would never be reopened. There is therefore no necessity for bringing in a provision of this nature."

The Hon'ble RAI NALINAKSHA BASU BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I say that if a mistake is made and if circumstances are shown, then certainly Government must have power of revising the order of the Council, though I do not say that as a matter of fact he will have a right of appeal. But only in certain cases power to revise must be given to the highest authority, and as Government is the highest authority in the land, I hope that power will be reserved to it."

The motion was then put and lost.

The discussion of the following motions was postponed :—

Clause 24.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 44.—The Hon'ble Mr. Chakravarti to move that after the word "direct", in line 1 of clause 24, the following be added, namely :—

"by a majority of at least two-thirds of the total number of members present and voting at a special meeting."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 45.—The Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that after the word "direct", in line 1 of clause 24, the following be added, namely :—

"by a majority of at least two-thirds of the total number of members present and voting at a special meeting."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 46.—The Hon'ble Babu Upendra Lal Ray to move that after the word "direct", in line 1 of clause 24, the following be added, namely :—

"by a majority of at least two-thirds of the total number of members present and voting at a special meeting."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 47.—The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur to move that after the word "direct", in line 1 of clause 24, the following be added, namely :—

"by a majority of at least two-thirds of the total number of members present and voting at a special meeting."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 48.—The Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq to move that after the word "direct", in line 1 of clause 24 the following be added, namely :—

"by a majority of at least two-thirds of the total number of members present and voting at a special meeting."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 49.—The Hon'ble Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur to move that the following be substituted for clause 24 (a) (ii), namely :—

"whom the Council have, after due inquiry held and by decision arrived at in the manner provided in clause (b) of section 17, found guilty of infamous conduct in any professional respect."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 50.—The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray to move that the words "at least two-thirds of the members of the Council" be substituted for the word "they" in line 1 of clause 24 (a) (ii).

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

List of Amendments—Motion No. 51.—The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur to move that the following proviso be added at the end of clause 24, namely :—

"Provided that, in case (ii), the decision of the Council shall be subject to confirmation at a subsequent meeting by the same majority as hereinbefore in this section provided."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 52.—The Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the following proviso be added at the end of clause 24, namely :—

"Provided that, in case (ii), the decision of the Council shall be subject to confirmation at a subsequent meeting by the same majority as hereinbefore in this section provided."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 53.—The Hon'ble Mr. Chakravarti to move that the following proviso be added at the end of clause 24, namely :—

"Provided that, in case (ii), the decision of the Council shall be subject to confirmation at a subsequent meeting by the same majority as hereinbefore in this section provided."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 54.—The Hon'ble Babu Upendra Lal Ray to move that the following proviso be added at the end of clause 24, namely :—

"Provided that, in case (ii), the decision of the Council shall be subject to confirmation at a subsequent meeting by the same majority as hereinbefore in this section provided."

Clause 24A.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 55.—The Hon'ble Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur moved that for clause 24A (1) the following be substituted, namely :—

"(1) An appeal from every decision of the Council under section 17 or section 24 shall, at the option of the appellant, lie either to the Local Government or to the High Court."

He said :—

"My Lord, by this amendment I have slightly changed the wording of the clause drafted by the Select Committee. Under its provisions an appeal lies to the Local Government ; but I have proposed that option should be given to the appellant either to appeal to the Government or to the High Court. As the Council will have to take evidence and hear parties and their pleaders and exercise judicial powers in arriving at a conclusion, it is but reasonable that an appeal should be to the highest Court exercising judicial power. I have, however, given the appellant the option to appeal to the Government if he likes. I hope the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill will kindly agree to my amendment."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson; Dr. D. P. Sarbadhikari; Babu Mahendra Nath Ray.

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"Your Excellency, the amendment proposes a double line of appeal at the option of the appellant either to the Local Government or to the High Court. I do not think that the double line of appeal can be justified. We have already given the right to appeal to the Local Government in order to meet the objection to a decision of a bare majority of the Council. We discussed in the Select Committee the question as to where the appeal should lie. In England, as has already been pointed out, the Law Courts have no jurisdiction in such matters and the utmost they will do is to see whether there was a due inquiry. We have already provided a two-thirds majority in the Bill and made provision for a due inquiry. The only appeal in England is to the Privy Council—not in the judicial but in the executive branch. Following the principle in England, the appeal should be to the Local Government. I have heard nothing said in favour of giving two alternative lines of appeal. If this amendment is accepted, the result would be conflicting decisions as to what infamous conduct means. The decision of the High Court would not bind the Local Government, and the High Court are hardly likely to bind themselves in any way by the decision of the Local Government. For these reasons I would oppose the amendment."

The motion was then put and lost.

Clause 24 B.

The Hon'ble Mr. Chakravarti not being then present, the following motion which stood in his name was held to be withdrawn :—

List of Amendments—Motion No. 56.—The Hon'ble Mr. Chakravarti to move that clause 24 B be omitted.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 57.—The Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that clause 24 B be omitted.

He said :—

"My Lord, this clause was not a part of the original draft, but I gather has been incorporated by the Select Committee. No special reason has been given as to why such a measure is necessary. I can quite understand objections to the double line of appeal dealt with by the previous amendment. But if any one has a reasonable cause of action, why the ways of King's Courts should be barred by us, has not been explained, and that is what I have not been able to understand. My Lord, of course, if there is really any danger of fomenting litigation unnecessarily by allowing suits of this description, one can imagine why such a measure should be necessary. There is no suggestion that such a drastic measure for thwarting them is necessary. I know that in Madras some enactment has been prescribed. There they may or may not have any reason for doing so. The facts are not before us to show what justification there was for the inclusion of this provision. Of course this Council has power and the majority may decide that such things may not happen. Unless it is clearly and abundantly shown as to why peoples' right to the sovereign courts should be taken away from them, I think a clause like this should not be allowed to stand."

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"May I ask the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill whether the Madras Bill has been passed into law?"

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson; Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur; Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur; Babu S. N. Banerji.

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"I have heard that the discussion on the Bill has been completed and that the Council thereupon adjourned. I cannot say whether it has been actually passed or not. I have no information."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"I have also given notice of a similar motion. Therefore I will support the amendment. I see from the proceedings of the Select Committee that this clause was not in the original Bill and its introduction was objected to in the Committee by my friend the Hon'ble Dr. Nilratan Sarkar. Further, I want to point out that there are various provisions in the Bill which have been, notwithstanding the difference of opinion from this side, accepted by this House, and which makes the decision of the Council final in all matters, and in others the decision of the Local Government as final. Having regard to these facts I do not see any reason why this clause was inserted, especially when it was not in the original Bill, which was introduced, I believe, with the sanction of the Government of India and the Secretary of State. I am not aware whether this clause has been inserted after a reference to the Secretary of State. But whatever may be the case, I think that if any reasonable cause of action arises, quite apart from the provisions of the Bill which make the order of the Council final in almost all instances, that valued privilege of reference to a court of law should not be taken away. I think an insertion of such a provision in the Act takes away that right which every citizen now enjoys, and, therefore, I think, the insertion of this clause at this stage of the Bill should be allowed by the Council."

The Hon'ble RAI NALINAKSHA BASU BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, in my humble opinion the clause has been very vaguely worded. I do not understand whether this clause has been inserted to indemnify the Council against any of its acts or to bar a suit with respect to matters decided by it. As the wording now stands, it is susceptible of the interpretation that it bars all sorts of suits. In every civil matter the Civil Courts have jurisdiction unless their jurisdiction is purposely taken away by enactments. Has any case been made out why the Civil Courts should be deprived of their powers to interfere with the decision passed by this Council? It is in my humble opinion doubtful whether the general powers of a Civil Court can be taken away by a local Council. Be that what it may, I do not find any reason is assigned to bar the remedy under the common law. For the above reasons I beg to support the amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said :—

"I desire to say one word with regard to this matter. If this clause were not inserted in the Bill, I take it that any aggrieved person would have had a right of appeal to the Civil Court. Therefore the insertion of the clause takes away from him what may be regarded as a natural, indefeasible and inalienable right. That being so, it is incumbent on the part of those who have inserted this clause to make out their case. Have they made out their case? We do not find the slightest indication of anything like a justification for the insertion of this clause in the statement made by the majority of the Select Committee or in the note of dissent. I was not a member of the Select Committee, but I learn from those who were members of that Committee, that in the original Bill this clause did not find a place, and that it came to be inserted subsequently as the result of the deliberations of the Select Committee. We should like to have the reasons for this change. This clause found no place in the original Bill and how came it about subsequently that this clause was inserted? These are pertinent questions which I think the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill should answer and in regard to which the public demand a satisfactory explanation from the Government. It is a very serious matter to encroach upon the rights of a citizen, whether he be a doctor, a lawyer or an engineer. When you make up your mind to take away a right—a right which is safeguarded by law—I think it is incumbent upon the Government to come forward with the amplest and most satisfactory reasons for justifying the insertion of a clause of this nature. No such justification for the clause has yet been forthcoming from the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson; Babu S. N. Banerji; Mr. Chakravarti.

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"I have listened carefully to the observations made by the Hon'ble Members to find out what terrible crime is being committed by clause 24B. I am told in the first instance that it takes away an inalienable right. If the right is inalienable, how can it be taken away?

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said:—

"It can be taken away by the Sovereign."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON, continuing, said:—

"I am told that it takes away a valuable right enjoyed by the people. I know that it does nothing of the kind. The rights are not there. Until the Bill is passed there is no question either of giving the right to appeal or of taking it away. Secondly, I am told that it was not in the original Bill. Certainly it was not in the original Bill, neither was the appeal to the Local Government. I have already explained that in the Select Committee the appeal to the Local Government was given to meet the objection that the decision of a bare majority on the Council would not carry weight. The Select Committee therefore decided to give an appeal to the Local Government. I have already discussed in connection with another amendment the question as to where the appeal should go to. We decided that it should go to the Local Government. This Council has decided that it should go to the Local Government, and having decided that, surely it is only consistent to rule out all other lines of appeal. Surely the Select Committee would have been lacking in their duty if, after allowing the right of appeal to the Local Government, it had not avoided the possibility of future confusion by definitely declaring that there was no right of resort to the Civil Court.

The Hon'ble MR. CHAKRAVARTI said :—

"I wish to say a few words, my Lord, with regard to this amendment. It seems to me that the amendment is a very reasonable amendment because it provides a method of scrutiny into an act which must be of a quasi-judicial character and because I take it that the action of the Council will be of a quasi-Judicial character. Why should there be any apprehension that the decision arrived at by the Council should be subjected to the consideration by some other authority? One notices with a certain amount of regret that sort of apprehension, of matters being considered by the constituted tribunals of the country. It is only having either the Civil Courts or the Government to interfere on a proper case being made out, and one cannot apprehend that either the Civil Courts or the Government will interfere in a case in which there need be no interference. It is only giving an opportunity for a person aggrieved by a decision of the Council, which after all is in the nature of a judgment in regard to his conduct, to have the matter settled either before the Civil Court or the High Court."

The motion was then put and lost.

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Dr. D. P. Sarbadhikari.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

List of Amendments—Motion No. 58.—The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray to move that clause 24B be omitted.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 59.—The Hon'ble Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur to move that clause 24B omitted.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 60.—The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur to move that clause 24B be omitted.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 61.—The Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Faz-ul-Haq to move that clause 24B be omitted.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 62.—If motion No. 56 be not carried, the Hon'ble Mr. Chakravarti to move that the following words be inserted at the commencement of clause 24B, namely :—

"Save as hereinbefore provided."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 63.—If motion No. 57 be not carried, the Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the following words be inserted at the commencement of clause 24B, namely :—

"Save as hereinbefore provided."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 64.—If motion No. 60 be not carried, the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur to move that the following words be inserted at the commencement of clause 24B, namely :—

"Save as hereinbefore provided."

Clause 27.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 65.—The Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that clause 27 be omitted.

He said :—

"My Lord, the clause is in the following terms :—

'The expression "legally qualified medical practitioner," or "duly qualified medical practitioner," and all other expressions importing a person recognized by law as a medical practitioner or a member of the medical profession, as used in any Bengal Act or any Act of the Governor General of India in Council in force in Bengal, shall be deemed to mean a medical practitioner registered under the Medical Acts or this Act; and no certificate required to be given by any medical practitioner or medical officer under any Bengal Act or any Act of the Governor General of India in Council in force in Bengal shall be valid unless such practitioner or officer is registered under the Medical Acts or this Act.'

My Lord, in the Objects and Reasons of this Bill we are clearly told that all that was intended by the Bill was to have registration of certain classes of medical practitioners. No attempt, according to the Objects and Reasons, was to be made for constituting the Council into a body to determine upon qualifications. If the Act required duly qualified medical practitioners to do certain things, it is really merely the ascertainment of the qualifications that this Bill is concerned with. The extraneous accident of a man being on a certain register or not cannot take away from his intrinsic qualifications. If he is qualified to do that which that Act contemplates, no other Act can take away from him that qualification, except of course in a definite and openly specified way and not by mere implication. If a degree is taken away from him, of course his qualification ceases. His qualification is inherent, and can never otherwise cease, and this Bill cannot take away that qualification from him. It is an act almost of injustice to the practitioner. The

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur; Mr. Stephenson.

Hon'ble Dr. Harris has told us on the question of fees for registration—hardships regarding which were pointed out by a previous speaker—that it is quite optional for a man to come on the register or not: no one compels him to do so. I take it that he is quite serious when he says so. If then for any reason a man does not want to go on the register, does not want the advantage of being registered, why should his qualifications be taken away? For that reason, my Lord, I submit that this clause ought to be omitted. There is another aspect of the question, and that is injustice not only to the practitioner himself, but also to the public. Supposing a large body of practitioners do not choose to come on the register, which after all is a mere register, as the promoters of the Bill have often said, why should they be deprived of the inherent and hitherto existing advantages of their qualifications?"

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I have a similar motion just following the Hon'ble Dr. Sarbadhikari, and I associate myself with the observations that have fallen from him. Further, I want to submit to your Lordship that perhaps Government have recognized that this will be too hard a provision to be enforced at once, and it will put the public into great difficulty. In that view, my Lord, I find that in clause (1) of the Bill it is stated that this clause shall not come into force until a date to be appointed in this behalf by the Local Government by notification in the Calcutta Gazette. That shows that, although the whole Act will come into operation as soon as it is passed by this Council, and after it has received the assent of Your Excellency and of the Viceroy, these three clauses will not come into operation until the Local Government further considers the matter and publishes a special notification on the subject. My Lord, these clauses will operate with great hardship on the people, because they will, if the certificate of registration be given with the expression 'legally qualified practitioner, or duly qualified medical practitioner is to be deemed a medical practitioner registered under this Act or any other Medical Act' create great difficulties in the mufassal: for this reason that, in the mufassal, there may be medical practitioners who may not, all of them, be registered under this Act, and then, in various matters, the evidence of medical practitioners is necessary in courts of law, especially in the mufassal, where there are no medical practitioners of great eminence, and the people are content with getting the services of humbler members of the service. If any particular medical man is not registered, there will, I submit, be that indirect tendency on the part of the court, that indirect influence on the court, not to accept the evidence of a medical man because he is not a medical man registered under this Act or any other Medical Act. I submit, therefore, my Lord, that having regard to the object of the Bill, which is simply to set up a register of medical practitioners who are willing to register themselves, I do not think that this Bill should go further as is proposed by the clause under discussion. If it does, it will be felt as a great hardship, especially in distant parts of the mufassal. I would therefore support the motion of the Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari that this clause be omitted."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"My Lord, I have not been able to gather exactly what the objection to this clause is except that it is unnecessary. I thought the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur was going to say that the evidence of a doctor would not be accepted in a court unless he was on the register, and I was prepared to jump on him for that statement. However, he turned it round and said that it might indirectly have some effect on the court in believing his evidence if he were not registered. The purpose of the Bill, as has been rightly said, is to set up a register. The purpose of that register is to include all those who hold qualifications which are considered by the State sufficient to enable them to practise on the bodies of the inhabitants of the State. A schedule has been drawn up of those qualifications which can be registered. All qualifications have been included in the schedule which, Government considers, give a requisite guarantee of efficiency. Surely, when you have a State register including all those whom the State considers are guaranteed efficient, it is only logical, when the State refers to an efficient medical practitioner, a qualified medical practitioner, to suppose that it refers to these men. Until you have a register the expression 'duly qualified practitioner' means practically nothing. It is left to individual pleasure. Once you have a register it surely follows for this reason that 'duly qualified medical practitioner' must mean a man who has got a registered qualification. The Hon'ble Dr. Sarbadhikari seemed to draw a distinction between the qualifications of the man and the qualifications that entitle him to entry in the register. But the qualifications are the training he has received, and the hall-mark of that training is the degree or the license or the diploma. You may call that a qualification, but you cannot separate that from the man. If you take him off the register for any purpose, he does not lose his qualification, but simply becomes disbarred. He still has that training, he is quite possibly as clever a man as he ever was before. I think therefore the Council will agree with me that the State, having set up a settled list of medical practitioners, must confine 'qualified medical practitioners' to men who can go on that list. If a man can go on that list and does not choose to do so, I do not think we can extend any consideration to him. I think it is the duty of every medical practitioner who has registrable qualifications to get them registered.

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson.

Then he protests that it will cause a hardship either on individuals or on the public. I have already, in presenting the Select Committee's report to the Council at the last meeting, given a list of the certificates that are required under any Act to be given by a medical practitioner. They are a certificate of leprosy under the Leprosy Act, a certificate for labour under the Assam Labour Act, a certificate of being over 12 years of age under the Indian Factories Act and the Indian Mines Act, a certificate of lunacy under the Lunacy Act, a certificate of vaccination under the Vaccination Act, a certificate of freedom from infection under the Inoculation Act. I have not been able to find any others, and I think the Council will agree that taking away from an unregistered medical practitioner the right to give any of those certificates does not bear in the slightest degree hardly on him or the public. As a matter of fact, with the exception possibly of vaccination, I think I might venture to say that no practitioner who will not come on the register has ever given a certificate under those Acts. The first part of the clause says the expression 'legally qualified medical practitioner or duly qualified medical practitioner shall mean a practitioner registered under the Act.' I think the Hon'ble Dr. Sarbadhikari has rightly pointed out that what the law means by a 'legally or duly qualified medical practitioner' is a man who has sufficient guarantee of efficiency in practice. We, in setting up our register, give the Council power to move the Local Government to bring on to the register any qualification which in their view presupposes the possession of efficient qualifications for the practice of surgery and medicine. Therefore I think it follows that, for the protection of the public, Government are bound to interpret these words in the Act as meaning doctors who are up to the standard that has been considered to have registrable qualifications."

The motion was then put and lost.

The following motions were, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

List of Amendments—Motion No. 66.—The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur to move that clause 27 be omitted.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 67.—The Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Faz-ul-Haq to move that clause 27 be omitted.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 68.—The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray to move that the words "or duly qualified medical practitioner", in line 2 of clause 27, be omitted

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Dr. Nilratan Sarkar; Mr. Stephenson.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 69.—The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray to move that the last six lines of clause 27 be omitted.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 70.—The Hon'ble Maulvi Musharraf Husain to move that the following proviso be added at the end of clause 27, namely:—

"Provided that this section shall not apply to any death certificate required to be produced before a Railway officer in the case of the transmission by rail of a dead body from one place to another."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 71.—The Hon'ble Dr. Nilratan Sarkar moved that clause 27A be omitted.

He said :—

"Clause 27A as it stands runs thus :—

'27A. Except with the special sanction of the Local Government, no person other than a registered practitioner shall be competent to hold any appointment as medical officer of health, or as physician, surgeon or other medical officer in any hospital, asylum, infirmary, dispensary or lying-in hospital which is supported partially or entirely by public or local funds.'

I beg to submit that clause 27, if passed, would lead to great inconvenience to the public and also to great difficulty to the Government. I may be permitted to inform the Council that we conduct our hospitals and schools with the help of our passed students. In fact, we depend entirely upon such help, and cannot do without such help. Then, again, there are many mufassal dispensaries that are stated by our passed students; some of these dispensaries might require help from municipal funds. We, in Belgachia, obtain substantial help every year from the Calcutta Municipality. The enforcement of this clause would be to paralyse this institution at once, apart from the question of throwing out of employment so many men who are already in service. Of course, it would be said that the clause is not going to be enforced just at present; but even then, if it be passed, it would have a great disheartening effect upon our officers, because officers, with blighted prospects, would certainly be discontented, and it would be impossible to conduct our hospitals and schools with the help of discontented officers. The funds at our disposal do not permit us to avail ourselves of men trained in Government institutions or in the Universities. There lies the greatest difficulty. There is another matter. My Lord, kabiraji hospitals are likely to spring up in the near future. Already there is a hospital in Calcutta in which there is a kabiraji ward, and that hospital receives aid from the local funds—from the municipality. This hospital must forfeit municipal help or give up the kabiraji ward at once, because no kabiraji qualifications could be registered. Now I may point out that it would have been a far better policy for the Government to follow the British Act, which conferred the privilege of registration on all practitioners who were acting as surgeons on the 1st October, 1858, in the public service, or in the service of any charitable institution, on the production of evidence that there was sufficient ground for permitting such registration."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"Will the Hon'ble Member give me the reference?"

The Hon'ble DR. NILRATAN SARKAR said :—

"This is an abstract of the principal laws affecting the medical profession. It is an extract from the Registration Act, which runs thus : 'Persons who, on or before October 1st, 1858, had appointments as surgeons or assistant surgeons in the Army or Navy or Militia or in the service of the East India Company, or were acting on or before that date as surgeons in the public service or in the service of any charitable institution, are entitled to be registered on the production of evidence to that branch of the Council to which application may be made, that there is sufficient ground for directing such registration to be made'."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"Will you please give me the section of the Act? I did not quite catch it."

The Hon'ble DR. NILRATAN SARKAR said :—

"It is an extract from the Act. It is on the first page of the Medical Directory, section 15.

Now I do not see the wisdom of having such a destructive and exclusive clause in the Bill, and in the circumstances I move that the clause be omitted."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I have an identical motion covering the same ground. This clause was not in the original Bill, and I believe it has been inserted by a majority of the Select Committee. I do not think it is necessary, considering what the objects of the Bill are. The main objects of the Bill, as has been repeatedly declared in this Council, are to set up a register. Now this clause would prohibit any medical practitioner other than a registered practitioner from holding any appointment as a medical officer in connection with any hospital, dispensary or infirmary which is supported partially or entirely by local funds. If the Calcutta Municipality is contributing a certain sum of money in respect of the homeopathic hospital that has been established in Calcutta, or in connection with the Ayurvedic Hospital connected with the Raja Sew Bux Bogla Hospital on Harrison Road, any medical officer who is now holding an appointment there would not be permitted to hold that appointment unless he is a registered practitioner, but he cannot be, my Lord, a registered practitioner unless he is an allopath, and although we all highly appreciate and value the services of our allopathic doctors, we sometimes, and not infrequently, my Lord, have to seek the advice and assistance of kabirajas and homeopaths; and kabirajas and homeopaths are not included in this schedule, and therefore none would be entitled to hold an appointment in such a hospital as I have mentioned, except with the special sanction of the Local Government. I do not doubt that the sanction of the Local Government will be withheld except on reasonable grounds, but, my Lord, where is the necessity of having this provision to secure the special sanction of the Local Government? My Lord, I fail to understand why this clause should be allowed to remain in the statute. The objects of the Bill will not be in any way frustrated by the omission of this clause. The impression, rightly or wrongly, has been created in the public mind, especially among the kabirajas and homeopaths and the public generally, that the operation of this clause will work unfairly and that the 'practice' of medical practitioners will be affected. I think this apprehension ought to be allayed by the omission of this clause. I have read the proceedings of the Select Committee, but I have not yet been able to gather what particular reason led the Select Committee to insert this clause in the Bill. I do not know, my Lord, whether it has been approved by the Secretary of State when the Bill was first submitted to him, but I submit, my Lord, that this is a provision which saw the light of day after the Bill had been launched by the Select Committee, and has created great apprehension in the minds of the public.

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Colonel Harris ; Babu S. N. Banerji ; Mr. Chakravarti.

I earnestly hope that the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill will accept the motion moved by the Hon'ble Dr. Nilratan Sarkar for the omission of the clause."

The Hon'ble COLONEL HARRIS said :—

"My Lord, may I be allowed to say a few words on this motion ? I do not think that there is any provision for excluding any persons who practise homeopathy and who are not on the register. It is not proposed to register persons ; it is proposed to register their qualifications. Following the example in England, there is no reason why any person who practises homeopathy, provided he possesses registrable qualifications should be excluded from the register."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said :—

"What about the Kabirajas ?"

The Hon'ble COLONEL HARRIS, continuing, said :—

"There is no definite and clearly laid down standard for Kabirajas, nor is there any for Ayurvedic practitioners. Should they have a definite standard at any future time I should be quite prepared to consider the question of putting them on. We can only consider a definite examination standard. There is no other standard possible. If I myself were to take to practise in homeopathy, I do not think I could be kept out of the register. My qualifications would have to be registered irrespective of the particular line of practice I adopted."

The Hon'ble MR. CHAKRAVARTI said :—

"My Lord, I do hope that the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill will see his way to omit this clause. I do not think that any legislation should have a retrospective effect. I venture to think that the Medical Department of the Government will be embarrassed in applying this clause and in making this provision effective, because the clause is not with regard to the future, but is with regard to the people who already have appointments in the institutions referred to, and the question is as to whether they should be allowed to hold their appointments unless they are registered. The result is that they go out unless they are registered, and unless there is a special sanction obtained from the Local Government. I venture to think that, even with regard to the special Government hospitals in the mufassal, it will be extremely difficult to work this clause if it becomes a section in the Act to be passed ; because, apart from the question of hardship which it must entail upon the people who have been in the service without qualifications and who have probably been working for 20 or 25 years, who will suddenly find themselves thrown out of employment on the ground that they have no registrable qualifications according to the Bill which is to be passed. Apart from the question of hardship, the operation of this clause will cause inconvenience to the many institutions which are all of a mixed character and it will entail heavier expenditure. I know that there is nothing in the Bill to prevent a practitioner who wishes to practise homeopathy from coming on the register, but with regard to him, unless he has had a degree from an allopathic institution, he will have no chance at all. Therefore, in these circumstances, I sincerely hope and trust that the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill will see his way in not making this clause take retrospective effect, because the moment it comes into operation the present incumbents must go out unless they can satisfy the requirements of this clause."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Babu S. N. Banerji ; Colonel Harris ; Mr. Stephenson.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said:—

"My Lord, I confess I have not been able to follow the Hon'ble Dr. Harris in the observations he has made. He has told us that there would be no objection to put on the register homeopaths."

The Hon'ble COLONEL HARRIS said :—

"My Lord, I said homeopaths having registrable qualifications."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI, continuing, said :—

"My Lord, that makes all the difference in the world, that is to say, a man may be a fully qualified M.D. of a homeopathic university, but unless he has registrable qualifications mentioned here, which are all allopathic, his name would not be put on the register. The impression which the Hon'ble Dr. Harris's speech left on my mind is quite different. I thought that the measure was catholic and comprehensive, and that as soon as qualified men presented themselves before the Registrar and told the Registrar what their qualifications were, their names would be put on the register. As a matter of fact, no homeopath can be registered, no matter what his qualifications may be, unless he comes within the purview of the registrable qualifications which are mentioned in the schedule. That means practically the exclusion of such persons. You must look the facts straight in the face without any quibbling and without any attempt to look around. Here are gentlemen in Calcutta with distinguished homeopathic or Ayurvedic qualifications but without any allopathic distinctions. They have not the ghost of a chance of being put on the register, and they will therefore be excluded from performing certain duties to which reference was made by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill. In any case, if they are employed in any charitable hospital maintained by Government, they must go out, or the local board funds will not be paid. My Lord, there is this fact to be borne in mind that at the present moment Government recognizes Ayurvedic degrees. Under what rules and under what standard, guided by what test or code, does the Government confer the title of Baidyaratna ? There must be some standard." Therefore there is a standard, although Colonel Harris is not acquainted with it. Be that as it may, it is clear that if my friend's amendment is not accepted, there will be many institutions doing highly useful work and supported by local funds and partly by Government funds which will come to a standstill. The funds will be withdrawn and the men connected with them will have to cut off all connection with them. I hope that, in view of these considerations, the amendment will be accepted."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"My Lord, we are not introducing a new principle. The statutory rule at present under the Local Self-Government Act and the Municipal Act is that a local authority or managing committee vested with the control or administration of an institution under class 4, 5 or 6 shall be entitled to appoint their own medical officers, subject to the following condition :—

> that he be a duly qualified man, licensed or certified by a recognized medical school or college, and that his license or diploma is subject to the approval by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals.

There is nothing new in this clause ; we have had these regulations for years. I may say at once that there is no intention to interfere in any way with the Kabirajas or Hakims. There is no definition of them in the Act. I think that the Government can safely pledge that they do not propose to take any action with regard to the Kabirajas.

As regards Government hospitals and Municipal hospitals and Local Board hospitals, I think it is perfectly right that Government should lay down rules that officers in charge of them should be registered. The Council will understand what it means. It means that they are possessed of one of the many qualifications which the Government consider suitable to entitle a man to practise medicine. Government cannot go below their standard with regard to the mufassal institutions. The Hon'ble Mover has instanced the case of Belgachia. The point was raised that, if we gave any assistance to Belgachia, this clause would prevent any passed student of Belgachia from being employed in that hospital. To meet the case of possible individual hardship the Select Committee added the first words to the clause, but would urge that if Government gives considerable assistance to a hospital it is right to insist that the officers employed therein have qualifications up to a minimum standard. I would emphasize the fact that this clause is not a new one. It transfers the provision from statutory rules into this particular statute, thereby following the example of Madras, Bombay and England. In this form I do not think that there is anything inequitable or harsh in the clause, and I would maintain it."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Babu Mahendra Nath Ray; Sir William Duke.

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"My Lord, I am bound to say that, with regard to what the Hon'ble Member has just now told us, the matter does not seem to be quite so simple as that. Under the District Boards in this province, there are hospitals of various classes and the hospitals of classes of 3 and 4 employ, with the sanction no doubt of the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, persons who are qualified now according to the opinion of the present Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals but who no longer would be qualified as soon as this Bill is passed into law. For instance, in the district with which I am concerned, there is, I believe, more than one person who has obtained a diploma from an institution which is under private management—one of these is referred to by my friend the Hon'ble Dr. Sarkar—whom the Inspector-General who is present here considers qualified enough to hold the appointment of medical practitioners carrying a pay of Rs. 35—40. What will be their fate? Under the clause which is now proposed to be inserted, these people will have to go, and no persons holding the qualifications that these people held can be appointed, unless and until the schedule is so expanded as to include men of these qualifications, about which I have very little hope. No doubt the operations of this clause may be postponed to a date fixed by Government. If the clause comes into operation, not only these people but no persons holding similar qualifications can be appointed. The present rule is an elastic rule, and if the Inspector-General thinks that the diploma which the candidate holds is sufficient, there is no objection to his appointment. No such rule will any longer be in force as soon as this Bill is passed into law. That is my difficulty. I do not see how, unless, at any rate, it is proposed not to give any retrospective effect to this clause, this clause could avoid operating with prejudice to a large number of people who are already in employment. This clause, I know, is based upon a section of the Medical Act of 1858, but no similar difficulty was likely to occur in England in view of the special provision which was made long ago and to which my friend Dr. Nilratan Sarkar has referred. Unless you take into account these difficulties, it is not easy to see how one can approve of the clause, at any rate in its entirety, as it stands. It is a matter of considerable difficulty."

The Hon'ble SIR WILLIAM DUKE said :—

"My Lord, the clause is not one which introduces of its own force an entirely new principle. The qualifications which will, in future, be registrable have always been insisted on for public employment, and if exceptions have been made they can only have been very rare. This much, however, I am prepared to say on behalf of Government that the Act will be so applied as not to affect persons who are already in office at the time of its passing. As for future candidates for employment, Government will insist upon the registrable qualifications. It can hardly do less; it can hardly say that it will sanction persons being employed in institutions supported by public funds who have not the lowest qualifications which its machinery is able to manufacture. The Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray has said that at present the matter of employment rests with the Inspector-General, because he hitherto has had no rule to guide himself. In future, he will have a standard of rigid qualifications. What applies to public institutions applies in not quite the same way to the institution on behalf of which Dr. Sarkar was speaking. If the existing incumbents are not touched, I fancy that his objection will disappear. I take it that his intention is that the institution should become registrable and that his best students will have in future registrable qualifications. In view of the guarantee I give on behalf of the Government that it will not interfere with those who are already in employment, the objection will lose much of its force."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Dr. D. P. Sarbadhikari.

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"My Lord, we are very much obliged to the Hon'ble Sir William Duke for the assurance he has just given, which does away with a considerable portion of the objections that we have to certain aspects of this Bill. But there is. my Lord, a very complex case to which reference may be made; for example, the Bhagwan Das Hospital with which I am connected as a governor. It has two sides. The Kabiraj side must have its medical officer. If the clause goes out as it stands and if the Municipality or the Government even gives it a grant, what will happen is this; because the medical officer of the Kabiraji side of that hospital happens to be and must be a man without registrable qualifications. this hospital will fail in obtaining any aid that it may be entitled to obtain. That is a class of objection that will not be got over by the assurance given by the Hon'ble Sir William Duke."

confusion or disputes. We all know what we mean by Calcutta as opposed to the mufassal area, but it is not easy to obtain a handy definition. The one in the Calcutta Municipal Act is some two pages long and omits some important areas in the city. Most other Acts merely refer to the definition in the Calcutta Municipal Act. I think therefore that the simplest plan is to take power for Government to define the Calcutta area by rule."

The motion was put and agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT.

The Council was then adjourned to the next day, Friday, the 3rd April, 1914, at 11 A.M.

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson ; Dr. D. P. Sarbadhikari.

THE BENGAL MEDICAL BILL, 1914.

(THE DISCUSSION ON THE BENGAL MEDICAL BILL WAS RESUMED.)

The Schedule.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 79 :—The Hon'ble Mr. Stephenson moved that the words "or qualified to be registered" be inserted after the word "registered" in line 2 of Article 1 to the Schedule.

He said :—

"My Lord, this amendment is practically the same as the next two and it is necessary because in discussing the constitution of the Council the Select Committee thought that it was not necessary to insist upon people who have registrable degrees in England being actually registered there. It was felt that they need not be put to the expense of having their names registered, if they were not going to practice there, and that it was sufficient if their names were on the Register in Bengal."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The following motions were then, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

List of Amendments—Motion No. 80 :—The Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the words "qualified to be," be substituted for the words "for the time being" in line 1 of Article 1 to the Schedule.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 81 :—The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur to move that the words "qualified to be" be substituted for the words "for the time being" in line 1 of Article 1 to the Schedule.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 82 :—The Hon'ble Mr. Chakravarti to move that the words "qualified to be" be substituted for the words "for the time being" in line 1 of Article 1 to the Schedule.

List of Amendments—Motion No. 83 :—The Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that at the end of Article 2 to the Schedule the following be added, namely :—

"or of any other University that may hereafter be established in British India."

He said :—

"The Schedule of the Bill rightly provides for degrees of the existing Universities. Other Universities may soon come. Of course, my Lord, under Clause 18 it will be possible for the Council to move in the matter, and for the Local Government to add to the qualification. That procedure might be avoided if the words that I propose be adopted, in the case of Universities that may come hereafter, their degrees may be recognised without any difficulty."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"I don't think it is necessary on our part to legislate in this way for the future. We have made ample provision in the Bill for contingencies like that and, if need be, the Schedule can be altered in the future to apply to bodies that may come into being. The Schedule contains a list of registrable qualifications at the time in force. I think we should stick to that and not complicate the registrable qualifications by legislating for the future."

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"I am afraid that principle cannot be accepted in its entirety. In the course of some other amendments we would be asking that schools, which might be recognised hereafter, should also have rights like those already in existence. Therefore I think such a provision is necessary."

The motion was then put and lost.

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Dr. Nilratan Sarkar.

The following motions were then, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

List of Amendments—Motion No. 84.—The Hon'ble Mr. Chakravarti to move that at the end of Article 2 to the Schedule the following be added, namely :—

"or of any other University that may hereafter be established in British India."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 85.—The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur to move that at the end of Article 2 to the Schedule the following be added, namely :—

"or of any other University that may hereafter be established in British India."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 86.—The Hon'ble Dr. Nilratan Sarkar moved that the following be added after Article 3 to the Schedule, namely :—

"4. Every person, trained in an existing Medical College or School in India not maintained by the Local Government, who has received such training in Medicine, Surgery and Midwifery as would qualify him, in the opinion of the Council, to be registered under this Act."

He said :—

"My Lord, I seek this concession in favour of the passed students of our schools. Some of these schools have been in existence, under the ægis of the Government, for the last 25 years and have trained a very deserving class of men who are holding their own in the field of medical practice. In the case of the Belgachia Institution they had to go through a regular course of school and hospital training for at least four years and then pass an examination so stiff that out of several hundred candidates who presented themselves during the first 26 years only about 280 passed. Many of these students are now holding responsible posts in our hospitals and schools as well as in dispensaries and business concerns in the mufassal. I submit that if the former students of the Government Medical Schools as well as of the military class of the Calcutta Medical College could be admitted to registration, there is no reason why our passed students should be denied the privilege. It would be said against us perhaps that the equipment of our school is not so good as that in the Government schools. I admit this so far as the present is concerned. But I claim that our equipment, imperfect as it is now and capable of vast improvement, is not worse than what prevailed in some of the best Government schools 15 or even ten years ago. And yet students who passed out of Government schools long before that period are going to be admitted I may be permitted to point out how imperfect the teaching was in some of these institutions in those days ; all important subjects like pathology and physiology, which are the basis of the healing art, were not taught in some of the Government schools. There was no separate chair of chemistry in most of them. Until quite recently as many as three subjects were taught by one teacher in a Government school outside Calcutta—an arrangement which must necessarily detract from the soundness of teaching. Is our school worse equipped than that school or the recently started school at Gauhati where the equipment might still be called elementary ? Therefore it would be bare justice to place the qualifications of our students on an equal footing with those of the passed students of some Government schools, because our students had to obtain their certificates after about four years of school and hospital training and after passing through a crucial, written, oral, and practical examination in each subject.

I may be permitted to observe that my proposal is a very moderate one, for the admission of such candidates to registration will depend entirely upon the opinion of the Council. Let the Council form such opinion after careful inspection of our schools along with Government schools and then if they find that our students are at least as deserving as some of those coming out of Government schools there can be no reason for rejecting them.

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Dr. Nilratan Sarkar.

When the Medical Act of 1858 was passed, the privilege of registration was granted to some one of the passed students of 22 corporate bodies of all shades and grades of efficiency, the nature of which I beg leave to indicate by some quotation from Parliamentary papers :—The Right Hon'ble Mr. Cowper said in the House of Commons 13th May 1857 : 'The qualifications required were as various as was the area over which those qualifications could be exercised. The College of Physicians and the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge adopted a high standard of qualifications. There were other bodies who took quite a different view of the subject. For instance, the College of St. Andrew in former times had taken a mercantile view of the matter, and not having facilities for personal examination, used to forward their degree by return of post, on receipt of a fee of £ 25, or whatever sum might be agreed upon. This practice had been long discontinued, but it showed the latitude that existed.

'In the whole there were 16 bodies in the United Kingdom, the diplomas of which entitled holders by law or usage to practise, and many incompetent persons received licenses. For the practice of surgery no qualification is required by law, and a man could call himself surgeon without knowing any graver operation then carving a fowl.'

Lord Elcho said in the House of Commons, July 1, 1857 :—

'The fact was that no practical examination in Surgery was required at the College of Surgeons, although cases of hernia, fractures, and cases of that kind which required experience, were the class of cases which generally came before surgeons. What, he asked, were these medical corporations ? Why they were merely medical mediæval guilds, like those of the grocers, shoe-makers, and other municipal institutions, dating from the same time ? '

Then again practitioners who obtained the degree of Doctor of Medicine before the 1st of October, 1855, from the Archbishop of Canterbery, certainly not a very high authority in Medicine—were admitted. Among other practitioners persons who on or before the 1st of October, 1858, were acting as surgeons in the public service, or in the service of any charitable institution, were held entitled to be registered on the production of evidence satisfactory to the Branch Council to which application might be made that there was sufficient ground for directing such registration being made. Those belonging to this class were admitted irrespective of any academic qualification or the want of it. In fact the Earl of Carnarvon said in the House of Lords on the 20th of July, 1858 : 'The Bill was not a destructive Bill, because while it removed existing anomalies and evils, it kept alive the 22 Lord Corporate Bodies that now existed in this century.' I do not blame such inclusions, which were required by the circumstances that then prevailed in Great Britain. 'As things then stood,' said the Right Hon'ble Mr. Cowper, 'there were to be found among licensed practitioners men who were incompetent in teaching skill and deficient in intelligence and in an ordinary English education. The reason alleged by the College of Surgeons by way of excusing the fact was that the demand for general practitioners was so great that, if a high standard of competency were fixed as necessary before they could obtain a license, the supply would not be equal to the demand, and the rural districts would be in want of the services of medical men.' (Hansard, May 3, 1857.)

In the light of what I have said, my submission is that Government should not ignore the significance of the circumstances now prevailing in this country.

Some amount of organization has already grown up in the medical profession here, and it is for your Lordship's Government to foster its growth and direct it to its proper destiny. The rejection of the first fruits of the labours of these organizations, which have been encouraged and helped by Government during the last 25 years, is sure to give a rude shock to such organizations and also to the unflinching trust which our people have always reposed in the Government. I hope and trust that your Lordship's Government will kindly extend a helping hand to the independent profession at this juncture."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Babu Mahendra Nath Ray.

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"My Lord, as another amendment which runs precisely in similar terms stands in my name, I beg to support the one moved by my friend, the Hon'ble Dr. Nilratan Sarkar. This amendment is at any rate a recognition of the existing state of things, and not a provision for the future. I say so in view of what the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has just told us, that the object of th Bill is not to make a provision for the future, but to recognize the existing state of things. Now with regard to the third article in the Schedule, a provision is made evidently in view of recognition of similar schools—schools like those referred to by my learned friend the Hon'ble Dr. Sarkar, and article 3 says that every person who has been trained in a medical school recognized by Government, but not maintained by Government, may come within the Schedule. It is perfectly reasonable to expect that Government would recognize by a notification in the manner contemplated in the 3rd article one or the other of the existing schools not maintained by Government, referred to by my learned friend. When that is done, persons who have been trained in such schools would come within the schedule. But we must take note of the fact that these institutions have not yet been recognized by the Government, although they have within the last several years turned out a very large number of those who are following the profession as detailed by my learned friend. The effect of not adding an article like that now proposed by my friend would be to exclude this very large number of persons from registration altogether. Even when these schools are recognized by Government by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette in the future, such a recognition would not have a retrospective effect, and it would be contended that before recognition the standard was not up to the mark, and therefore we cannot possibly register those people who were not trained in such schools before recognition. That is a perfectly reasonable view to take, and therefore the amendment proposes that though these institutions have not yet been recognized by the Government, if in the opinion of the Council these people have received instructions qualifying for registration. they should be registered. The amendment seems to be perfectly harmless from that point of view, and it seems to me recognizes a very large number of professional men who have got their training from these schools, recognizes them for the purpose of registration. When the Act of 1858 was passed in England, no doubt the schedule of the Act, which was a pretty long one, recognized institutions which had already power under the law to grant licenses to practise. In that respect I am afraid there can be no analogy, strictly speaking, between what was done in England under the English Act and what is proposed to be done by the proposed amendment. But this difference is not material, seeing that the condition and state of things in this country are so different. There, in the United Kingdom, were already in existence a very large number of Colleges of Physicians and Surgeons and Apothecary's Halls, in addition to the Universities which were recognized by Royal grant as competent to confer qualifying distinction. In this country we have in existence a number of very useful institutions not yet recognized by Government, but serving a very very useful purpose. Is it desirable that a body of men—a very large body of men—who had received training in those institutions should be hopelessly debarred for all future time to come from the right of getting their names registered? Of course it is very easy to say that the people who could not get their names registered would not suffer much. We have already adopted a number of clauses which show that the privilege of registration is a very high privilege, and I am not going to elaborate on this point. An unregistered person may continue to carry on his profession, but he must do so under a very considerable disadvantage. Is it right that people who are not subjected to any disadvantages now should be subjected to disadvantages in the future for no fault of their own? Of course it is not for me to compare the amount of education and training of a student brought up by a training in these schools. My friend, the doctor, is quite competent to speak on the matter. But there is, my Lord, ample safeguards provided by the amendment itself. If the Council consider that the training that these students have received is not ample and sufficient to qualify for registration, then there is an end of the matter. I hope, my Lord, therefore that this amendment. which is a very useful one and which is from the Government point of view quite harmless, will be accepted by the Council."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson.

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"The amendment proposed is that every person trained in an existing Medical College or School in India not maintained by the Local Government who has received such training in me licine, surgery, and midwifery as would qualify him, in the opinion of the Council. to be registered under this Act, should be eligible.

"The Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray has already disposed of any arguments from the analogy of the British Act. I therefore need not discuss the Hon'ble Dr. Nilratan Sarkar's argument on that head. I entirely agree with the Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray that there is no analogy, and no argument can be based on it at all. We are asked for this concession, and the main ground brought forward for this and the subsequent amendments is that there are in existence certain institutions which serve a useful purpose, and have passed out a considerable number of students who are now holding appointments in mufussal dispensaries. As regards that, I may mention with reference to the amendment we had yesterday, that I have been informed since yesterday that there not is one single medical officer in Government or district board, or municipal dispensaries who has not come from a recognized school. The object of the amendment is to get these passed students on to the register. In the first place, I wish to avoid the very thorny subject of comparisons. I do not propose to undertake the invidious task of criticising any of these existing institutions, but I think it is fair to say that the register is a register of qualified medical practitioners. It is not sufficient therefore to say that other institutions are useful and turning out students who are doing work of the kind which is useful in Bengal. In order to establish a claim for them to go on to the register it must be proved, not only that they are useful, but that they are the compeers of the men who will come on the register. Though they are doing useful work, if they are not of the same standard as those who will come on the register they have no real claim.

"Taking the wording of the amendment, it leaves it to the opinion of the Council to say whether an individual has received such training in medicine, surgery, or midwifery as would qualify him to be registered under the Act. There is no standard set out in the amendment. I take it the standard meant is the standard of other qualifications which are included in the schedule, therefore the Council, before they can do anything under this amendment, must be satisfied that this individual has received a training which is comparable to the training received by the possessors of the qualifications mentioned in the schedule. Well, at the outset I think I can say that had Government considered that any of these schools give such a training as is comparable with, and equivalent to, the training required by the qualifications mentioned in the schedule, that school or those schools would have been mentioned in the schedule. The Council cannot trace back the history of an individual's training. They cannot go backwards and see what actual training he has had during his four or five years' course. They can only accept the actual training given to all those who have been educated in the same institution, that is to say, the training given by the institution, and not the training given to the individual. Therefore the Council will have to be satisfied in the case of the institutions from which these individuals come—in the wording of clause 18, that the title granted by any University, Medical Corporation, examining body, or other institution is a sufficient guarantee that persons possessing such title or qualification possess the knowledge and skill requisite for the efficient practice of medicine, surgery, and midwifery.

"Again, I say that had Government been convinced that this was a fact, these institutions would have been included in the schedule. If the Council in future is convinced that this is a fact, they will be included in the

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Mr. Stephenson.

schedule. But until the Council is convinced that the training is sufficient in any given institution, I cannot agree to bring them directly on to the register. The amendment, I take it, is really for the benefit of individuals, and it is not directly claimed that all those who are trained in the school shall be recognized, that is provided for under clause 18. This provides for the inclusion of every person trained. The scope of the Bill is not to test individuals. We set up a register of persons possessing qualifications, and we include in the schedule all those qualifications which Government at the present moment consider are a sufficient guarantee of the possession of a skill which is safe for the public. The basis of the registration is not personal—it is the qualifications. The Council will have no right to exclude persons holding these qualifications from the register on the ground that they do not think that after all, though he has got qualifications, he is really skilful; in the same way they have no right to include in the schedule a person who has not got these qualifications, on the ground that they think that nevertheless he is a good doctor. They can register only qualified men. Qualifications are based upon training. In the medical profession, perhaps more than in any other profession, examinations are not sufficient. A student must go through a long and careful course of hospital work, as well as the theoretical training, and it is on combining these two together that his skill and efficiency to practise hereafter must depend. It is not merely book learning. Book learning by itself might enable him to pass examinations, but it is not a sufficient guarantee that he is a good and careful doctor. We must know that he has had a long training, a clinical training, and that the institution where he has had this training is fully and sufficiently equipped with a hospital, with class-rooms, and equipment generally to give him the necessary training. No amount of book learning can adequately make up for inefficiency of training. The Council, therefore, is not in a position to judge of these individuals. It would not be fair to set them up as a judge of an individual's skill, and it would be going contrary to the whole principle of the Bill, if we were to try to inflict this duty upon them. Further, I maintain that it would be wrong to place an individual on the register who has not got a qualification which can be pointed to. To do this would be to lower the register. It would inflict an injury upon every medical man whose name is on that register. The register is a register of certain fixed qualifications. If you include any in it who have not got those qualifications you would give opportunities to the enemy to blaspheme. You would make the other provinces say, 'this register in Bengal is worth nothing.' It is based on no sound principle. At the same time I recognise that there will be hardship to individuals. There are undoubtedly cases where there will be hardship if individuals are not allowed to come on the register. Such cases of hardship must arise in every act of legislature of this nature. Whenever you start a new system, there must be some hard cases. But the proper way to meet these hard cases is not by lowering the register by putting on the register people who are not entitled under the Bill to come on to it, who have not got the qualifications which the register is supposed to be the hall mark of, but to give facilities, as far as can be done, to those individuals to obtain a registrable degree, and to come on the register by virtue of their own merits, and not merely by grace of concession. This is the way that Government will endeavour to meet these individual cases of hardship. There are proposals before Government that as soon as the Bill is passed a State-examining body shall be set up which shall grant licenses which it is expected the Medical Registration Council will recognize. In drawing up the rules of that examining body, Government will make every endeavour to provide for those cases of individual hardship, and give these individuals an opportunity of obtaining the qualifications to be given by this State body, and thereby come on to the register as of right. I think that is the proper way of dealing with the hardship, and I think that it will place individuals in a very much stronger and better position than if they were passed through by mere grace of concession. I, therefore, oppose this and all the other amendments, but can say that Government will, as far as in them lies, do their best to provide a way for these individuals to obtain a registrable qualification of their own."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Babu S. N. Banerji; Mr. Stephenson.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said :—

"The gist of the argument of my hon'ble friend, who has just spoken, seems to be that if these amendments were accepted there would be a lowering of the standard. I venture to submit that in any case there would be a lowering of the standard, whether you accept this amendment or not. Take a concrete case, because the best thing in an argument like this is to deal with an abstract proposition by the test of concrete examples. A Campbell Medical School student who has graduated say 25 years back will be entitled, as a matter of right, to have his name entered on the register. The newest member of the Indian Medical Service, who comes out with flying colours, with all the academic distinctions that he has gained in England, will also be entitled to have his name entered in the register. Therefore, side by side on the same register we have this antiquated graduate of the Campbell Medical School, whose knowledge is not up to date, and a distinguished alumnus of an English university. Is that fair? Is not that lowering the standard? I put that question to my hon'ble friend opposite. Under the Bill as it has been passed, or will be passed by the Council, there is that inevitable lowering of the standard which you cannot help. Therefore, why do you raise a difficulty in this case? That is the first point which I take. The Bill, such as it is, necessarily involves the inclusion in the register of persons whose qualifications vary in many ways, from the best men to the men who are the very reverse of being the best. Then, my Lord, my friend has often referred to the English Act. My friend to my left has pointed out that in this matter the English practice is different. It was bound to be different, for the reason that in England most of these institutions were chartered : most of them had received Royal charters, and had been recognized. In our case that is not so; but I claim that when we cannot follow the English Act in its details, we ought, as far as practicable, to adopt the principles of the English Act. That principle has been laid before the Council in a very luminous way by my friend the Hon'ble Dr. Sarkar. That principle, stated in brief is this—inclusion, not exclusion, comprehension, not destruction. From the backward graduate of St. Andrews, who could not perhaps perform a simple operation, to the graduate of the College of Surgeons and Physicians, all were admitted, when the Act was first passed, on the register. Therefore the English Act adopted the principle of including in the register persons of very divergent qualifications, and which prevail there I venture to submit that we should do the same thing. My friend has held out a sop to us that there will be no difficulties at all so far as individuals are concerned, because there will be an examination, and if there are difficulties, then those difficulties could be avoided by the test of an examination which might be held afterwards. I want to put this question seriously to the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill. Take the case of a man say of 50 years of age, tottering on the verge of the grave—does my hon'ble friend really expect that he will come forward and submit to the test of an examination? It may be possible in England, under those favourable climatic conditions which prevail there ; but it is absolutely hopeless here."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"May I ask my hon'ble friend to let me know from which of the unrecognized schools this dodderer of 50 years comes? The oldest of the unrecognized schools was started in 1887."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI, continuing, said :—

"I quite accept that fact. I will meet my friend on his own ground. Of the recognized schools, the oldest would be in 1887. The oldest student in that school would have been a graduate in 1890. This is the year of grace 1914, which means he has passed out of that school 24 years. Well he must have been about 24 or 25 years of age, when he passed out of it, and now he will be about 50. Was I very wrong when I said that a man of 50. tottering on the verge of the grave, would have to pass an examination under the circumstances that were required? I think my hon'ble friend's argument will not stand the test of scrutiny. The comfort, the consolation that he held out before us will not appease public feeling in this matter. I think, my Lord, in this matter we ought to follow the principle of the English Act. viz., that we should include as far as practicable students of the institutions which are now doing such admirable work. My Lord, we have often heard that the Government are anxious to encourage private enterprise in the matter of medical education. The acceptance of this amendment will be a substantial proof on the part of Government of their anxiety to encourage private enterprise in medical education. Then, my Lord, I put this question to my hon'ble friend. Is it not a matter of justice, fair, common justice, that the students of these institutions, of institutions like the Belgachia School, should be placed on the register when students of antiquated schools like the old Campbell Medical Hospital will necessarily find their way on to that register. A graduate of the Belgachia School coming out this year, in point of medical education, will be at least on a par with the graduate of the Campbell Medical School who passed out, say, 30 years back. The latter will get into the register without a word of protest by virtue of his right. Is it right and proper that the up-to-date graduate of the Belgachia School should be excluded for no other reason than because he has not got marked on his brow the impress of a Government institution? I think, my Lord, this is not fair. I put the case upon the high ground of justice, apart from all considerations of policy and expediency, all considerations of that kind. I put the case upon this ground. Is it fair to exclude the graduate of the Belgachia School who, in point of medical education, is fully equal to the obsolete graduate of the Campbell Medical School who passed out 30 years ago, and is it fair to exclude the graduate of the Belgachia College and include a graduate of the Campbell Medical School? I speak to this assembly of English gentlemen, and I ask them to say whether this is fair; and if it is not, I am entitled to a vote in favour of these amendments.

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Dr. Nilratan Sarkar.

My Lord, I do not know that I should be justified in detaining the Council much longer, but there is one point to which I desire to refer. The fact cannot be disguised that this Bill has created a considerable amount of agitation, controversy, and uneasiness in the public mind. If you want this law to be administered smoothly, properly and efficiently, the co-operation of the public is indispensable. This amendment is a crucial matter. Let me say this with all the emphasis I can command. We have many amendments; they have been set aside, but I will say this without fear of contradiction, without fear of challenge, that this amendment which my hon'ble friend has moved, is a crucial amendment, and the Bill will be judged by it. If you reject this amendment, I am perfectly certain that that the feeling of the Indian community will be arrayed against this measure, and I ask from the point of view of administrative expediency whether it is wise, whether it is expedient to launch a Bill, which has arrayed against it the sentiment, the voice of the entire community? It is unfair to the candidates who are not the students of Government colleges, and I say their exclusion would alienate the sympathies of the educated community, and that would interfere with the smooth and efficient working of the Act. For all these reasons I hope and trust that my hon'ble friend and the Government will reconsider their attitude, accept these amendments, make it possible for this Bill to be launched into operation under conditions which will ensure it success. It is a new experiment you are trying, and you want the help, and the co-operation of the people. You will not get it unless you accept this amendment."

The Hon'ble DR. NILRATAN SARKAR said :—

"My Lord, we have reason to be grateful to the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill for even the very small concession which he is prepared to make. but justice demands that if an examination is to be held for our students before admitting them to registration, should also the same test be applied to the former students of Government schools? The only common standard I find in these schools, at least so far as Article 3 of the schedule is concerned, is that all of them are conducted by Government. There is no fixed standard, no uniform standard. The Hon'ble Member in charge has repeatedly asked for a standard in the amendments that I moved. I confess that there is no high standard in our schools, but the British Act had to be satisfied with something like the same state of things in connection with this matter when they admitted many persons, who, before the 1st October, were acting as surgeons in the public service, or were in the service of charitable institutions. These men were held entitled to be registered on the production of evidence, satisfactory to the branch of the Council to which application had to be made, that there was sufficient ground for directing such registration to be made. Thus no definite standard was fixed. All that was said was that if, in the opinion of the Council, certain officers were found eligible, they would be registered. Now, my amendment also proposes that, and nothing more than that. In a matter like that, something must be left to depend upon the opinion of the Council, and that is what we seek, and nothing more than that. Now, we have no objection to the test of a further examination being applied to the case of our students, but with what grace could the Government apply that test to our students when they are going to admit wholesale all their students who passed out 30 years ago, and who passed out 20 years ago,—who passed out at a time when there was practically no standard in many of the Government schools and when the preliminary standard was much lower than what it is to-day even in our schools? This is my difficulty: I do not understand this. I hope that the Government will kindly reconsider the situation. The units are there, my Lord; they are quite prepared to co-operate with the Government. It is only for the Government to make a small concession to institutions which are striving after progress and nothing else; and which are trying to co-operate with the Government in this matter. There are, as I said, over 56,000 people who make a living out of the healing art, and only a few thousands in all can claim to possess any Government qualifications. There is a necessity for the supply of another 53,000, and in this matter the resources of Government are not very large. The Government will have to depend upon public co-operation,—upon the co-operation of the independent practitioners. They are quite prepared to co-operate with the Government in this matter, but their labours must be recognized, and the first fruits of their labours should not be rejected in this summary way. This all I have to say."

The following motion was then, by leave of the President withdrawn :—

List of Amendments—Motion No. 87.—The Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray to move that the following be added after Article 3 to the Schedule, namely :—

"4. Every person, trained in an existing Medical College or School in India not maintained by the Local Government, who has received such training in Medicine, Surgery and Midwifery as would qualify him, in the opinion of the Council, to be registered under this Act."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 88.—The Hon'ble Mr. Chakravarti moved that the following be added after Article 3 to the Schedule, namely :—

"4. Every person who has been trained in an existing Medical College or School in India not maintained by the Local Government, but capable, in the opinion of the Council, of imparting such training in Medicine, Surgery and Midwifery as would qualify such person to be registered under this Act."

He said :—

"My Lord, it seems to me that there is a considerable amount of misapprehension on the part of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill. His grievance is that the standard will be lowered. The question is not that there is a desire on our part to lower the standard below the minimum which is accepted for the purpose of registration, because it is idle to say that everyone who is going to be included in the register has got the same qualification. It is not so. I presume that my hon'ble friend, the head of the Medical Department, has a very high degree. I cannot conceive that a young student who has passed out of the Medical College and if my friend had been a professor there, he would have received his training under him—that he would be just as qualified as the head of the Medical Department after something like 30 years' experience. Therefore it is idle to suggest that the qualification of every man whose name will be on the register will be the same. All that you can provide is that there must be a minimum qualification. With regard to what the minimum qualification should be—I do not know anything about medicine—I generally try to avoid a doctor, if I can—I understand from those competent to express an opinion that if a man is sufficiently educated in medicine, midwifery and surgery and had a practical training afforded by the institution, and not a man who has not studied anatomy, physiology and who has not done microscopic work which is so very essential in medical education—that he should come on the register. What I do complain against is the taking of the high and mighty attitude with regard to the hall-mark of registration and that it would be lowering the qualifications of the persons entitled to be registered, if you include any students educated in any of the private institutions. I protest against it. By all means, either by inspection or examination, insist upon a proper training by them so far as the lectures are concerned and also with regard to the practical work. If they are not fit to be recognized, insist upon that being done. Unless the object is to exclude every institution which has not the good fortune of Government assistance and which is to be therefore tabooed. I don't see why if in regard to Belgachia institution as being considered as an institution affording a fair amount of education in medicine, midwifery and surgery which will qualify a particular student so trained to be registered that it should be excluded simply because it happens to be an institution which is conducted not under Government auspices and which is not maintained by Government funds. That exactly is one of the grievances felt by the people. You don't co-operate with regard to matters of public importance. We want doctors. I will appeal to the head of the Medical Department to say, if it is not a well known fact with regard to the admission to the Medical College, that there are applications from 500 students when you have room only for 125 students? We want doctors, great ones, but not as expensive as the Head of the Department. I know what his fees are; the villagers cannot afford that fee; we want some sort of medical relief and help. Some 10 or 12 years ago two or three private institutions came into existence. From all accounts and reports we understand that they are doing excellent work, and when the occasion arises all that we suggest is that they should be left to the discretion of the Council to be recognised or not. Surely when we ask that the Council should in its discretion recognize the institution according as the Council finds as to whether the qualification of the candidate is up to the standard which, according to the opinion of the Council, should secure them the right to be registered, then what is the harm? Why should there be any difficulty? But the suggestion is that we will get rid of that hardship by having a Board of Examiners who will examine them. But why should a man who has been already examined, unless you condemn that the whole training is a farce and is worth nothing, be again examined by the Board? The suggestion that is made with regard to the Belgachia institution that the training given there is a farce is quite untrue.

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur.

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"The motion which stands in my name is exactly the same as moved by my friend, the Hon'ble Mr. Chakravarti. My Lord, after a long discussion on the Bill what I have gathered is that the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill is not prepared to accept anything that militates against the principles laid down in the Bill. The principle of the Bill, as far as I have been able to gather from the discussion of yesterday and to-day, is to set up a register. In this schedule there are given certain institutions and universities which are recognized by the Government and also those which may be recognized by Government hereafter. To this schedule it is intended to make this further addition, namely, that every person who had been trained in an existing medical school in India, not maintained by the Local Government, but in the opinion of the Council capable of imparting such a training in medicine, surgery and midwifery as would qualify such a person to be recognized under this Act. Such persons will be deemed to have registrable qualification. My Lord, here in this case, the school must, in the opinion of the Council, be deemed to be capable of imparting such a qualification. The school must be first of all approved by the Council as a suitable institution which is capable of imparting such a training, and, if a person trained in that school comes with a credential from the institution, it will be entitling him to be registered. I don't think there is any objection to the inclusion of the amendment or rather to the addition which is suggested in this amendment. I only hope that, having regard to the strong feeling created by the apprehended exclusion of some of the institutions which have been working in a spirit of co-operation, although independently, with the Government this amendment will be accepted. The Council will have ample opportunity and power to judge of the capacity of the institution to grant such a degree or diploma to the alumni of the school. If the Council approved of the capacity of the institution, then the students of such an institution will have a right to register their names, and not otherwise. There are ample safeguards, and I say again that I hope, having regard to the public feelings aroused in the matter, this Council will accept the amendment."

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Dr. D. P. Sarbadhikari; Babu S. N. Banerji.

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"My Lord, as has been pointed out, the amendment of the Hon'ble Mr. Chakravarti and those of the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur and myself occupy a somewhat different position from that moved by the Hon'ble Dr. Nilratan Sircar. I quite see the difficulty of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, who is unable to trace the academic history, if it can be called, of the students trained in different unauthorized schools. For that reason and fully appreciating that difficulty, we thought that an amendment of the kind that we have given notice of, might be more acceptable to the Government. My Lord, it is no secret that there is one institution at all events, the Belgachia institution, which is not recognized by Government officially, but is recognized enough to entitle it to help and support. Negotiations that would see fruition of the full measure of that help and support are pending and are soon expected to be completed. An institution constituted like that, which has done useful and admirable work, as the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has put it—work I must say now in no way inferior to the standard observed in the Government recognized schools,—it is a matter for regret that a school like that should be left out of consideration. We therefore say that, if the Council is satisfied that the school is worthy of recognition, the law should be so framed as to include the students passed out of that institution in former years. I feel, my Lord, that there is a difficulty in the way of the Council exercising the function in the way we contemplate in the amendment. Whether the examining body, which is announced by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, will be one entirely free from objection or not is what we cannot say without knowing more about it. That will depend upon the details of the scheme. Probably Government will frame rules that will make away with the objections. Where, however, is the objection to the Government themselves granting recognition to any non-Government school in the same way as it would have to grant recognition to their new schools? If a new school is to be started in Hooghly or Burdwan, the Government will have to exercise the recognizing power, as they have done in the case of schools at Gauhati, Cuttack and Dacca. We invite the Government to recognize the Belgachia School and when they have done that, there should be no objection at all to their old students also being recognised. That is the way we are trying to put the amendment before the Council and to point out that a very deserving body of practitioners and students are left out of the scope of the Bill. In order to get rid of that difficulty we are moving this specially reasonable amendment, which I hope will meet with the approval of the Government."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said :—

"My Lord, I am sure that the Government must strongly sympathize with the efforts made by my friend Dr. Nilratan Sircar and the admirable Board of Directors, who are associated with the Belgachia School. I am perfectly certain that it is an institution which commands the sympathy of the Government, and I hope that the day will come when that sympathy will be shown in some practical form. But there are medical schools, and Government cannot recognize all of them. We recognise that fact, but I think that difficulty can be got over by the terms of the amendment, because the matter is left to the opinion of the Council. Whether the students of any particular institution are to be enrolled or not will depend upon the discretion of the Council. That I think ought to satisfy the Council. The discretion is given to the Council, the trustees of the Government, in which there is an official majority. That being so, this amendment ought to be accepted by the Government.

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan; Mr. Norman McLeod; Sir William Duke.

We know very well the sympathy of the Government for the Belgachia School. I beg that this sympathy may be shown by the acceptance of this amendment."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said :—

"My Lord, the principal reason that we are pressing this amendment is that an institution like the Belgachia institution will be left out if the Bill, as it stands, is passed. I understand that the Government have sympathy towards this institution. I therefore think that some kind of provision which will enable this institution to come within the operation of this Bill should be put in. Perhaps if, after the words 'in the opinion of the Council' in my friend Dr. Sarkar's amendment some such words as 'and with the sanction of the Government,' might be added which or some such points raised by my friend Dr. Nilratan Sircar, would meet with the approval of the Government. I think that such an amendment might be put forward by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill and accepted by all of us. I do not know the position of the Government, but I cannot help expressing my sympathy towards the Belgachia institution, regarding which the Hon'ble Dr. Nilratan Sircar has made out a strong case."

The Hon'ble MR. NORMAN McLEOD said :—

"My Lord, I have not any very great experience as to medical schools, but I can at any rate pretend to acquire the experience of most of the members who have spoken. I have every sympathy with schools such as that presided over by the Hon'ble Dr. Nilratan Sircar, and I think every endeavour should be made to recognize good schools, though I deprecate the inclusion of medical factories or their graduates. I cannot agree with the dictum laid down by my friend, the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Banerji, that a man at 50 is looking to the grave; otherwise we would have lost long ago his valuable services (laughter). If a man of 50, with 25 years' experience, cannot pass the standard of the Campbell Medical School, then he is not worthy of being a doctor. If, however, he wants to be registered and is keen on his profession, he can find means of so doing, but, in any case, it is to be hoped that those schools, one of which I have already mentioned, should take steps to attain the standard necessary for imparting knowledge and thus avoid any question of difficulty in the way of registration of their graduates."

The Hon'ble SIR WILLIAM DUKE said :—

"We have reason to be grateful to the Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari and the Members who followed him for having cleared the air by showing exactly what they have in mind. We might have gone on for a long time with intellectual gymnastics without ever being able to draw a line regarding which we should be sure as to who were inside and who were outside it. The sort of argument that in fairness all should be treated alike leads to nothing, because you cannot have equality given to everybody who makes a pretence of medical practice. My Lord, we cannot but take a reasonably high standard, although our principle is a principle of inclusion and not of exclusion. I do not suppose anyone can mean that he wants to include everybody who, with or without justification, practices medicine. What we want to do is to include those who have some kind of training considered sufficient to qualify them for practising, and not persons who have no such pretension at all. But the amendment goes further, and I am afraid that Government cannot accept it in its present form as it throws on the Medical Council a duty which cannot properly be thrown on any body of persons trained to scientific standards. The school which most of the Hon'ble Members spoke of as doing honest work and turning out students capable of practising medicine, etc., is the Belgachia School. As advised, Government have not yet been able to recognize that school. If they had been able to recognize it the school would have already found a place in the schedule. We hope it will be possible in future to recognize this and other similar schools under clause 18 of the Bill. Once they are recognized, there is, of course, no further difficulty. But so far as Government are concerned, we are not prepared to admit that that school or any private school in Bengal has hitherto been fit for recognition. What the amendment practically wants the Medical Council to do is to register, as an act of grace, all previous students who had passed out before the school is recognized as fit to give the necessary instruction. That is not a logical position to take for a body of professional men. You cannot expect them to say that because the school has become fit to pass out students in the year 1915 therefore we are prepared to register the pupils who passed out of it in 1905. That is a thing we should not ask for. In such matters a Council of scientific persons must be governed by logic and by law, but it is open to Government to try to arrange compromises which may meet difficult cases. The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has pointed out that under clause 18 of the Bill the Council may accept the certificate of a medical corporation or examining body as to the qualifications of a candidate for registration. Now it is the intention of Government to appoint a Government Medical Faculty which will examine the pupils of Government and other medical schools recognized as having attained the required standard and will grant them a license which the Council will no doubt be able to accept We fully recognize that this Bill should be on the side of inclusion, and Government will be prepared to meet the cases of passed students who have had a reasonable degree of training by giving them an opportunity of appearing at the examinations of the Medical Faculty for a certain period after the commencement of the Act. That is to say, an opportunity which will last for one or two years or something of that sort. It will not last for ever: there is no reason why it should, but the opportunity will be given. I may say that practically there is no question in our minds but that we will be able to give such an opportunity to those men who have been passed probably at any time, and certainly during recent years, out of Belgachia. The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Banerji has argued that that is a poor concession to his moribund practitioner of 50. Well, as I have said, it is impossible to meet every case, but probably the man of 50 who has been practising here for the last 20 or 30 years will not be much affected by the question whether he can or cannot get on the register. He is not likely to find out before the second foot descends into the grave, whether any difference will be made to his practice by the absence of registration, but when it comes to practical politics, and when we have to deal with men who have passed out for the last 10 or 15 years, then the Government will consider their position as trained men; and if an opportunity is given to these men, to appear at examination for a license probably as much will be done in that respect as is practically possible. Well, as Government have not been able to accept this amendment or any amendment of the same kind, I hope it will be understood that the people who have really a fair case for it will be given that opportunity. If it is frankly admitted that they are unable to pass even the very lowest kind of examination which may be prescribed for a license, then I am afraid it is impossible for the Government or anybody else to help them; but when a man who claims to have received a degree of training which approximates to what is now thought to be necessary, is found able to pass the examination for a license, I think Government will accept as a matter of grace, though not of logic, that he is qualified for registration.

The Hon'ble MR. CHAKRAVARTI said:—

"I have listened with great attention to what has been said by the Hon'ble Sir William Duke, and although I cannot agree with the Hon'ble Member's remarks with regard to his idea of practical politics, I find that it will serve no useful purpose, especially after what little hope he has given us, to press this amendment. Therefore I withdraw it."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The Bengal Medical Bill.

The following motions were also, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

List of Amendments—Motion No. 89.—The Hon'ble Babu Upendra Lal Ray to move that the following be added after Article 3 to the Schedule, namely :—

"4. Every person who has been trained in an existing Medical College or School in India not maintained by the Local Government, but capable, in the opinion of the Council, of imparting such training in Medicine, Surgery and Midwifery as would qualify such person to be registered under this Act."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 90.—The Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari to move that the following be added after Article 3 to the Schedule, namely :—

"4. Every person who has been trained in an existing Medical College or School in India not maintained by the Local Government, but capable, in the opinion of the Council, of imparting such training in Medicine, Surgery and Midwifery as would qualify such person to be registered under this Act."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 91.—The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur to move that the following be added after Article 3 to the Schedule, namely :—

"4. Every person who has been trained in an existing Medical College or School in India not maintained by the Local Government, but capable, in the opinion of the Council, of imparting such training in Medicine, Surgery and Midwifery as would qualify such person to be registered under this Act."

List of Amendments—Motion No. 92.—The Hon'ble Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur moved that the following be added after Article 3 to the Schedule, namely :—

"4. Every person who—

(i) has been practising Medicine, Surgery or Midwifery as a profession for a period of at least five years prior to the commencement of this Act, or

(ii) has practised in any of the above subjects for a period of at least two years prior to such commencement, and has received from a Civil Surgeon or a Presidency Surgeon a certificate stating that he is, in the opinion of such Surgeon, sufficiently qualified to practise Medicine, Surgery and Midwifery, or

(iii) has commenced his professional studies in any Medical College or School (whether recognized by Government or not) before the commencement of this Act."

He said :—

"My Lord, I have come to the last of the amendments proposed by me. It is a very important one, and I beg to invite the earnest attention of the Hon'ble Members to it. It is a well-known principle of Legislative Policy that an Act should not have a retrospective effect. They say that every statute which takes away or impairs a vested right acquired under existing laws, or creates a new obligation, imposes a new duty or attaches a new disability in respect of transactions or considerations already passed, must be deemed retrospective in its operation and opposed to those principles of jurisprudence which have been universally recognized as sound. Although the provisions of this Act will be put in force after it receives the assent of His Excellency the Governor General, it will practically have a retrospective effect if my amendment is not accepted. A very large number of

The Bengal Medical Bill.

Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur.

medical practitioners without any hindrance or opposition from any quarter have been honestly and earnestly carrying on their profession as medical men for a long time and have no doubt done good service to the country. They are now suddenly told that their career is practically at an end. True it is that the present Bill does not prohibit them to practice, but it places a great hindrance on it. They may be allowed to exercise the healing art, but if a certificate is required for the purposes mentioned in the Bill and they grant one, it will not be looked at, nor received ; and the patient will be told to go to a registered medical practitioner to get a certificate from him, and the result will be that the poor man will be put to the extra expense of calling a more expensive man for the purpose of having a certificate only from him. It is well known that the people of this province are very averse to change. They do not like it at all. A man, living in the village, falls ill and calls his village doctor, because he has great faith in him, though he may not be a duly qualified man. He will not like to call one who is duly qualified even if he has the means to do so, but the generality of the people in the mufussal are not able to bear the heavy expense of being treated by a duly qualified doctor. May I beg to ask, is there a sufficient number of duly qualified men to be able to attend to the public at large of this vast province? The answer to the question, my Lord, must be in the negative. I have been told, but I have not been able to ascertain whether it is true or not, that there is only one qualified man in an area of 55 square miles. If that be so, how can he attend to all the sick people living within this area? In Bengal we have only three institutions which impart medical training to the students of this large province—the Medical College of Calcutta, the Campbell Medical School, and the Dacca School of Medicine. It is a well known fact that they are not able to meet the demand of the province, and if only men turned out by them are allowed to practise, the result will be disastrous, because in that case a large number of people will not have any medical assistance whatever. Thanks to our benign Government a large number of charitable dispensaries have been established in Bengal throughout the whole length and breadth of it, and it is a fact that an appreciable number of men who had served as compounders in these institutions have picked up a knowledge in the healing art and these men together with the medical students who have failed to pass their examinations from the above college or schools have now settled in many principal villages of this province to practise medicine, surgery and midwifery, and am glad to be able to say that many of them have acquired a good reputation and have gained the confidence of their patients. Will it be just and fair to put a restraint to their practice? Again, it should be remembered that owing to the paucity of seats in the Medical College and Schools mentioned above, a number of private institutions have sprung up, and they are trying their best to give a sound medical training to every boy who is able to go there. I may inform your Lordship that all these colleges are now crowded in all their classes, and that there are boys, though of very slender means, who have come from great distances in order to get a training in these institutions. These boys have spent from one to four precious years of their lives in these institutions in the hope of earning their bread by practising medicine, surgery, or midwifery after they are able to pass their examinations. May I ask whether it would be reasonable or just to tell these boys—'What a foolish act you have done ; you have come here for nothing ; the instruction you are getting here will be of no use to you, and, even if you pass your examination, you will not be classed among duly qualified men—go back to your home and attend to some other business.' I submit, my Lord, that it will be extremely cruel to deny these boys, after they pass their examination, the privilege of having their names entered in the Register of Practitioners to be kept under this Bill. My Lord, I may be pardoned in pointing out that in so far advanced a country as England an Act like the present one was sought to be introduced in the year 1858 only. Taking into consideration the difference between the two countries in respect of advancement and training, I submit that the time has not yet come to pass such an Act

The Bengal Medical Bill.

here, but as it must be passed, I humbly pray that the Hon'ble Members will kindly take into their consideration the facts mentioned by me and take proper precautions that its operation may not lead to hardship to the people. I submit, My Lord, that when an Act is passed which introduces new qualifications for a class of professional men, it is but just and proper that vested rights of that class should not be interfered with. I therefore hope that concessions may be granted to those who are now actually employed in carrying on the profession of a medical practitioner of five years' standing, and the rigidity of the law may be relaxed in favour of boys who have been prosecuting their studies in private institutions. Even in the English Act a provision was inserted in section 46 to the effect that it should be lawful for the General Council by its special orders to dispense with such provision of this Act, or with such part of any regulations made by its authority as to them shall seem fit, in favour of persons who are acting as Surgeons in the public service or in the service of any charitable institutions, and also so far as to the Council shall seem expedient, in favour of medical students who shall have commenced their professional studies before the passing of this Act. I hope, for the reasons mentioned above, my amendment will be accepted. With regard to practitioners who have been practising only for two years, I have laid down that they shall have to produce a certificate from a Civil or a Presidency Surgeon that in his opinion they have sufficient qualifications for practising in the subjects mentioned above."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said :—

"I think that this amendment is hopeless because, if accepted, it will make registrable every kind of quack practising before the passing of this Bill, and I hope, my friend, after having seen that the other amendments have been withdrawn, and after hearing the assurance given by the Hon'ble Sir William Duke, will deem it fit to withdraw his motion."

The Hon'ble RAI NALINAKSHA BASU BAHADUR said :—

"My amendments relate to persons who are actually affected by the passing of this Bill. I only ask for a concession in favour of these persons."

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"I will not trouble the Council with any detailed examination of the Hon'ble Member's speech. I had hopes that I had explained to him on other occasions on which the question arose, what the meaning of the certificate in that clause was. I think all that is necessary is for the Council to examine this particular amendment. The first portion is—every person who has been practising medicine, surgery or midwifery as a profession for a period of at least five years prior to the commencement of this Act—that lets in our old friend, the compounder-doctor. It takes in those pests of society who go round the country operating for cataract—it will let in anybody who chooses to maintain that he has been practising as a doctor for five years.

The second part transfers the right of certifying for medical qualifications from the Medical Council to the Civil Surgeon, which is not, I think, a thing which any Member of the Council will be ready to agree to.

The third lets in anybody on to the register, mind you, who has commenced his professional studies. I do not quite know what commencing professional studies might be, but it might even be taken to be putting your name down as a medical student. We know that in the case of many clubs names are put down as soon as a child is born, and it would be possible under these circumstances for an infant to be brought upon the register as a medical student, as according to the amendment he will not have to complete his professional studies, he has only to commence them, and thereupon comes upon the register. There is no examination, and all that a man has to do to be registrable is at most to attend one lecture in some school and call himself a medical student. My Lord, for these reasons I oppose this amendment."

Dr. Nilratan Sarkar; Mr. Stephenson.

The Hon'ble DR. NILRATAN SARKAR said :—

"My Lord, I think it my duty to dissociate myself altogether from this amendment. If it is carried, it will be only less injurious to my own profession than to another body, and that is to humanity at large."

The motion was then put and lost.

Clause 17.

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"My Lord, there still remain some amendments the consideration of which was postponed at yesterday's meeting. I would ask your Excellency kindly to have these put to the Council now. The first relates to clause 17, and in pursuance of what I said yesterday in connection with the suggested amendment of this clause, I now ask for Your Lordship's permission to move that for sub-clause (b) of clause 17, the following be substituted, namely :—

"whom the Council after due inquiry (at which an opportunity has been given to him to be heard in his defence and to appear either in person or by counsel, vakil, pleader or attorney, and which may, in the discretion of the President, be held in camera), have found guilty by a majority of two-thirds of the members present and voting at the meeting, of infamous conduct in any professional respect."

His Excellency the President having granted permission, the motion was put and agreed to. (This motion covered motions Nos. 24—30, which were postponed from the meeting of the previous day. These motions were thereupon held to be withdrawn.)

Clause 24.

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

Consequentially upon the acceptance of the amendment of clause 17, I beg to move that for clause 24 (a) (ii) the following be substituted, namely :—

"whom the Council, after due inquiry as provided in clause (b) of section 17, have found guilty by a majority of two-thirds of the members present and voting at the meeting, of infamous conduct in any professional respect."

The motion was put and agreed to. (This motion covered motions Nos. 44—50, which were postponed from the meeting of the previous day. These motions were thereupon held to be withdrawn.)

Clause 12.

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON said :—

"In consequence of the amendments which the Council have just accepted, we have now to go back to amendment No. 19. I beg to move that at the commencement of proviso (ii) to clause 12 (1) the following words be inserted: 'Save as provided in section 17 and section 24.' Clause 12 provides for a bare majority, and this amendment safeguards clauses 17 and 24 in that respect.

The Bengal Medical Bill; The Budget.

The President; Nawab Saiyid Nawab Aly Chaudhury, Khan Bahadur.

The motion was put and agreed to. Motion No. 19 was thereupon held to be withdrawn and the discussion of the amendments to the Bill was thereby concluded.

List of Business—Item No. 4.—The Hon'ble Mr. Stephenson then moved that the Secretary be directed to renumber the clauses and sub-clauses of the Bill in consecutive order, and to make corresponding alterations in all cross-references thereto.

The motion was put and agreed to.

List of Business—Item No. 5.—The Hon'ble Mr. Stephenson moved that the Bill, as settled in Council, be passed.

The motion was put and agreed to.

THE BENGAL BUDGET FOR 1914-15.

List of Business—Item No.—6.

The PRESIDENT said :—

"We will now proceed to the discussion on the Budget. As Hon'ble members are aware, I have fixed a time-limit of 15 minutes for speeches under rule 34 (3).

The Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID NAWAB ALY CHAUDHURY, KHAN BAHADUR, said :—

"My Lord, I must congratulate the Hon'ble the Finance Member for the prosperous Budget before us. During the last three years of our budget large sums have been contributed by Imperial assignments for specific purposes, but for which, some of the most urgent requirements of the Presidency would have starved. We cannot always count on the liberality of the Imperial Government. That our finance may keep pace with the growth of expenditure it is necessary that our settlement should be raised and we should therefore ear-mark the provincial surplus balance or apportion it on specific schemes and bring our closing balance in future to approximate the minimum opening balance.

Provincial Equipments.

My Lord, the financial allotments for provincial equipments make no mention of the details of the works, and I would urge that in future definite schemes should be framed and incorporated in the statement so that the Council may be in a position to scrutinize them.

Education.

My Lord, the provision made for payment in support of local schools under District Boards stands at Rs. 2,88,560 against Rs. 14,29,000, the decrease being due to the stoppage of the equilibrium grant on the surrender of the public works cess to the District Boards. It is not known why these grants should be stopped inasmuch as the non-payment of the grants to these bodies would cripple their resources and would defeat the very object for which the Imperial Government has made a recurring assignment of Rs. 24,93,000. In contributing this amount towards the provincial revenues the Government of India intended to set free the slender income of the District Boards from payment of the public works cess, and if again on this very account other grants that have hitherto been counted upon by these bodies as a source of their regular income be suspended, they would hardly be able to tide over their financial embarrassments. I would urge that the grants to the District Boards may continue as heretofore.

My Lord, I am compelled to revert to my last year's resolution suggesting the reservation of a substantial amount for the promotion of Muhammadan education which had the acceptance of Government and to say that in spite of our repeated endeavours nothing tangible has yet resulted.

The Budget.

Nawab Saiyid Nawab Aly Chaudhury, Khan Bahadur.

In replying on behalf of Government on my resolution last year, the then Director of Public Instruction, the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler, expressed himself as follows :—

'The first head—of recommendation of the Education Commission of 1882, namely, that the special encouragement of Muhammadan education be regarded as a legitimate charge on local, municipal and provincial funds—is of a general nature, and the adoption of the resolution by the Council will practically endorse the recommendation which was made by the Commission. Speaking of the Madrasah Reform Scheme, he said : 'This scheme, if carried into effect, will cost a very large sum of money indeed, and I think that there is no doubt it will be adopted by Government, and Government in adopting it, will show, as it has always shown, I maintain, its readiness to give every facility and every assistance to the cause of Muhammadan education.' . . . . . 'As I have already intimated that Government will offer no objection to the acceptance of this resolution on the part of the Council, it is not necessary for me to say more than that no apprehension need have been felt on the part of the Muhammadan community that their claims would be neglected.' Referring to the speech of Sir Harcourt Butler at Delhi, he said :—'I think this is an ample assurance, and the Muhammadan community need therefore feel no fear that their claims are likely to be neglected.' Then following on the heels of the Government of India Resolution No. 301 C D. of the 21st February, 1913, on the Indian Educational Policy, a circular was issued to all Local Governments on the 3rd May, 1913, on the subject of Muhammadan education and the directions in which it may be improved. The assurance of Mr. Küchler, coupled with the Government of India circular, came as a soothing balm to the anxious minds of the Musalmans.

My Lord, against all these positive assurances and pious hopes expressed the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell now in his speech of 5th March last records that—'with the exception of Rs. 2,00,000 which has been set aside for the acquisition of land in connection with the establishment of a Muhammadan Arts College in Calcutta and the organization of the Calcutta Madrasah and connected institutions, no sums have been ear-marked for specifically Muhammadan institutions.'

My Lord, in the face of all the promises most emphatically made by Government and the accepting of my resolution for ear-marking a substantial portion of the Imperial assignment, both recurring and non-recurring, for Muhammadan education, I am disappointed to find that all our hopes have been dashed to the ground after the statements of the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell. It is indeed a great pity that after all their assurance to look to the just demands of the Muhammadans, the Government now say point blank that they have allocated all the available funds that were placed at their disposal by the Government of India on educational purposes other than Muhammadan education.

My Lord, I am in duty bound to point out to Government in the most emphatic terms on behalf of my community, that this action on the part of Government is not only in contravention of the spirit of the Imperial Government orders as regards the disposition of their munificent grants, but is a departure from the avowed policy of Government in the furtherance of Muhammadan education.

To add to our disappointment, the Hon'ble Member protests against any suggestion that the Muhammadans are not getting their fair share in the general improvements which the Imperial grants are enabling the Government to effect, and sums up by saying that Muhammadan boys are seeking admission to secondary schools and colleges in ever-increasing numbers, while there are parts of the Presidency in which Muhammadan boys form the majority of those at school. I have already pointed out that during the years 1899 to 1909 Government spent about 62 lakhs of rupees out of the provincial revenues only for higher collegiate education, and that the number of Muhammadan students that received instruction during these years was only 5,114 against the total of 91,858, i.e., 6 per cent., and it can safely be asserted that the benefits accruing from the lavish expenditure on the secondary schools and colleges out of the Imperial grants would also be shared by Muhammadan students, but the number would be very insignificant. My Lord, our grievances are higher up: in the collegiate and in the secondary branches of education. It is there that we need the help of Government most, and it is there that we do not get it sufficiently.

The Budget.

Nawab Saiyid Nawab Aly Chaudhury, Khan Bahadur.

Hostels.

I now turn to the provisions made for hostels. Out of the sum of Rs. 5,50,000, the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell said that about a lakh only has been reserved for the accommodation of Muhammadan students.

My Lord, may I venture to ask whether this amount is a proportionate share to the demands of the Muhammadans? Have not the Government of India in their letter cited above already accepted the principle that the poverty of the community is the principal cause that has tended to retard the progress of their education? It is argued that the Muhammadans will get their fair share in the general improvements effected through the Imperial grants. I am at a loss to understand what is called a fair share. Are the Muhammadans allowed to occupy the smallest portion of the new University Law College Hostel towards the construction of which a huge sum was contributed by Government? Are the Muhammadans allowed any seat in the Presidency College over and above the 35 seats each year in the intermediate classes that are given on account of the Madrasah College being disaffiliated, and about 70 more in total in all the higher classes? Are not the Muhammadans turned away in large numbers for want of accommodation in schools and colleges? If these are to be regarded as fair treatment, the future of Muhammadan education is sealed for ever.

Stipends and Scholarships.

My Lord, it has been recognized by the Imperial Government as well as this Government that the poverty of the Muhammadans is a great hindrance to the progress in education and that one of the items of the special facilities to be afforded was the grant of scholarships and stipends. In this respect, too, we are disappointed to find that nothing from the recurring grant has been allowed for this purpose.

The establishment of educational institutions at centres of Muhammadan population has also been passed over in the allotment of the grants.

As regards the distribution of a lakh and a half rupees for the improvement of Secondary Aided English Schools, the three divisions of East Bengal that were just denied appreciable sustenance for the advancement of education having, on the abolition of the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam, again reverted to their former position, should have been adequately provided.

Madrasah Reform Scheme.

The absence of any provision for the introduction of the Madrasah Reform Scheme is indeed a very deplorable omission. When the Dacca University scheme is launched and classes for Islamic studies are started, students will not be available for these classes unless the Madrasah Reform Scheme is introduced at once and money apportioned thereon.

Female Education.

My Lord, whatever allotment I take for scrutiny, I do not fail to find that the cause of Muhammadan education is the greater sufferer. In paragraph 22 of the speech of the Director of Public Instruction, the grant available for Female education has been taken at Rs. 2,44,000, out of which a sum of Rs. 10,000 is reserved for Muhammadan girls' schools. It will appear from the Quinquennial Review just published that the number of girls and women under instruction in the Primary and Secondary schools stands at 163,870, of which 77 per cent. are Hindus and only 16 per cent. Muhammadans. Then again the Muhammadan girls mostly attend the Primary schools and there are few in the Secondary, not even one-sixth of the whole allotment would thus go towards the education of Muhammadan girls.

The Budget.

Raja Hrishikesh Laha.

My Lord, in these circumstances, it will be palpably manifest that the cause of Muhammadan education is still being starved, and I would once again appeal to Your Excellency's Government for a redress of our grievances.

Ferries.

My Lord, I would certainly welcome the construction of bridges over some of the rivers and khals in the Dacca Division, and the sooner the Bengal Local Self-Government Amendment Act of 1908 is extended to those places the better, but I would associate myself with the Commissioner of the division in detesting all toll-bars.

Communal Representation and Public Services.

My Lord, in concluding I cannot but refer to the fact that the time-limit imposed has precluded the possibility of my discussing many a subject of absorbing public interest. I would very much have wished to dwell on the imperative necessity of adequate representation of my community on all self-governing bodies and on the need of admitting Muhammadans in increasing number in public services.

My Lord, these subjects are of such importance that I consider a mere passing reference quite sufficient to draw the attention of Your Excellency's Government for redressing our grievances from the point of view of my community."

The Hon'ble RAJA HRISHIKESH LAHA said :—

"My it please Your Excellency, the Budget which has been presented to the Council by Your Excellency's Government possesses some features which are very marked and encouraging. It shows an opening balance of Rs. 3,04,30,000 and a closing balance of Rs. 1,98,32,000. Such a large surplus, unprecedented indeed in the financial annals of Bengal, is apt to create a feeling of optimism about the real progress and welfare of our province. One cannot help thinking that, with such a large surplus at their disposal, the Government would be in a position to carry out many useful reforms which they have long had in contemplation and also to satisfy some of the crying needs of the country. Bright as the propect is, it is not, however, so bright as it looks. The large balance is mainly due to the special grants from the Government of India not being fully expended for the purposes for which they are intended. The Imperial grants have an unwholesome effect on our standards of expenditure, and though there is some growth in our revenue, yet the growth is slow and is not commensurate with our growing expenditure. Further, the recurring expenses will continue, though the grants from the Imperial Government will cease.

Suspensions of Land-Revenue in the flooded areas.

We are thankful to Your Excellency's Government for the suspensions of land-revenue in the districts of Midnapore and Hooghly in the current year on account of the distress caused by the recent floods. The distress has not totally disappeared in many places, and it still exists in an acute form in Contai in the district of Midnapore. It is, however, doubtful whether the amount of Rs. 2,60,000 allotted for the purpose, will be found adequate. No doubt an investigation has been made, and the suspensions allowed in the Contai subdivision in 1913-14 should not be recovered in full next year as the people there are not expected to recover so soon from the losses caused by the recent flood.

The Budget.

Raja Hrishikesh Laha.

Residences of Judicial officers.

The amount of Rs. 50,000 only has been allotted for the residences of Judicial officers, and with this amount it is proposed to take up the construction of residences for a District Judge and a Munsif. A larger amount should, I venture to submit, have been granted for the purpose, as the want of proper accommodation is keenly felt by the Munsifs in the mufassal. The removal of the inconveniences of these hard-working officers ought to receive a more sympathetic consideration.

Reduction of fees in Elementary Schools.

We cannot sufficiently thank the Government of India for the assignment they have made for the reduction of fees in elementary schools, and for providing free education in schools in backward areas, in furtherance of which object Your Excellency's Government have, after providing for urgent reforms, allotted Rs. 6,000. The sooner free education is provided on an extended scale the better will it be for the welfare of the country. We are also thankful for the allotments made for increasing the pay of teachers and gurus and for the training of the latter.

Excise.

It is indeed a matter for congratulation that there should be a steady increase in the Excise Revenue without any violation of the principles of temperance. From Rs. 1,33,88,200 in 1911-12, the revenue under this head rose to Rs. 1,37,59,045 in 1912-13, and to Rs. 1,52,00,000 in the revised estimate of the present official year. In the next year's budget, Rs. 1,58,00,000 has been estimated, and the combination of the settlement figures and the increased duty on country spirit alone since April last has resulted in an increase of 14 lakhs in the revised estimate accompanied by a decrease in consumption. Satisfactory as these figures are, it should be borne in mind that no head of revenue requires a more careful consideration than Excise. It has a direct concern with labourers of certain classes with whom indulgence in country spirit is not a luxury but a necessity, and Government cannot be too careful in fixing too high a price for it. The higher the price the greater the havoc made on their slender income. They will not be deterred from indulgence on account of the prohibitory nature of the price. It is to be noted that Santhals and other aboriginal hill tribes generally imbibe the habit from an early age, and the gift of country spirit forms a part of their ceremonials. There can be no doubt that keeping down the consumption of country spirit as much as possible is a part of the duty of Government, but the requirements of certain classes of people who will be affected by measures in that behalf should also be taken into consideration before fixing the price at a very high level. If it be excessive it will of itself defeat the purpose for which it is intended and will lead to illicit manufacture.

Allotments from the Imperial grant of 75 lakhs for Education.

The educated community are deeply thankful to the Imperial Government for their magnificent grant of 75 lakhs in 1912-13. The proper assignment of such a vast sum, on which the educational welfare of the province ultimately depends, is a matter of great importance and I should like, with your Excellency's permission, to make a few observations on the same. The sum of 1 lakh allotted to manual instruction is to my mind wholly inadequate. The scheme of adding a modern side to elementary education, which is in accord with the most advanced educational ideas of the West, but which has not hitherto received due attention, would, if carried out on a proper scale, be one of the most potent factors in shaping the educational and industrial destiny of the province. Manual instruction in most civilized countries is now regarded as a part of liberal education, and in India it is specially needed to create industrial aptitudes on the young and tender minds, and thus lay the foundation of the industrial progress of the country. An early training of the eye or the hand can alone correct the over literary tendencies of the Indian mind, which are fostered by the existing literary universities as distinguished from modern technical universities, such as those of Manchester, Birmingham or Leeds, the like of which has not yet come into existence in India. The department of manual training in our ordinary schools is therefore a most important, though clostly department, which will create the taste and the demand for industrial careers, and will be the ultimate recruiting ground of the elaborately-planned Technological Institute which Government are going to establish. I should therefore recommend this important reform of modernizing our school education to a more generous consideration of the Government and plead for a larger grant for the purpose.

The Budget.

The Nawab of Dacca.

School of Tropical Medicine.

The next observation that I should like to make is in connection with the School of Tropical Medicine Though it would be located in Calcutta, its usefulness and benefits will extend beyond the bounds of this province, and I do not see why it should be treated as a provincial concern to be maintained by provincial funds and not as an all-India concern in the expenses of which all the provinces should participate. I hope and trust therefore that the Imperial and the other Provincial Governments will see their way to contribute towards its establishment and maintenance."

The Hon'ble NAWAB SIR KHWAJA SALIMULLAH BAHADUR, G.C.I.E., K.C.S.I., said :—

My Lord, I must express my deep regret that in consequence of ill-health and family misfortunes I have been prevented from attending the previous Sessions of this Council. Now, however, by the blessing of God I find myself able to take a part in the proceedings ; and I hope in the future to be able to place my services more actively at the disposal of the Council. In connection with my enforced absence I may mention a personal disadvantage which I have experienced ; I have not been able to make myself fully conversant with the rules of procedure of the Council ; and, in consequence, I was a signatory to a representation made to your Excellency asking to be allowed more time in which to give notice of Resolutions. I wish to say now that after the statement made by your Excellency, and a study of the rules of the Council, I fully understand that it was not possible for your Excellency's Government to grant the request made.

I have every confidence, my Lord, that under your Excellency's sympathetic administration mutual feelings of trust and confidence must grow up and increase among us.

And this feeling emboldens me to put forward the representations, and make the suggestions, and requests, which I am now about to lay before you.

Financial.

My Lord, I desire to associate myself with a feeling which is felt in all communities, and which has been emphasized in all quarters : the feeling that this Presidency should have greater financial independence in the future. As matters now stand, revenue is divided between the Local Government and the Imperial Government ; and the share falling to the Local Government is clearly insufficient for the local wants under the vigorous and progressive policy of your Excellency's administration. To make up the deficiency we have to depend upon such extra funds as the Imperial Government can be persuaded to allot to us ; and while I do not for a moment wish to be understood to imply that the Government of India would treat, or does treat, this Government unfairly, I think that it would be more becoming, and would tend to increase efficiency, if your Excellency's Government were allowed a larger control over its receipts and disbursements.

The Budget.

The Nawab of Dacca.

Education.

My Lord, I desire to offer my warmest congratulations to your Excellency's Government on the liberal manner in which the subject of education is generally being treated at your hands. In the matter of education we have much lee-way to make up, and every penny spent on the cause means an additional step gained. But, my Lord, while finding so much in this subject on which respectfully to congratulate your Government, I desire equally respectfully to draw attention to the tendency to devote so much time to considering and maturing schemes that too little time is left to give full effect to them. For two years a sum of Rs. 91,000 has been set apart for the extension of the Baker Madrasah Hostel, but I regret to state that the scheme in connection with it has not yet passed the stages of discussion.

The problem of Muhammadan Education, more especially in the higher Collegiate branch, has been for long receiving the sympathetic attention of your Excellency's Government. I sincerely trust that it will be found possible in the very near future to bring the question of Muhammadan education in all its branches to a clear and definite determination ; and that such definite determination may be followed by a strong and vigorous policy of action on the part of Government. It is much to be feared that if time is lost in deferring decisions on schemes which are now under Government consideration, a break may occur in the continuity of the policy in connection with Muhammadan Education—since " Hope deferred maketh the heart sick." The Hon'ble Mr. Samman in reply to a question in this Council, a short time ago, admitted that there is need of hostel accommodation for Muhammadon students in the University Law College. May I hope, my Lord, that the need being admitted, we may look for practical relief in the near future ?

Medical.

I wish, my Lord, to make a few remarks in connection with the charges under the medical head. I feel that it is much to be desired that Government, on their own initiative, should take measures to improve the sanitary conditions of mufassal towns, since too many of them are still in a most deplorable sanitary condition. I also hope that with the Bengal Medical Bill, now passed into law, not only that the number of medical schools in the Presidency may be increased, but that the existing ones may, in the many cases in which reforms are essential to efficiency, be put on a proper and efficient footing.

While on this subject I wish to draw the attention of Government to the necessity for affording greater facilities to Muhammadan students desirous of admission to the Calcutta Medical College. Matriculates, it is true, are eligible for admission under the University Regulations ; but in practice preference is given to graduates and Intermediate passed students ; and, as the number of these is fairly large among the Hindus, but in consequence of the much-to-be-regretted neglect of English education shown by Muhammadans until a very recent date still small among my community, the authorities seldom find room for Muhammadan students with the lesser qualifications, even though they are eligible under the rules. I trust that it is not too much to hope, in the interests of the Muhammadan community, that Government will cause an inquiry to be made into the number of Muhammadan students in the Medical College coming from the Presidency of Bengal ; and, in the event of their finding that my complaint is well founded, that some remedy may be devised, or rules passed, which will cause Muhammadans to be admitted in larger numbers than at present.

I also take this opportunity to express the hope that provision may be made, from the large allotment for the purpose of construction of hostels, to provide a hostel in connection with the Dacca Medical School. The need for such an institution is very keenly felt ; and there is no possible doubt in my mind that money expended for such a purpose would be money exceedingly well spent.

The Budget.

The Nawab of Dacca.

Dacca Lakheraj lands.

My Lord, it is a cause of genuine pleasure to all concerned that the knotty problems and difficult questions in connection with the Dacca lakheraj lands, which have been pending for the last hundred years or more, have now been so satisfactorily solved. The thanks of all concerned are due to the local officers who have been engaged on the spot on the inquiry in connection with this matter, and I feel it my duty, as well as a pleasure, to congratulate your Excellency's Government on the happy solution of a problem which has of late been agitating the public mind more than a little.

Police.

Regarding the provision made in the Budget under the heading Police, I, sharing the feeling with many others, think that expenditure in connection with the police has become a burden for which, in point of fact, commensurate results are not obtained. I do not seek to blame individuals; but, judging from results, it appears to me that the system under which police work is carried out must be susceptible of improvement. Probably I think the difficulties lie mostly in connection with the training of the force; such training being carried out on old lines; which lines, however, suitable to the prevention of the old-established forms of crime, perpetrated by a lower class of criminals, ignorant, unorganized and generally unintelligent, are not calculated to enable the force to cope with certain latter-day form of crime, perpetrated by a class of persons possessed of shrewd intelligence and considerable ability aided by some scientific knowledge. I am aware that this subject must have engaged the most serious and earnest attention of your Government : and it is not with a veiw to indulge in destructive criticisms tending to embarrass the Government, but entirely with the idea of assisting in what I consider a much-needed reform that I suggest that it might be advisable that certain specialists should be trained to combat this form of crime under a system more akin to that in force in Scotland Yard, the head-quarters of the London Metropolitan Police Force.

Dacca University.

My Lord, I have to express my heartiest thanks to Government that provision has been made in the Budget for the Dacca University; and I hope by the end of the official year that a commencement of the work in connection with it will have been made. I cannot close my remarks without referring briefly to one of the special features of the Dacca University Report. I mean the College for the well-to-do classes. Much adverse criticism has been directed at the proposal to form such a college; but it would, in my view, be deplorable if such criticisms were allowed to override the considered opinion in favour of creating it. For one reason or another, into which it is needless to enter in detail, a disintegrating process has been at work among the landlord class in Bengal. As a consequence the old type of zamindars, once renowned for their liberality and their liberal-mindedness, is slowly being wiped out of existence; and if the process be not arrested, the old class, with their old traditions, will eventually become extinct. To arrest the progress of disintegration, an education suited to the special needs and requirements of the class is necessary. The ordinary education of the college as found in Bengal is of little or no use for this purpose; nor does an academic degree obtained at the University tend more than most remotely to bring about the reform which is so essential. What the class I refer to requires is a sound training in zamindari work; a proper acquaintance with social accomplishments, both mental and physical; the acquirement of a sense of fairness and equity; and, above all, the attainment of a clear conception of a landlord's duties and responsibilities. I am confident that such an institution as the proposed College for the well-to-do classes would lead not only to an economic improvement in the properties owned by landlords who had passed through the institution, but would also pave the way towards a better understanding and happier relations between landlords and tenants generally, and in this way, ultimately help not only to make tenants happier and more contented ; but in addition would tend considerably to bring the landlord back to live on his property ; instead of living, as he does in too many cases at present, as an alien to the place which bred him. My Lord, in spite of the opposition which has been displayed to this measure, I do hope that the Government will stand by the recommendation made by the University Committee, and support a measure, which I am convinced, must be beneficial both to the landlord and to the tenant classes.

The Budget

Representation of the Muhammadan on District and Local Boards and Municipalities.

My Lord, I have one more subject to touch on—a subject which specially interests me as a member of the Muhammadan community. I refer to the existing constitution of District and Local Boards and Municipalities ; and the subject becomes one of burning interest to my community when, as now, large allotments have been made for improving the sanitary and educational conditions of the country, My Lord, Muhammadans form more than 50 per cent. of the total population ; and we ask that the administrative machinery of the country shall be so adjusted that the Muhammadan community may be proportionately represented on these bodies. With sacred places demolished in pursuance of Municipal Resolutions, with sanitary and lighting arrangements more defective in Muhammadan quarters than elsewhere, with municipal schools without provision for Persian or Arabic teaching, with meat shops banished beyond municipal limits, we Muhammadans ask that the principle of communal representation may be recognized to the full by your Excellency's Government ; so that Muhammadans may obtain full and effective representation on these local bodies. Reforms in this respect, we feel, are badly needed, and the sooner these reforms can be taken in hand and put through the better. My community earnestly hopes that before your Excellency lays down the reins of office a solution of the problem in connection with Muhammadan disabilities will have been arrived at.

Muhammadan Loyalty.

Now, my Lord, one last word. As a Muhammadan, I should like to take this opportunity of dispelling an illusion which appears to exist in various quarters. It is said that the Muhammadans of this Presidency have also become disloyal. I say emphatically that no greater insult has ever been offered to our community here, and that the authors of such calumny are neither well-wishers of the Government or of the people ; and I declare with all the force in my power that the Muhammadan community is not disloyal and never can be disloyal.

My Lord, with these observations, and thanking Your Excellency and the Hon'ble Members of the Council for giving me a patient hearing, I beg to resume my seat.

The Hon'ble MR. A. W. C. CHAPLIN said :—

Improvement of the Duars Roads.

My Lord, I understand that the preliminary surveys for the improvement of the Duars roads have now been completed and the cost of the programmes, as submitted to Government, amounts to Rs. 24½ lakhs for the Public Works Department roads and 10 lakhs for the Jalpaiguri District Board roads, or a total of about 34½ lakhs. I understand that Government, after full consideration of these proposals, have practically accepted the programmes in toto,

The Budget.

Mr. Chaplin.

and, although it has not been found possible at present to allot the whole amount required for the full programme, they have decided to carry out as much of it as possible in the near future, and that it is probable that a sum of 20 lakhs will be found during the next four years towards the cost of the construction of the more immediately important roads.

I desire at the outset, on behalf on the Duars, to thank your Excellency's Government for the sympathetic attitude you have adopted and for your recognition of this question, which is of such vital importance to the welfare of that great district. The proposals for the improvement of the Duars roads were drawn up after great deliberation and exhaustive enquiry and discussion by the Public Works Department and District Officers in consultation with the leading planters of the district. They provide for a concrete scheme involving two systems of roads, the one having its focus at Jalpaiguri and the other at Alipur Duar. The Tursa river divides the Duars into two parts geographically, and this division is accentuated by the railway system. The completion of these two road systems, having their foci at Jalpaiguri and Alipur Duar, respectively, is an essential preliminary to a complete system of roads linking up the whole of the Duars. It was originally intended that these two systems should be connected by a bridge or ferry across the Tursa river and a metalled road from Alipur Duar to Dhupguri. It has now, however, been decided to omit this portion, and against this decision I raise no protest, as I recognize that, until the two main systems are completed, it would not secure any immediate advantage and the postponement of the expensive connecting road to some future date is not unreasonable.

The scheme of roads, as accepted by Government, provides for a network of roads inter-connecting the various sub-districts of the Duars with each other and with the railway stations and main roads leading to the sadar stations, Jalpaiguri and Alipur Duar. I understand that, in view of the fact that it has not been found possible to allot more than 20 lakhs during the next four years towards the full programme, Government have asked the Duars Planters what possible reduction, or postponement, of certain works can be made until after 1917-18, when it may be possible to find further funds for such works. This raises a question of some difficulty, and I am desired by the communities whom I represent on this Council, to urge Government to definitely provide funds for the main scheme, as submitted by the Public Works Department, and to undertake the completion of, anyhow, the full Public Works Department programme at as early a date as possible. Having regard to the primary principle of the scheme, namely, to establish through-road communications throughout the Duars, it is impossible to eliminate, or reduce, any of the main roads provided for in the programme, without seriously curtailing, and even destroying, the system on which the utility of the scheme depends. Disconnected sections of roads are of little use to a district as a whole, and links taken out here and there will surely tend to destroy the whole chain. I would therefore urge on Government the acceptance of the Public Works Department Programme of 24½ lakhs in its entirety and that the whole of the 20 lakhs available, and as much more as can be found possible, be allocated to this purpose.

I understand that the proposals included a grant of about 6 lakhs towards the District Board Programme. If sufficient funds are unavailable, let this part be postponed. The Jalpaiguri District Board has now increased funds at its disposal as a result of the recent decision of the Government of India to make over the Public Works Cess funds to the District Boards, and as these surplus funds will be further increased by the transference of certain of its roads to the Public Works Department, it seems not improbable that the District Board may be able to deal with its own programme with the funds at its disposal, supplemented, if necessary, by a loan when, and if, required, or possibly, a special grant from Government at some future date.

I therefore suggest that the following important main roads on the Public Works Department Programme, estimated to cost 24½ lakhs, be undertaken first and that work on them be put in hand in the order named, namely :—

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA RANAJIT SINHA of Nashipur said :—

" My Lord, after keeping aside the minimum closing balance of 20 lakhs, and every item of expenditure which has been earmarked for specific purposes, we shall have a closing balance of Rs. 25,96,000, which is very satisfactory, and for which the Hon'ble Member in charge of Finance deserves our heartfelt thanks and congratulations.

The Burdwan Floods.

My Lord, the distress which the recent floods caused in the districts of Hooghly and Midnapore was so intense that it will take some time for those districts to recover their normal condition, but we are grateful to your Excellency's Government for the suspension of the land revenue of those districts, and for the interest which your Excellency took in alleviating the sufferings of the people by making a special grant from Government on account of the floods.

Education.

My Lord, in our colleges, besides the professors who are recruited from the Indian Educational Service, there are two classes of men engaged. One is called a professor, and the other a lecturer. Both these classes of people do the same work, and there is no distinction between their qualifications, but one is drawn from the Provincial Educational Service and the other from the Subordinate Educational Service, so I venture to appeal to your Lordship's Government that these two classes of persons should have the same pay and status, and that they should both be drawn from the Provincial Educational Service.

My Lord, when I suggested last year about the extension of female education to the zanana, the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler, who was then Director of Public Instruction, assured the Council that there would be a material advance within the course of the year, and in reply to my question the Hon'ble Mr. Samman, on the 1st December last, enlightened the Council as to the progress made in that direction up to that time. But I find that only the sum of Rs. 30,000 has been provided as a lump sum for female education. The Hon'ble Member has not sent in his corrected speech yet. I am not sure if this is the only amount that has been provided for this purpose, but, if that be so, I am constrained to say that it is not adequate for such an important matter. Female education should not only be limited to a few districts, but should be further extended, and experiments should be made in all the districts and subdivisions of this Presidency.

The Budget.

Maharaja Ranajit Sinha of Nashipur.

Sanitation.

My Lord, I find that we were unable to spend the entire amount which was budgetted last year for the improvement of sanitation, and this year, too, there is a provision of Rs. 18,53,000, of which it is said that there will be a probable saving of Rs. 10,00,000, so that the actual figure which it is contemplated to spend is only Rs. 8,83,000. The question of improvement of sanitation has become so pressing in this country that I think delay in carrying out the reform would be grievous. It may be said that the municipalities do not come forward to the Government to ask for a special grant for the purpose. On previous occasions I tried to impress on your Lordship's Government that it is not possible for the local bodies to apply for a substantial grant for the completion of any of the important schemes for the improvement of sanitation and so my prayer is to your Lordship that schemes for drainage and water-supply should be made free of cost for all municipalities ; and in that case they would be in a position to know what are their requirements and what sums they will be able to spend within their own resources, and what sums they should approach the Government for a grant. My Lord, it is necessary that every municipality should be provided with drainage and water-supply. As far as my experience goes as Chairman of the Murshidabad Municipality for 12 years, I find that it is impossible for any municipality to undertake drainage schemes on account of the heavy cost ; but if we get a scheme, we can do the work piecemeal, the work is done gradually. So I appeal to your Lordship's Government that schemes for drainage and water-supply might be ordered free of cost, so that municipalities and local bodies may not have to pay on that account. The whole country is indebted to your Excellency for the interest your Excellency took in proposing to supply every village with an adequate supply of pure drinking water, and the entire amount on account of the public works cess has been assigned to the District Boards for that purpose. But, my Lord, I am afraid that the District Boards are inclined to spend more money on roads and bridges, and unless the Government earmark at any rate some portion of this grant for the purpose I am afraid that that material progress will not be made in this connection within a reasonable time.

My Lord, I understand that the sum of Rs. 50,000 has been allotted by the Government of India for cutting jungles as an experimental measure in order to drive away malaria from this country, but the experts here are of opinion that it would be useless to spend any amount for making such an experiment. Whatever may be the opinion of the experts, the popular opinion is otherwise. It may not be useful in the rural areas owing to the scattered nature of the population, but if an experiment be tried in municipalities and small towns I think that it might be successful. So I venture to suggest that your Excellency's Government may find it possible to make an experiment in this direction, at least in some of the municipalities which exist in the districts of Murshidabad and Jessore, which are the most malarious districts in the whole of Bengal.

Dredging.

My Lord, I find that last year I suggested the dredging out of the entrance of the Bhagirathi River, and I am glad to notice that provision has been made in this respect in the current year's Budget, for which our grateful thanks are due to your Excellency's Government. My Lord, I find that on page 66 a provision of Rs. 20,000 has been made, whereas in the schedule attached to page 20 I find that Rs. 16,000 has been budgetted. I cannot reconcile the figures, and I hope that the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Public Works Department will be able to remove my doubts in that respect. I venture also to submit that the other navigable rivers which have gradually silted up should also be dredged. It would not only facilitate trade and river traffic, but it would also go towards improving the source of supply of good drinking water to the villages through which these rivers flow

The Budget.

Maharaja Ranajit Sinha of Nashipur.

Special allowance to officers in charge of subdivisions.

My Lord, I find that the officers, in charge of the subdivisions of the districts, whether belonging to the Indian Civil Service or the Provincial Civil Service, have grave responsibility and that they are the most hard-worked of officers. They do not get leave such as other officers enjoy, and their responsibilities were never so great as they are now, when lawlessness and disorder prevail. They receive, however, no corresponding advantages over their brother officers who are at the sadar. Even the Sub-Inspectors of Police who are deputed as Court Inspectors get special allowances for those duties, but these hard-working officers do not get any allowance, except that they are allowed residential quarters. I appeal to your Excellency's Government that the matter might receive careful and favourable consideration, and that some provision will be made in next year's Budget in the matter of special recognition of these officers.

Encouragement of the Ayurvedic system of medicine.

My Lord, we passed the Medical Bill this morning, and it was said by my friend, the Hon'ble Colonel Harris, that the kabirajes have got no standard, and so they could not be registered; and so I appeal to your Excellency's Government that some encouragement might be given to the Ayurvedic system of medicine. Encouragement has already been given to Oriental learning, in the shape of examinations and diplomas given to Sanscrit scholars. I must admit that there has been a material progress in that direction. The people in the interior of the districts suffer generally for the greater portion of the year from malarial fever and bowel complaints, and other complications, owing to the poisoned atmosphere which they imbibe, and it is not possible for them always to call in doctors and place themselves under allopathic treatment which is very costly, and they have recourse, therefore, to the Ayurvedic treatment. But there are very few kabirajes now in the interior who can treat under this system successfully, and so they have to depend upon quacks. If your Excellency's Government would encourage this Ayurvedic system of treatment, I am sure that in the course of a few years the country would turn out a good number of kabirajes, who would be fully qualified, and who would be helpful to the people living in the villages in the interior, who cannot afford to call in allopathic doctors.

My Lord, owing to the parda system prevalent in this country, the women of this country are very reluctant to place themselves under the treatment of male doctors, whether they can afford to do so or not, and it becomes essentially necessary to increase the number of lady doctors in this country. Her Excellency Lady Hardinge has laid the foundation stone of a female medical college at Delhi, and I think that if a female medical school of that nature be established in our Presidency, a long-felt want in that connection will be removed.

Service of Summonses.

I have only one word more, and I shall conclude. My Lord, I am very grateful to your Excellency's Government for increasing the initial pay of the munsiffs from Rs. 200 to Rs. 250, and creating a new grade of munsifs. My Lord, the litigants, however, are suffering. Those who are conversant with the practice and conditions of the Court must see that these people feel great inconvenience.

The Budget.

Maulvi Mazharul Anwar Chaudhuri.

Furthermore, they find it a great expense to have summonses served through the peons. The classes of peons who serve these summonses have a method of their own in doing their work and so the litigants, both plaintiffs and defendants, are suffering in a great many respects, into the details of which I would not like to enter here. These peons as a class do not bear a good reputation. If matters cannot be very easily set right, I should suggest that the service of summons may be made through the post-office. I understand that this system has been tried in some districts, and I beg to submit that this may be extended to other districts at least as an experimental measure ; and if it is found successful, we may be able to reduce the number of process-serving peons. With these few words, I beg to resume my seat.

The Hon'ble Maulvi MAZHARUL ANWAR CHAUDHURI said :—

Hostels for Muhammadans.

" My Lord, I wish to congratulate your Excellency's Government on the satisfactory character of the Budget. I must say that having regard to the increasing and insistent demand for hostel accommodation, the Budget allotment for hostels in the muffasal does not seem to be quite adequate. My Lord, in the Burdwan Division, with the exception of Hooghly, no other district contains, or has thought fit to provide, hostels for Muhammadan students. In Midnapore a hostel was recently built by Government, and it was intended that it should accommodate both Hindu and Muhammadan students. But somehow or other no Muhammadan college student at Midnapore has yet found a seat in the hostel. So, my Lord, a hostel specially for Muhammadans will also have to be built and that, too, in the course of this year Burdwan is an important Muhammadan centre in West Bengal, and the want of hostels for Muhammadan students in that town has been very keenly felt for some time past. Last year the the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan and Maulvi Abul Kasem strongly appealed to your Lordship's Government for the establishment of hostels for Muhammadan boys in the town of Burdwan, and I understand that Mr. Küchler, the late Director of Public Instruction, gave hopes of a speedy removal of the want of a hostel in that town. In May last, Mr. Stark, the Divisional Inspector of Schools for Burdwan Division, visited Burdwan, and held a conference with the local gentlemen and with the local educational officers, and actually selected a site for a Muhammadan hostel, and I understand that he assured the local gentry that he will send up proposals to your Lordship's Government for sanction without delay of the scheme. But, my Lord, up to this moment nothing has been done. Want of hostel accommodation has been keenly felt in Burdwan, and although Government has done nothing up to this moment, the local gentry have, as a temporary measure, rented a small building where free lodging accommodation is given to the Muhammadan students of colleges and schools of the town of Burdwan. But this cannot last long, and I earnestly appeal to your Excellency's Government to build a hostel in Burdwan in the course of the financial year. My Lord, hostel accommodation for Muhammadan students is also badly needed in Birbhum, Bankura, Ulubaria and other places in the Burdwan district. Now that the former apathy and indifference of the Muhammadans to English education has given place to a keen desire, and I must say, enthusiasm for it, it would be a matter for great pity if that desire and enthusiasm is to be damped for want of facilities, which the Government can easily provide. I therefore earnestly appeal to your Excellency's Government to establish hostels for Muhammedan students in all districts and subdivisional towns in the Presidency and Burdwan Division, where such hostels do not already exist, and build as many as the budget allotment will allow.

The Chaukidari Tax.

I next wish to draw your Lordship's attention to the grievances of the people in respect of the chaukidari force. I do not know precisely the system by which chaukidars used to be paid in other divisions of Bengal, but so far as the Burdwan Division is concerned, the chaukidars used to hold zemin lands for the service, and the people had to pay nothing whatever for their services. These chaukidars, when they held the chakran lands, used to work for the zamindars in the matter of zemin collections and used to help the villagers at their social and ceremonial occasions. But the Government in their wisdom assumed these lands a few years ago and settled them on the zamindars on condition of their paying half-rent of these lands and gave them the other half as compensation for the loan of the service of chaukidars. As half-rent of these lands was not sufficient to meet the entire cost of maintaining the chaukidars, Government imposed chaukidari taxes. The people justly complain that they have been taxed without getting any benefit which they were in enjoyment before. Therefore this tax presses heavily on the poorer classes, and especially on the labourers. These labourers earn from Rs. 5 to Rs. 10 a month, and with that small pittance they have to maintain their wives and children, and sometimes their aged parents. Thus your Excellency's Government will see how hard and difficult it is for these people to pay this tax It is not an uncommon sight to see brass lotas and plates of these poorer people seized by the collecting panchayats by the aid of the chaukidars. This is only roughly the position of the people. If the Government will not bear the entire expenses of maintaining the chaukidars, a less objectionable mode of raising money should be found, and as this chaukidari system is an integral part of the ordinary police force, they ought to be maintained out of the general revenue, as the ordinary police officers. There is another circumstance which makes it all the more incumbent on the Government to bear the entire cost of maintaining the chaukidars. I mean this : These chaukidars are now employed as process-servers on behalf of Government. Certain notices, such as land registration notices, and similar notices are now generally served by these chaukidars. It should be remembered that the parties upon whom these notices are served are regularly being charged with process-fees. These chaukidars are actually earning money for Government, and therefore it is the greater reason that these chaukidars should be entirely maintained by Government, and absolutely there is no justification whatever for taxing the people of any part of the cost of maintaining the chaukidars."

The Damoodar Floods.

With respect to the floods on the west side of the Damodar, I said what I have had to say while I had the honour of moving a resolution on the subject on the 3rd March last. Mr. Finnimore in his sympathetic reply which induced me to withdraw the resolution, stated that Mr. Addams-Williams was engaged in investigating the matter. I understand that the report of Mr Williams will soon be received by the Government, if it has not already been received by them. If the suggestions which Mr. Williams may make or has already made, calculate to prevent the ravages of the floods, measures which he recomends ought to be taken in hand at once. Therefore my Lord, some provision ought to have been made for it in the Budget. Although no provision has been made for a scheme which Mr. Williams may recommend or has already recommended, calculating to remove or greatly minimize the ravages of flood, that scheme ought to be taken in hand in the course of the year, out of the reserve of 20 lakhs of rupees which we find in the Budget.

Proposed alignment of the Howrah-Bistopur line.

" My Lord, the proposed alignment of the Howrah-Bistopur line shows that when the line is constructed, the situation of the country to the north of the line will be very gravely aggravated. Even if the Bengal-Nagpur Railway

The Budget.

Dr. D. P. Sarbadhikari.

We have strong hopes that in a few number of years, perhaps within ten, the increased trade will make us self-supporting, so far as our yearly expenses are concerned, and we also trust that the position of our finances will then be such that we shall be able to raise funds in the open market without coming to Government for assistance.

We are not unmindful or forgetful of the great assistance we have had in the past, but in the meantime as the Government have spent so many lakhs on the Port works and on the Railway jetties and appliances, it will be a great pity if all this large sum is, after all, to be wasted through the failure of funds being provided at this critical moment to prevent the silting up and closing of the channels; immediate relief is, therefore, sought by the provision of at least 3 lakhs, to be followed by a provisional grant of 10 lakhs to permit of an order for a dredger being placed to save future delay. I trust, therefore, your Excellency's Government will be pleased to afford the Port Commissioners of Chittagong the monetary assistance they so urgently need.

The Hon'ble Dr. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

Education.

My Lord, the Educational Budget will be dealt with by many Hon'ble Members. It is no longer the exclusive preserve or privilege of the University member on your Excellency's Council to deal with this important question. My work has also been largely lightened in regard to the question of Muhammadan education, which I used to make my special care in former years. Many competent and willing colleagues have taken up this important branch of the question. I would therefore confine my observations to a few principal topics.

In spite of the tolerably large grants of the Government of India, your Excellency's Government is in some difficulty with regard to their practical application in the absence of clear and definite understanding as to the direction of the diversion of funds not overtly earmarked. The University, for example, have always understood that the Fish Market, for the acquisition of which they have long been pressing and which has been more than promised in order to relieve congestion in regard to class-rooms and hostel accommodation, would soon be available. It has, however, not been able yet to obtain the necessary funds for the necessary buildings, because in certain minds there still exists an idea that the Fish Market is being acquired for "general educational purposes," and not for definite University purposes. The work inaugurated by the retiring Vice-Chancellor will immediately suffer if the Fish Market be not acquired and made over to the University and if funds be not found for building on it at the earliest possible date. Another field of academic usefulness, which the University Institute represents and in which your Excellency, the members of your Excellency's Government and your Excellency's Secretaries all take the greatest possible interest, is suffering much for the want of the 3 lakhs of rupees long supposed to have been sanctioned and earmarked for its building and furnishing. This is an important feature of the supplementary University education to which we attach so much importance. For University work proper, besides capital expenditure of not less than 30 lakhs spread over a short number of years, we urgently want Rs. 50,000 for post-graduate teaching, Rs. 36,000 for the Sir Tarak Nath Palit Laboratory, Rs. 20,000 for University Readers, Rs. 6,000 for University Librarian, Rs. 6,000 for the Secretary to the Governing Body for post-graduate teaching, and Rs. 72,000 for six University Professors detailed in our letter to the Government of India through your Excellency last October. Elaborate post-graduate teaching arrangements have been recently made in the University, but it is fully intended and necessary that college post-graduate teaching should not in any way suffer. Generous provision for this has to be made in Government colleges. The Presidency College Improvement Scheme has not been pushed on with the vigour that we had looked forward to, and the Governing Body have important and pressing schemes in this connection as well as in connection with the strengthening of post-graduate teaching which are claimant in their demand. I believe the Sanskrit College, in which, to our regret and shame, M.A. affiliation in Sanskrit has not been possible for the last few years, will require considerable strengthening. Various mufassal colleges that desire to undertake M.A. teaching will also have to be strengthened a great deal. So will the private colleges with regard to this matter as also with regard to the hostel scheme. The Budget under discussion makes inadequate provision for these demands. I trust early opportunity will be found for having the whole situation cleared up and for having continued and progressive work assured in the University and in the field of education in general, instead of having a dead-lock as is apprehended in some quarters. I have every sympathy with the desire for strengthening school education, but I cannot agree with the largely borrowed views of the Hon'ble Babu Mohendra Nath Ray that a large percentage of our college students are unfit for studies, because of their deficiency in English. There may have been a falling off according to the recently enunciated exacting standard, and if possible that should no doubt be remedied. But considering the materials and resources with which we work and considering the great difficulty of the language the wonder is that our students get on as well and not a good deal worse. I deny that the University has allowed, or will allow, through its portals unworthy candidates; and however much improvement may be needed—and there is always scope for improvement everywhere—questionable suggestions like those just referred to are not very helpful in bringing about improvement.

The Budget.

Dr. D. P. Sarbadhikari.

Duplication of higher medical teaching has long been a recognized necessity, and I congratulate your Excellency on the arrangements that by your tact and sympathy you have been able to arrive at with the Albert Victor Hospital authorities to which reference was made this morning in connection with the Medical Bill. We regret, however, to find no definite provision has been made for financing it in the way agreed upon. Without prompt and material aid the teaching establishment connected with the hospital will have promptly to shut down the moment the Medical Bill comes into force and with such closure the hospital also will suffer. A pronouncement on this important question would be greatly welcomed.

The Damoodar Floods.

One of our colleagues, the Hon'ble Maulvi Mazharul Anwar Chaudhuri, recently drew attention to the needs of permanent relief in the Damodar areas against future floods. We were again promised careful consideration and sympathetic treatment of the situation. While schemes are being framed on a large and comprehensive scale, there is no reason why minor schemes not involving any large outlays should not be undertaken and Budget provision made therefor. For example, by co-operating with the Bengal-Nagpur Railway in regard to their proposed Bistupur Chord, and by cutting relieving canals joining neighbouring channels that cannot carry off the overflow water, some tangible relief could be afforded. The Bengal-Nagpur Railway are just having a careful survey made of a part of the affected tracts through which their Chord is proposed to pass; and if the Government will please co-operate with the Railway Administration by cutting small canals in the neighbourhood, the Chord can pass through convenient points which will be a great public good in many ways. If the entire scheme that has yet to be determined upon, and that will probably cost prohibitive sums, cannot be undertaken long, co-operative measures with the Railway Company ought not to be deferred and provision for it ought to be made. This I urge by way of meeting the objections anticipated by the Maulvi Mazharul Anwar Chaudhuri. These relieving canals must be taken in hand at once.

Excise.

Budget resolutions and other resolutions are not generally carried in this Council when emanating from non-official members. Nor is it likely that such a general result will be achieved in the near future, though there has been now and again a notable exception. But Hon'ble Members have the satisfaction of realizing that in some instances, at all events it is possible to have reasonable non-official views of things accepted by the Government in slow degrees if they are pressed on its attention with moderation and reasonable insistence. Such achievements, slight as they are, are helpful in encouraging Hon'ble Members to press their views of things from year to year, and if they come to be accepted slowly and gradually after years of insistence, there is some occasion for rejoicing and some consolation.

One such matter is the improvement in the Excise policy of the Government regarding which friends of Temperance in this Council and other Councils of the country, Imperial and local, have for years past been working hard. Their hitherto thankless tasks are beginning to be rewarded with recognition and excellent results may be expected in the near future. We are hoping that substantial concessions to public opinion will now be possible. There are distinct indications of personal sympathy with our aims and aspirations on the part of those in authority—indications that Government are not quite comfortable about their present Excise policy. We shall find, we hope, that the Government will now gradually modify some of the less defensible features of the administration. With one of the recognized and honoured Temperance leaders as Under-Secretary of State for India, the forward work of your Excellency's Government, as well as the Imperial Government, ought to be comparatively easy. Even with facilities like these reform measures must, however, be slow and cautious, and he would be an intemperate man of temperance indeed who would not recognize and respect this contingency.

In regard to Excise, I desire to congratulate my friend the Commissioner of that Department, for the continued fecundity of the bird of prey that lays this golden egg for Government, almost in spite of it. It is rather a startling fact set forth on page 26 of the Budget that, while the actual revenue obtained for Excise in 1910-11 was about 63 lakhs, the Budget estimate for 1914-15 is 158 lakhs or nearly 100 lakhs to the good. The revised estimate for the current year is the high figure of 152 lakhs due to higher license-fees and increased duty, and partly to increased efficiency on the part of the improved service. The budgeted increase of 6 lakhs for 1914-15 is regarded as a safe anticipation as, owing to the higher duty, the receipts from the consumption of liquor may be checked, and the department has realized the need of checking the consumption of opium and charas. It must be noted, however, that an increase in expenditure for the same period is budgeted for 2½ lakhs so that the department anticipates an increased revenue of 8½ lakhs upon its administration of excise for the period under review. Since the debate on the Financial Statement last year, the country has had the privilege of a valuable and frank pronouncement by His Excellency the Viceroy himself on the whole subject of Excise Administration. I may be allowed to touch on one or two points suggested by the increase of revenue under Excise now under your discussion. It was satisfactory to the deputation that attended on the Viceroy to hear his first pronouncement that "the Government of India, the Local Governments and Administrations and their officials are unanimous with Temperance workers in desiring to promote the cause of Temperance in this country by all means within their power." And it must be acknowledged that your Lordship and the officials in Bengal controlling this department have shown the justice of this claim in a way that will be a model for the other Provincial Governments throughout the Empire. The establishment of licensing Boards in Calcutta, Howrah and Bally has given signal proof of the sympathy of the Administration of this province with Temperance views on this special aspect of administration, and I desire to take this early opportunity of voicing the sincere gratitude of those I may be taken to represent, for making this "interesting experiment," which, if successful, His Excellency tells us, may be extended to other large towns also. This also casts heavy responsibilities on Temperance workers and the general public, which must not be ignored.

The Budget.

Dr. D. P. Sarbadhikari.

The increase of revenue anticipated for 1914-15 of 6 lakhs will be regarded by many as a further indication that the policy of Government fosters the drink and drug habit. His Excellency pointed out, however, that figures of revenue expansion do not necessarily imply increased consumption, and that any interest Government may have in revenue does not imply that the moral and social aspects of the traffic are overlooked. If this is so, we shall expect the department to give the closest attention to the prevention of any undue expansion of consumption, and trust that it may see its way to do so along the lines of reform on which His Excellency laid more or less stress. Among these I may mention the free use of representative advisory committees with a policy that looks to a further development of local control, the careful investigation of the sites of licensed premises, so that undesirable sites may be gradually abandoned, and closer adherence given to the departmental rules on the subject, a further restriction in hours of sale, the supply of counter-attractions to drinking and drug-taking. the introduction of Temperance teaching of a more definite character in the school books used in schools and colleges, and securing, so far as is possible, more accurate statistical information on the whole question of the consumption of liquor and drugs. The spread of the cocaine habit is causing alarm to the people and the Government, and though much has been done to stop it the evil grows rampant. The question has recently engaged the attention of the Imperial Government, and it is to be hoped that drastic but effective methods will soon be invoked. It is destroying the manhood of the country more than the drink habit has done.

The policy of excise administration is still engaging the attention of the Secretary of State, and we may anticipate a critical survey of the various intricate problems now engaging the attention of all administrations in this Empire. Temperance workers will be satisfied so long as they have evidence that the administration, in the words of His Excellency the Viceroy, "is not relaxing their steady policy of watchfulness and restriction based on practical expedients for checking excessive consumption."

The Provincial Judicial Service.

Another direction in which insistent endeavours on our part in the Council for the past few years have borne some fruit is partial improvement in the Provincial Judicial Service. A sum of Rs. 50.000 was set apart last year for the reorganization of the munsif's branch of the Provincial Judicial Service. The details of the scheme were communicated to the officers concerned in December last, after the Secretary of State's sanction had been received.

I find that Rs. 21,000 has been set apart for raising the pay of the last grade of munsifs. Under the recent reorganization the number of officers in the last grade is 35, and if the pay of each officer in that grade be increased by Rs. 50 per mensem, the total increased cost comes up to Rs. 21,000 per annum. I have been pressing for this much-needed reform from my place in the Council ever since 1908, and I congratulate and thank the Government on their decision. Owing, however, to the very heavy officiating list, the real benefit to the officers concerned is not as great as it appears. The officiating period. with long intervals of enforced idleness, is now prolonged to three years and more, and confirmation on Rs. 250 is therefore a bare act of justice. In view of the initial pay in the other Provincial Services. the abolition of the grade of Rs. 200 in the Provincial Judicial Service is more the recognition of a principle than any substantial gain to the Service. I trust this will make the Service still more popular and effective. The University has just proposed that the age of admission to the services may be raised, so that the better class of graduates and the better class of junior practitioners may be drawn. But I must sound a note of warning. Under the recents scheme, the number of munsifs in the grade of Rs. 250 has been increased by 4 and fixed at 70. If the number in the lowest grade be further absorbed in this grade, the total number in the new last grade on Rs. 250 will be (70 + 35 =) 105. The total number of munsifs in the Presidency is 245. Nearly half the total strength of the cadre will therefore be in the lowest grade. This is surely an impossible arrangement, and is sure to create very grave discontent in the near future, when the serious block to promotion will begin to be felt. Further reorganization on altogether different lines will therefore now be necessary, of which I have worked out the details. The time-limit of the debate forbids my going into these details. But I shall be glad to send in to the Hon'ble Member in charge for consideration.

The Budget.

Maulvi Musharraf Husain.

The other point which calls for notice is the appointment of a new officer to be styled the Inspector of Judicial Offices on a salary of Rs. 18,000 per annum. If the post be meant for a member of the Provincial Service—as is not unlikely, so far as may be judged from the salary—then it would be a welcome addition to the very few prize posts held by the Service. The Government should be congratulated on bestowing this post on the Provincial Judicial Service. If however it is meant for an officer of the Civil Service, I do not think it should be popular with the Provincial officers ; nor will it draw the right class of officers from the Civil Service, in which capable men soon find rapid advance in other walks. In any case, the precise nature of this officer's duties, the functions he will be called upon to discharge, the authority at whose suggestion this appointment has been created, should be made known."

The Hon'ble MAULVI MUSHARRAF HUSAIN said :—

" My Lord, I beg, on the occasion of the discussion of the Budget for the year 1914-15, to pass a few remarks on topics which are engrossing public attention.

District Administration.

The most important of these is District Administration, which includes various subjects touching the interest of the people at large. The centre of the whole administration is the District Magistrate and Collector, whom the people regard as being virtually the Local Agent of Government. When the administration was organized at the commencement of British rule, the whole attention of the organizers was directed towards the safety of life and property of the people and to the accurate collection of land-revenue and other taxes, and the District Magistrates were required to look to these two principal objects. During the last century and a half of well-managed and sympathetic British rule these objects have been attained, though here and there new elements of disturbances appear which are confined within the microscopic minority of the people of the Presidency. The people are now disposed to regard the achievements of British rule in India as their natural birth-right, and they look to Government for something more in matters of general improvement of the country. The people now think that the District Magistrate whom they regard as the real representative of Government in the district, should primarily look to education, sanitation, commerce and other subjects affecting their mental, moral and physical welfare. Circumstanced as the District Magistrates are at present, they have to dispose of many trifling matters which could, I submit, be better done by their subodinates. My Lord, as the time allowed for this speech is very short and as I will have to deal with other subjects also, I would suggest shortly that the whole District Administration should now be reorganized on such lines as the present circumstances warrant, and that the District Magistrate should be relieved of the disposal of many matters of a routine nature, which can conveniently be done by his subordinates and of the scrutiny of accounts which may, I submit, be left partly to his subordinates

The Budget.

Maulvi Musharraf Husain.

and partly to auditors who should be appointed for the purpose, and that he should confine his whole attention to general improvement of the district in matters of education, sanitation, communications, commerce and kindred subjects.

Management of Government Estates.

My Lord, your Excellency has come to know by this time by official enquiry and conversation with non-officials that the people are suffering much from a lack of pasture-land for their cattle in this Presidency. In reply to some interpellations your Excellency's Government were pleased to declare that sufficient pasture-land would be reserved in Government Estates. I beg to remind your Excellency's Government of this promise and to request that detailed descriptions of the lands reserved for grazing purposes in the various Government Estates should be speedily notified in the local official Gazette. My Lord, another place where cattle may graze is Reserved Forests. I would remark with regret that, during the last two years or so, the grazing of cattle in Reserved Forests has been practically prohibited by the imposition of increased rates of fees.

Excise.

I beg to congratulate the Government for devising a scheme for the successful reduction of the consumption of liquor and for the increase of revenue under this head. At the same time I beg to request Government to see that liquor is manufactured in Bengal to some extent, so that the people of Bengal may derive some profit from its manufacture.

Forests.

In discussing the management of Forests, my Lord, I am confining my remarks to the Jalpaiguri forests alone. The beds of the rivers, on one or both banks of which there is a reserved forest, are included within the Reserved Forest. These rivers practically remain dry during the summer and cold weather, a very small channel being left for the passage of water. The seeds of trees carried by rain-water are deposited in the bed of the river and are allowed to germinate in the river-bed which remains dry for practically eight months in the year and seedlings come out and grow into trees in a short time. These trees act as natural spurs and cause the accumulation of silt in the channels and necessitate the shifting of the river-beds so as to make room for the passage of water, which causes considerable loss to the neighbouring property. My Lord, this is a very serious subject to which I beg to draw your Excellency's attention. The river-beds should, I submit, be cleared of all trees and they should not form parts of Reserved Forests at all; but should form ordinary pasture-lands not subject to the strict and hard rules of the Forest Department. In this connection I beg to remark that, unfortunately, we have no experts to advise us as to the best method of training these rivers, and I think an expert should be appointed direct from England or America to study this intricate subject on the spot and to advise the Government as to the best way of saving the property from the vagaries of hill currents.

Police.

My Lord, I would, at the risk of criticism, suggest that the police force should be increased and that more police-stations, should be established at suitable places to check the village touts—a class which has sprung out of easy accessibility to District and Subdivisional head-quarters by improved railway communications, and who are increasing the number of litigations and thereby improverishing the people at large.

The Budget.

Maulvi Musharraf Husain.

Education.

In discussing the subject of education, my Lord, I shall dwell chiefly upon the education of the Muhammadan community. Everybody (both officials and non-officials, and Hindus and Muhammadans) is seriously considering what steps should be taken for the spread of liberal education among the Muhammadans who are admittedly very backward in this respect. Some people think that education will spread among them if proper hostel arrangements be made for them with existing institutions. My Lord, I regret I cannot wholly agree with this view. Residence in a hostel means more expenditure than that incurred when a boy lives with his family. The Muhammadans are admittedly poorer than the other communities and, as such, most of them are not competent to defray the expenses incurred by living in hostels. In reply to an interpellation I made in this Council last year I was grieved to learn that out of about 500 high English schools only five were managed by Muhammadans. My Lord, it makes a sympathetic man almost inclined to shed tears at this sad state of the Muhammadan community. This clearly proves, my Lord, that the present high English schools are not situated in centres of Muhammadan population, and it is for this reason and this reason only that the Muhammadans are so very backward in point of English education. I have been cherishing this idea for a very long time and, as an experimental measure, I have established a high English school in a village of the district of Tippera where the population is practically a Muhammadan one, and I am glad to announce that out of 325 boys more than 275 boys are Muhammadans, and the best boys are almost all Muhammadans. This experiment emboldens me to suggest to the Government that, to spread English education among Muhammadans, the Government should encourage the establishment of middle English and high English schools in centres of Muhammadan population. I sincerely believe that the thorny problem of spreading decent English education amongst the Muhammadans will be solved by bringing education to the homes of the people, and not by carrying away boys from their family and collecting them in a town which is the centre of all allurements. Of course by suggesting this course I will not say that some good will not be done if hostels are given to Muhammadans in towns.

Hostels in Calcutta.

I should be failing in my duty if I did not speak on the necessity of providing a hostel somewhere near College Square, where almost all the colleges are situated. The short time allotted to me does not allow me to discuss at length the necessity of this, but I believe it is now admitted by everybody interested in education that such a hostel is necessary.

Admissions in Schools and Colleges.

Many Muhammadan students are refused admission in schools and colleges for want of accommodation, and I would ask the Government to devise some means to remedy this.

Medical.

My Lord, since your Excellency's advent to this Presidency, your Excellency has been instrumental in helping to preserve the lives of the village people from disease and death by generously providing handsome grants for village sanitation and water-supply. This will no doubt be the means of eradicating a great deal of diseases in the future. But, my Lord, at present a great number of people die in villages from cholera and small-pox. The number of doctors in villages being small and the condition of the sufferers being poor, the people suffering from these diseases practically die from want of medical aid and medicine. To remedy this state of affairs each district should, I submit, be provided with doctors whose duty would be to visit villages affected by cholera and small-pox and to distribute medicine amongst the sufferers.

The Budget.

Babu M. N. Ray.

Agriculture.

Since agriculture is the principal means of livelihood in Bengal, the agriculturists should be allowed to avail themselves of the improved system of cultivation and manuring. This they can do if experimental farms are established close to them. The Government, admitting this principle, has established experimental farms in various places; but the country being a large one the number of such farms is not sufficient. I would, therefore, impress upon the Government the necessity of increasing the number of such farms.

Superannuation.

My Lord, the large increase in expenditure under this head from Rs. 26,22,000 in 1911-12 to Rs. 32,31,000 in 1914-15 leaves room for discussion. In saying so, my Lord, I do not wish to admit that deserving persons should not get their pensions. What I want to suggest is that those who are competent to serve the Government should not be allowed to retire to enjoy their pensions and be a burden upon the Public Exchequer while they are yet able to do their work. This matter should be thoroughly gone into, and schemes should be formed to see that the tax-payers should not suffer by the grant of pensions to those who are still capable of service.

Although I am remarking against this increase, I think it my duty to impress upon your Excellency's Government the injustice that is being done to the old Sub-Registrars by the present pension rules. When they were appointed they were under the belief that their services would be retained for life. By the present pension rules, the justice of which is questioned, the pensionable services of these Sub-Registrars have been counted from the date of the reorganization of the department which, I understand, took place only eight years ago, and not from the date of appointment. It is very curious that by this rule these Sub-Registrars, who used to get from Rs. 75 to Rs. 250, will have to be satisfied with a nominal pension of Rs. 10 to Rs. 50. After serving the Government for the whole of their life it is strange that these officers are let off without any decent means of subsistence. My Lord, I hope your Excellency's kind heart will feel for these officers and that your Excellency's Government will do something to ameliorate their condition.

Communications.

I beg to offer my sincere thanks to your Excellency's Government for the suitable provision that has been made in this year's Budget for the improvement of the Dooars roads. My Lord, we wanted a thorough metalled road from Tetulia to Kumargram for the improvement of the whole district. This was the opinion of a representative meeting of both planting and other interests at Jalpaiguri. I hope your Excellency's Government will accept the opinion of the people and spend the money accordingly."

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY said :—

Sanitation.

My Lord, with a closing balance of 28 lakhs of rupees, it would serve no useful purpose to make any suggestions for increased expenditure under any of the heads of the Budget for 1914-15. But I beg with your Lordship's leave to make some remarks in connection with some of the topics regarding sanitation and education—matters which are of considerable importance and in respect of which I have had to do something in connection with my duties as a person connected with the various local bodies in the mufassal and a person connected with the Calcutta University. I find, my Lord, under the head of sanitation, that is, "Medical," a provision of nearly 31 lakhs of rupees has been made for the year, including a lump sum of non-recurring expenditure of over 18 lakhs and a lump grant of recurring expenditure of over 9 lakhs. These figures are very satisfactory. But one has got to note with sorrow that there was a saving in the year just over, out of the allotment under this head, of nearly 10 lakhs of rupees. This means that although ample provision is being made for improvements of sanitation at least in recent years, for some reason or other, the object aimed at is not fully gained, the sums allotted are not being utilized. I have no right to speak generally in connection with the various allotments made under the head of sanitation, but I can speak with some knowledge of the grants made to the municipalities in Bengal under this head. With regard to the surrender of the income from the public works cess made to the District Boards, it is premature now to speak, because unless and until the Cess Act has been amended it is not possible to compel the District Boards to spend the money out of the amounts so surrendered on sanitary improvements. But with regard to the allotments specially made for the improvement of the sanitation in municipalities, the difficulty which the suburban municipalities felt—of course the municipality which I have the honour to represent felt no difficulty as they knew how to utilize the money—is this. An allotment is made in the Budget for some important sanitary project ; half the year is over ; the persons who are responsible for seeing the proper application of the money commence making their report, and at the end of the year either a small proportion of the allotment has been spent or none at all. Similar difficulties are felt in connection with the expenditure of sums allotted for the sanitation in connection with the District Boards. The opinion which I have formed from an examination of these huge surpluses from year to year is this, that unless and until the present Sanitary Board is put on a more satisfactory basis and unless and until that Board can command the services of a larger number of experts in different departments, it can never cope with the work that these large sums must from year to year call forth. Take the case of the scheme for water-supply in the rural areas or take the case of the drainage scheme in the suburban municipalities. No doubt the Sanitary Board exercises a general control, prepares the scheme for these municipalities and attempts to the best of their power to push on with the work. The Sanitary Board has at its command a very few experts, and very few people who can really go through the schemes and who can put pressure so as to push the schemes through. The reconstitution of the Sanitary Board upon a more enlarged basis, with, say, a dozen experts, each in one subject, with an office allotted to each, will help no doubt not only in the framing of the schemes required for the several suburban areas, but will also ensure that the works are properly pushed through. There is no use relying upon the overseers of the mufassal municipalities with Rs. 100 a month, nor with a District Board Engineer on Rs. 400 a month, with a small establishment. It is no use asking them to prepare a scheme and to see through the working out of the scheme and to push on with the work. The solution that I can suggest for the consideration of the Government is, as I have already submitted, the reconstitution of the Sanitary Board on a really efficient and enlarged basis. I don't expect any political cry raised upon the ground that these local authorities should be left to themselves and should not be hampered in working out the details of sanitary measures. Speaking for myself and the people with whom I have worked, such assistance from the Sanitary Board and such direction from the Sanitary Board which I have pointed out will be welcomed, and will not be resented as an invasion on the principle of local self-government.

The Budget.

Babu M. N. Ray.

Secondary Education.

The second subject upon which I desire to invite the attention of your Lordship's Government is the allotment on secondary education. I find from the figures that the total allotment on grants-in-aid for the year has been fixed at 16 lakhs of rupees ; compare that with Rs. 22,80,000 which formed the figures of the revised estimates of the year just over, including, of course, the grants to schools under private management. There is, however, another sum : I find a lump provision for secondary education. The figures for the year just over have been Rs. 1,96,000 and the figures for the present year Rs. 1,28,000. While I could find no objection with regard to the allotment made under the head of Sanitation, because the allotment appears to be adequate, with regard to the allotment under the head of Education. I am bound to say that they are not sufficient. In the inadequacy of this allotment I believe the Government have a responsibility which cannot be lightly dismissed. I beg it to be understood that the remarks which I have got to make do not refer to allotments on education generally, but only on the particular class of education, which is known as secondary education, that is on education in schools which prepare for the Matriculation examination of the Calcutta University. Much has been said in recent times about the lowering of standards of the examinations of the Calcutta University and the harmful consequences. which the lowering of the standards cause, and are likely to cause in the future. Whatever my private views on the matter may be, it is not desirable that one should commit himself publicly, but there is one thing which I have no doubt most of us will feel and that is that of the very large number of students who come up from the mufassal schools and present themselves at the Matriculation examination, a considerable percentage are quite unfit to carry on their studies in the University. What is the reason for this? Is it because the Bengali Hindus and Muhammadans are really intellectually so inferior that this is the case? I submit not. What I have found is that gentlemen connected with what are called Matriculation or high English schools in the mufassal have found that the authorities of these schools labour under very great difficulties. The total fee receipts in most cases we have found to be about Rs. 300 a month, and having regard to the Government grants (the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell very rarely gives these schools more than Rs. 50, Rs. 60 or Rs. 70 a month), the whole teaching staff, including grants to libraries and other things, have to be provided within the limited sum of Rs. 350 generally. It is found necessary therefore to entertain for the posts of Head Masters and superior teachers gentlemen who may be quite good men for the degrees that they have got, but who are not perhaps quite competent to be at the head of Matriculation or high English schools. The reason is that the school authorities cannot pay more than Rs. 50 to Rs. 70 to a Head Master. The only possible solution of the difficulty is for the Government to come in and to make substantial grants—not Rs. 50, Rs. 60 or Rs. 70—but at least Rs. 200 a month for schools deserving of public support. Well, this may appear to be an ideal, for if you proceed to do so, you will have to augment the grant for secondary schools by nearly three or four times the present allotment. But in the interests of sound education and in the interests of proper University standards, it is absolutely necessary that this money should be forthcoming. If you do not provide the money, these Matriculation schools will go on sending up a large number of students. The University authorities will, I hope my friend the Hon'ble Dr. Sarbadhikari will excuse me for saying so, not find it easy to reject 80 per cent. of the students that come up for the Matriculation examination ; so a large number of students must begin University studies not perhaps to the interests of sound education.

The Budget.

Rai Hari Mohan Chandra Bahadur.

Lowis Jubilee Sanitarium.

My Lord, I congratulate your Excellency's Government on the very prosperous Budget presented to the Council, and, on behalf of the Committee of the Lowis Jubilee Sanitarium, Darjeeling, thank your Excellency's Government for the provision very kindly made for a grant to that Institution which is in need of help.

The Budget.

Babu Upendra Lal Ray.

Enlargement of the Sanitary Board.

I tender my respectful thanks to your Excellency's Government for having enlarged the Sanitary Board by adding to it a Municipal and a District Board Member and a representative of the European community. I now submit that the Sanitary Board may be further widened and strengthened by the inclusion in it of a representative of the landholders—a body who are deeply interested in, and whose help is needed in various ways for, the sanitary improvement and medical relief of the country, and by the inclusion of a gentleman from the middle class who is a non-official and not a Member of your Excellency's Council, but who has actual experience of the country and who is in constant touch with the people in the rural areas.

Sanitation.

It is a pity that, as appears from paragraph 51, page 20 of the Budget, so much as 10 lakhs of rupees of the grant under the head of Sanitation was not utilized during the year 1913-14. I believe this state of things will continue unless and until the Sanitary Board is vested with powers to supervise effectually the workings of the District Boards and Municipalities in matters of sanitation and medical relief and to compel effectual steps to be taken to utilize the grant which your Excellency's Government make for the purpose. I may be permitted to add here that the physical features and consequent necessities of East and West Bengal are not similar. Canals, which are necessary for economic improvement and sanitation, are not so much required in East as in West Bengal. Such works cannot be undertaken by District Boards and, therefore, they should be taken in hand by the Public Works Department of the Government.

Pasteur Institute for Bengal.

Another matter which suggests itself to me is that Bengal should have a Pasteur Institute of her own for the benefit of her people, and I submit the matter for the consideration of your Excellency's Government.

Enhancement of the pay of the lower grade of Ministerial Officers.

And once again I request your Excellency's Government to consider whether the time has not come when the pay of the lower grade ministerial officers should be enhanced on account of the high prices of food-grains. In order to place before your Excellency's Government figures to show the average pay of each ministerial officer per head of his dependants, I attempted to collect the required statistics, but the ministerial officers whom I asked to let me have the statistics were unwilling to comply with my request without Government orders. If Government would permit the ministerial officers concerned to let me have the statistics, I could collate them and submit them to Government and then the condition of the officers concerned would be fully realized.

The Hon'ble BABU UPENDRA LAL RAY said :—

Education.

My Lord, the work of the Council has been considerably shortened this year by the absence of resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement, with the exception of the three moved by the Hon'ble Maharaja Ranajit Sinha of Nashipur on the 13th of March last. The consideration of those resolutions did not take up much of your Excellency's time. The representatives of Government in charge of the various departments have considered their own subjects very carefully, and it is to be hoped that the amounts earmarked for specific purposes will be utilized and will not be allowed to lapse during the year and thus lose their respective places in the budget for the following year.

The Budget.

Babu Upendra Lal Ray.

As an instance, I quote the proposal for the provincialization of the Victoria Technical School at Chittagong. This was provided for in the current year's Budget, and the Hon'ble Mr. Kuchler, the then Director of Public Instruction, in his speech on the Budget last year, observed as follows :—

> I may mention here, in the first place, that the policy of provincializing technical institutes is being steadily carried out by Government and that at no distant date we hope that a very large number of technical institutes throughout the whole province will be brought under provincial management.

I do not know whether this scheme has been shelved or whether it is in contemplation to utilize a portion of the grant under the heading of Education for this specific purpose. The necessity for devoting a portion of the grant to this branch of education cannot be overrated, and the growing needs of the country certainly demand that more elaborate industrial and technical schools should be established in all parts of the province. The late Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam held a representative conference at Dacca under the presidency of the Hon'ble Mr. Nathan, whose vast knowledge of these matters is beyond question.

Several recommendations were made, but it is not known whether they have been forgotten or whether they have been put aside in consequence of the territorial redistribution. If the recommendations have been partially carried out—and I am not aware whether this has been done—I would venture to suggest that the rest may be taken in hand after careful consideration by your Excellency's Government. Who amongst us is not aware that a large number of successful candidates at the University examinations from year to year are left out of employment, which they seek so very earnestly and are in consequence plunged into misery and distress? Suggestions have often been made that our youths should take to industrial and commercial pursuits, but unless adequate facilities are afforded for their education on those lines their struggle for existence will become keener and the bitter cries of the unemployed for bread will not be hushed into silence—the more so, because, although living is becoming dearer and dearer every day, the pay of the ministerial officers, who represent the bulk of the middle-class population, has been only slightly increased. A glance at the Budget will show that many well-paid appointments have been, and will also be, created. It is true that the necessity for such appointments does exist ; but at the same time it is clear that the amount required for one such post in any particular department sometimes exceeds the aggregate amount paid to the ministerial and the menial staff of that department. I notice with pleasure that a sum of Rs 43,000 has been provided for a new survey school at Comilla. This is undoubtedly a move in the right direction. Suggestions have from time to time been made for the affiliation of the Chittagoug College in certain subjects which are not taught there at present. The matter was represented to Your Excellency in the addresses of several local public bodies and was also personally laid before the Hon'ble Messrs. Lyon and Hornell during their visits to Chittagong. It is not known whether this has been sanctioned and will come under the heading of Education. Another fact that strikes me as curious is that no amount has been allotted for the construction of quarters for the Principal of this College, although a sum of Rs. 25,165 was set apart in the Budget for the current year for this purpose. This item does not, I regret to observe, find a place in the Budget under discussion for reasons unknown. The answer to my question on this subject yesterday shews that the matter is under the consideration of Your Excellency's Government, and it is hoped that some decision would be arrived at at an early date.

The needs for the wider dissemination of higher education, as well as the congestion at the Calcutta colleges, justify the improvement of many mufassal colleges and the raising of the status thereof and also the formation of new first-grade colleges in some district head-quarters. This is not possible unless the Government are liberal in their contributions. The

The Budget.

Babu Upendra Lal Ray.

Comilla College is in need of such assistance and the public have been anxiously expecting it. The pay and allowances of the Inspecting staff seem to swallow up a large portion of the allotments for education, leaving an insignificant amount for distribution amongst the ministerial officers of the Education Department which, as I have already observed, is so badly in need of grants.

Sanitation and Water-supply.

My Lord, the people of this Presidency are deeply grateful to Your Excellency for the keen and sympathetic interest which you have been taking in the question of sanitation and water-supply. The Municipality of Chittagong have been pushing through the scheme of filtered water-supply for which they have got a very liberal and handsome donation of Rs. 2,00,000 from Your Excellency's Government—a bounty really in excess of their expectations—for which they are deeply thankful to Your Excellency. The scheme, when completed, will bear eloquent testimony to Your Excellency's solicitude for the welfare of the inhabitants committed to your fostering care. I also take this opportunity to convey to Your Excellency the thanks of the Municipality for the provision of the sum of Rs. 20,000 for sanitary improvements in the town of Chittagong—a grant which they have been enjoying for about five years now and without which it would not have been possible for them to meet their requirements in this direction It is fervently hoped that the grant will be continued from year to year, since the result has been very satisfactory, inasmuch as malaria has practically been stamped out of the town. It is gratifying to note that other municipalities have also been shaking off their indifference and apathy in these matters, and some of them have already prepared rough schemes and forwarded them to the Sanitary Board for sanction. The Chandpur Municipality has sent such a scheme which, when thrashed out by the Sanitary Board, will, it is hoped, receive the same favourable consideration in Your Excellency's hands as the others have received. The problem of water-supply in the rural areas is a very difficult one to solve, and in that direction also I notice with pleasure that the public have been waking up as will appear from the numerous applications which are pouring in for the re-excavation of existing tanks, and I am glad that these applications are being treated by the District Boards with such sympathy as they deserve. It is an accepted theory that in rural areas in Bengal, tanks, and not wells, constitute the principal source of water-supply. The strict parda system prevalent in Hindu and Musalman societies requires that there should be several tanks in every village from which the people may fetch water for domestic and culinary purposes, as it is not possible for the average villager to employ servants. I confess that it is not possible for the Government to undertake the work of excavating tanks in the villages as it involves an enormous outlay.

The people themselves should be attracted to it, and this can be done by the Government alone and not by any one else, for the following reasons: There are villages without number where there already exist numerous tanks owned by several co-sharers. These tanks are not taken care of when the co-sharers separate—to say nothing of tanks belonging to different families. It often happens that the poor co-sharer cannot join with his well-to-do partner in undertaking the work of improving the tank. Generally there is resistance and obstruction offered by one or more of such co-sharers when some others come forward to re-excavate the joint tank. If, therefore, the chances of offering such resistance are removed without in any way affecting the proprietary rights of the unwilling partners and some protection for the money spent is afforded by Government by legislation, many of the existing tanks will, within the next few years, be restored to their former condition or improved considerably by the owners themselves without any pecuniary assistance from the Government. This can be done by allowing such of the co-sharers as may be willing to carry on the work of excavation the exclusive right of fishing in the tank for such a period as might be deemed sufficient to cover the expenses incurred for excavation. The longer the period of enjoyment of this fishery right the stronger will be the attraction and incentive to the co-sharers to excavate the tank. The right of exclusive fishery in a tank is in many places a valuable right. If this suggestion commends itself to Your Excellency's acceptance, a committee may be appointed to consider the question in detail, and if thought fit legislation may then be undertaken to carry out the recommendations of the committee.

The Budget.

Babu Upendra Lal Ray.

Port of Chittagong.

My Lord, I wish to say a few words about the Port of Chittagong. Many persons often make the observation that this port is a rival of the Port of Calcutta. If the trade statistics of the two ports are compared, it will appear at a glance that this observation is wholly unfounded and unjustifiable, as the trade of the Port of Chittagong is quite insignificant compared with that of the Port of Calcutta. Chittagong can very properly be described as the sister port of Calcutta. The congestion of traffic at Calcutta is a source of grave anxiety to those interested in its development ; but at Chittagong considerable tracts of land below the jetties and on the foreshore have been acquired by the Port Trust, which merchants can lease on very suitable terms for the construction of mills and warehouses. A line of railway has also been laid along the river bank affording both river and rail communication for trade of every description. The port is situated at a distance of only nine miles from the Bay of Bengal and is within easy reach of big sea-going vessels. If the Assam-Bengal Railway, which feeds the port, were supplied with suitable branches and connections, Chittagong would be the only and the natural port for a tract of country measuring about 80,000 square miles and containing a population of about nineteen millions. The condition of the river requires attention, and the necessity for a second dredger is now being very keenly felt. It is only fair that from her natural situation Chittagong should be given a share of consideration and not be made to depend upon on the overflow traffic of Calcutta, where further developments involve enormous expenditure of money. My Lord, I do not grudge any such expenditure for the senior port, but only press the claims of her sister port. I fail to understand the apprehensions of some of the traders of Calcutta who have opposed any demands for improved facilities of communication and the opening up of new railway lines connecting with the Assam-Bengal Railway. It is admitted on all sides that the existing accommodation for trade at Calcutta cannot cope with the growing needs of the port. What, therefore, My Lord, can be the harm in allowing it to go to Chittagong from where it can be distributed to the surrounding tracts of land at much less expense ?

Erosion of the Town of Noakhali.

There are wild rumours in circulation about the fate of the town of Noakhali which is in danger of being washed away by the Megna river. The proposal for the transfer of the headquarters of the district has caused alarm in the minds of the public, especially in the mercantile community who generally find it difficult to acquire suitable sites for their business premises. If the cost of protecting the town from erosion is prohibitive, the anxieties of the people may be removed by an announcement that the headquarters will be shifted. If for any reasons the place where it is proposed to build the new town cannot be declared at present, the intention to do so may simply be announced so that persons anxious to build more houses in the present town may await the final decision of Your Excellency's Government in the matter and thus save large amounts of money which would otherwise be wasted.

The Grand Trunk Canal Project.

The Grand Trunk Canal Project is likely to mature within a measurable distance of time. Although it cannot be denied that such a canal is necessary, not only from a sanitary point of view but also in the interests of trade, questions of the site for the outfall and the alignment have given rise to some controversy. In this connection I beg to invite Your Excellency's attention to the suggestions which have been put forward by the Committee of the Bengal Mahajan Sabha. It has been urged that the alignment proposed by Mr. O. C. Lees with Badartola as the site for the outfall will make the canal longer by eight miles and will entail a far heavier outlay. The Committee of the Mahajan Sabha have made a sensible suggestion, which I venture to think, will be fully investigated and considered, and if such investigation shows that the route proposed by them with the outfall at either Chitpur or Cossipore will be less expensive, more quickly completed and considerably shorter in length, I see no reason why the suggestion should not be recommended. The Mahajan Sabha suggest that the route should follow the existing new cut and the Bhangor canal from Kulti, and that the outfall should at all events be on the northern side of the Howrah Bridge, either at Chitpur or Cossipore. There is no denying the fact that the majority of the Jute Mills are on the Chitpur side, and that it is necessary and desirable that the sea and river-borne traffic should be demarcated. I would therefore invite Your Excellency's attention to the suggestion put forward in this connection, which I have no hesitation in saying fully deserves a thorough investigation.

Munsifs.

My Lord, I will conclude my speech with only a few words about the heading of "Civil and Sessions Court—Munsifs." In introducing the Budget last year, the Hon'ble Nawab Syed Shams-ul-Huda remarked :—

"Under the head 'Civil and Sessions Court—Munsifs', an additional provision of Rs. 50,000 has been made for the regrading of munsifs and of Rs. 32,000 for additional munsifs. The regrading is intended to raise the average stipends of the munsifs in the Bengal service to a level with that of Bihar and Orissa. This will to a certain extent remove the grievances of a very deserving body of public servants, who have contributed so much to the efficiency of the judicial administration in the province."

The Hon'ble Sir William Duke during the discussion of the Budget also remarked as follows : "It was stated at the same time (referring to the reply given on the 5th of March, 1913) that the question of the pay of the lowest grade of munsifs would be taken up when the orders of the Government of India about the reorganization have been received." I find with pleasure that the pledge has been fulfilled, and that the Secretary of State for India in Council has been pleased to sanction the reorganization of the Provincial Judicial Service and the regrading of munsifs at a total cost of Rs 68,400 per annum, which has been provided for. It is not clear whether sanction has been obtained for raising the pay of the lowest grade of munsifs, for which a sum of Rs. 21,000 has been budgeted under the general heading of "Obligatory Schemes." That this should be done at no distant date admits of no doubt, and the relief so anxiously sought for by the lowest grade of munsifs should be forthcoming as early as practicable.

The Hon'ble BABU PRASANNA KUMAR RAY said :—

General Remarks.

My Lord, The Hon'ble Member in charge of Finance is to be congratulated on the sound and excellent budget presented to us this year. The statement consists as usual of three parts—the actuals for one year, the revised estimate for another, and a budget estimate for a third. To a lay man my Lord, these dry bones of facts and figures do not appeal, but this can be said of them with certainty that they embody the outstanding policy of the

The Budget.

Babu Prasanna Kumar Ray.

Government and puts in prominence the methods to be followed in giving effect to it. My Lord, prima facie, therefore Your Lordship's Government deserves sincere congratulations from every loyal citizen of Bengal for your Lordship's generous policy regarding education, sanitation, and other administrative affairs tending to the welfare of the people concerned.

But at the same time I confess to a sense of regret that from a closer perusal of the statement we find that in the last two years a deficit has been averted by an opening balance which I venture to submit is partly due to the special doles from the Imperial Exchequer not being fully utilized for the purpose for which they are intended. Therefore, My Lord, it is with some hesitation that I offer my remarks on it, and when I make them, it is not because that I fail to recognize the difficulties with which the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Finance has to contend with, but because I realize that this is the only opportunity before us to give expression to our views regarding the several branches of administration.

Excise.

Going through the item of receipts and expenditure the first item we meet that deserves comment is Excise. It is with a sense of great satisfaction that we notice that Your Excellency's Government is taking steps to check the consumption of opium and charas. In the past years the policy of the Excise Department was safeguarding the interest of the Government revenue rather than reducing drunkenness. My Lord, only imposition of high duties and thereby making liquor as costly as possible is not to be the aim of Government. A high price for a commodity like liquor, unless it is high to a prohibitive degree, is not an effective check at all. It means only "so much more taken out of the pockets of the poor consumers." The remedy lies, if I may be permitted to suggest it, in reducing the facilities for obtaining the drink by a gradual reduction in the number of excise shops and also, as was suggested by the Hon'ble Mr. Moberly, by curtailing the hours during which shops would be open for the sale of intoxicants.

Medical aid and Sanitation.

I now come to the question of medical aid and sanitation (items 50 and 60). As regards the former I beg to offer my sincere congratulation to your Excellency's Government for provision being made for jungle clearing and for nursing arrangements in mufassal hospitals. Though the grant is not adequate enough, yet everyone is grateful to the Government for a move in the right direction.

As regards sanitation, on behalf of the people of Chittagong I beg to thank Your Lordship for the grant of a munificent sum of two lakhs of rupees for water-supply within the municipal area. For the last twenty years Chittagong, with all its beautiful and natural advantages, was a veritable refuge of cholera and malaria; and who does not recall with horror the number of mortality in the months of April, May and June in the thickly-populated parts of the town every year. The scheme, though it is in its infancy, will I hope be gradually perfected under the sympathetic guidance of Your Lordship's Government.

Your Excellency's Government in the Resolution reviewing the reports of the working of the District Boards of Bengal just issued, has observed that the Boards have not spent the sum allotted to them for sanitation. My Lord, as a responsible member of one of the important boards of this province, I may respectfully remind Your Lordship that the allotted sum was made over to us at the fag end of the year, and it was not possible for us then to devise schemes within so short a period. Money may be spent in a minute. But it is our duty to see that it is spent systematically and usefully.

The Budget.

Babu Prasanna Kumar Ray.

Education.

Now I come to the most important item in the statement, viz. :— Education. In the matter of schools, both general and special, a sum of Rs. 26,50,000 is to be spent including inspection charges (which alone amounts to Rs. 7,89,000). It is a matter of regret that more than 25 per cent. of the allotted sum will go as inspection charges. Let us hope that in future we shall see the percentage on the decrease. It is to be regretted that a very inadequate provision—namely Rs. 67,500 has been made for technical and industrial schools. In a province like Bengal, where the need for technical education is very great, considering the miserable circumstances of the middle class people, the Government provision of such a petty sum is a matter of surprise. "The evident economic advantage that a nation obtains," says one of the leading writers of Commerce and Industry, "through the skill of its producers is a prima facie ground for State aid being given towards the attainments of suitable training. Expenditure for such an object is productive, even from a financial point of view."

As regards Elementary education Your Excellency's Government is trying to help us and for this thanks of the people are due to Your Lordship. The provision made may be said to be a good start. Then a sum of Rs. 2,17,000 has been provided for hostels outside Calcutta and Dacca. The Chittagong College, though a first grade one, has not yet got a good hostel of its own. The boarders now live in a house, which is detrimental to both study and health. Such is the case with the Collegiate School hostel. In Comilla also the Victoria College has not got a suitable hostel of its own. I appeal to Your Excellency for necessary aid in this respect. My last observation under this head is that provision ought to be made for making the Chittagong College a self-contained one—having all the branches of study affiliated. Every year at least 50 to 60 students flock to Calcutta only because the Chittagong College has no affiliation in Logic. The Comilla College, though near at hand, cannot accommodate more than the prescribed number. It is not desirable that students should flock to Calcutta, when suitable provisions may be made nearer home. Therefore I appeal for more generous aid for the Chittagong College and also for raising the Comilla College to a first grade one. Another matter, which I would like to invite the attention of Your Lordship to, is the difficulty felt by Eastern Bengal students in securing their admission into the Presidency College. It is the premier college in Bengal and no distinction ought to be made there whether the student comes from a Hindu School, or the Hare School or a school in an unknown hamlet of Bengal.

Erosion of the Town of Noakhali.

My Lord, I would be failing in my duty if I do not represent to your Lordship the condition of the town of Noakhali. The river is within half a mile of the town and (God forbid) the town may be washed away within a short time. Truths and half truths are being circulated daily as to the transfer of the headquarters to some other place. It is natural that this causes alarm in the public mind. Therefore, in order to allay public anxiety, a definite pronouncement ought to be made by the Government on this subject.

Increase of Pay of Munsifs.

Now the last observation that I wish to make in connection with this year's budget is the supreme satisfaction we feel that at last legislative grievances of a deserving class of public servants have been redressed by Your Excellency's Government. I mean the provision for the increase of pay of the last grade of munsifs. It is a proof positive that Your Excellency is keenly solicitous that justice ought to be done where it has been too long delayed.

The Budget.

Babu Prasanna Kumar Ray.

BENGAL BUDGET, 1914-15.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 6.

(The discussion on the Budget was resumed.)

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

The Finance Committee.

"Your Excellency, as at present constituted, the Finance Committee is not in a position to render much help to Government. The Committee is appointed in August and meets towards the end of the year. It has one or two sittings, and practically it becomes a formal matter to approve the distribution of the unallotted amount. No doubt the statement prepared and laid before the Committee is a well-considered one. But the non-official member finds it difficult to bring forward any new scheme or project or to suggest any alteration at the fag end of the year, when the Government have considered and prepared during the year, with the aid of its vast resources, schemes for adoption. A more active participation of the non-official members could be secured if the Finance Committee is appointed at the beginning of the year and is made a Standing Committee, and the non-official members are permitted to bring before the Committee any proposal for proper discussion and elucidation. The interchange of views between Government members and the non-official members and the threshing out of facts and figures in the Committee will satisfy both parties as regards the feasibility or otherwise of the schemes or suggestions. Such a Standing Committee will afford an incentive to the non-official members and will, at the same time, save the time of the Council on discussions on motions brought before the Council on financial matters.

The Budget.

Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur.

At the time of the next financial settlement, I would suggest to Your Excellency's Government to apply to the Government of India to surrender to the Government of Bengal the whole of the revenues collected in Bengal under the heads Land Revenue, Stamps, Assessed Taxes, the Government of India retaining the entire revenues from Customs, Salt and Railways, instead of presenting doles from time to time. The Budget shows a deficit of Rs. 1,05,98,000, which is covered by the opening balance of Rs. 2,04,30,000, and this leaves a closing balance of Rs. 1,98,32,000, out of which again Rs. 1,69,36,000 is earmarked on particular items of expenditure. inclusive of the minimum working balance of 20 lakhs. This leaves only Rs. 28,96,000 for new expenditure in future, which is too meagre a sum. This is an unsatisfactory state of things. This shews that the equilibrium of our provincial finance is dependent on the system of doles from the Government of India. It is for Your Excellency's Government to consider whether this state of things cannot be altered by securing the whole of the progressive revenue under Land Revenue, Stamps and Assessed Taxes which will produce an additional revenue of about Rs. 2.56,69,000.

Primary Education.

There is no special provision in the budget for the promotion of primary education in Calcutta. I find lump sum provisions, recurring and non-recurring, have been made for improving popular education and education generally. Primary education is a crying need in Calcutta, and I feel sure the matter is engaging the attention of Government. The Hon'ble Mr. Hornell has roused public attention to this subject with a view to obtain the co-operation of local bodies. There is an erroneous impression that the promotion of primary education is a duty imposed on the Calcutta Corporation. When the Calcutta Municipal Act was on the anvil in 1888. an attempt was made to saddle the Corporation with this expenditure. Sir Henry Harrison, the distinguished Chairman of the Corporation, the Honourable Member in charge of the Bill, in opposing the motion, observed, 'The present rates have been fixed with a view to the requirements of the town without taking into account any of the expenditure on education' and further on he observed, 'If the education is to supplement sanitation. would it be right?' As the Hon'ble Sir Charles Paul, the then Advocate-General, also in opposing the motion observed :—

'So long as Municipal Funds are urgently required for sanitary and other purposes, I would protest against enlarging the area of the subjects to which they might be applied.'

My lord, a comparison is made with Bombay and other places. This was also successfully repudiated by Sir Henry Harrison as he observed :—

'Calcutta has to levy its taxation almost entirely by rates on property' and we all know the ever-increasing and urgent demands for the sanitary improvement of the town. Bombay has an extraneous income of about twenty-five lakhs of rupees from Excise, Octroi and tobacco duties, and Bombay contributes, if my information is correct, about one and a quarter lakhs of rupees for the promotion of primary education. In England there is separate taxation assigned for separate purposes. It will thus be seen that the educational expenditure in other countries are entirely different from those of Calcutta. The Corporation nevertheless contributes Rs. 70,000 for educational purposes. I submit therefore that the Government may be pleased to take up in earnest the question of primary education in Calcutta and provide adequate funds for it.

The Budget.

Babu S. N. Banerji.

Sanitation.

My lord, I find Rs. 50,000 has been budgetted for jungle-clearing. I am afraid the sum is inadequate. Malaria is still as rampant as before in the province under your Excellency's sway. The congestion of Calcutta is not a little due to the malarial condition of outlying municipalities. In the remote mufussal it is raging with more or less virulence. The cutting of rank vegetation in jungles will no doubt contribute in some measure to the abatement of malaria. A much larger sum of money should therefore be devoted to this purpose. Equally important is the removal of obstruction to drainage and obliteration of cess-pools : works like the Magra Hât drainage scheme are beneficial to the country. The improvement of waterways, dredging of old and drying water-courses serve double purposes—improvement of water-supply and drainage and easy and cheap means of inland trade. No expenditure of money is too large on such schemes. In this connection. I beg to invite the attention of Your Excellency's Government to the condition of Tolly's Nala to which attention has been drawn several times in this Council.

Relief in flooded areas.

In the Budget under the head of "Miscellaneous" only Rs. 50,000 has been provided for expenditure in gratuitous relief in flooded areas. Having regard to the extensive area affected by the floods, the devastation caused by it, and the immensity of distress prevailing in the areas, I venture to submit for the consideration of Your Excellency's Government whether the grant is at all adequate. The sympathy of Your Excellency's Government with the people at the time of their dire distress, and the co-operation of official and non-official workers to save the lives of people and to alleviate their distress, evoked widespread gratitude from the country, and I feel I am not making an ineffectual appeal in praying for a substantial increase of grant under this head. In this connection I should be failing in my duty if I did not pay a warm tribute to my Hon'ble friend Mr. Lyon for the ability, industry, devotion and self-sacrificing zeal with which he discharged the onerous duties as the head of the relief operations. As the Secretary of the Central Relief Organization in Calcutta, I speak from personal knowledge of the advice, help and encouragement which were freely and ungrudgingly extended to us by my Hon'ble friend. It is to us a matter of regret that the state of his health compels him to take leave. We sincerely hope and trust that he will come back renovated in health to resume his duties.

District Charitable Society.

There is an allotment of Rs. 1,70,000 for donation for charitable purposes. My lord, in the absence of a Poor Law in this country the various charitable institutions conducted by the representatives of the people give relief to the aged, the sick, the invalid, the widows and orphans thrown into destitution by the sudden death of the bread-winner. The District Charitable Society of Calcutta is the oldest charitable institution, being founded in the year 1838. There are two branches—Indian and European—who work hand in hand and look after their respective communities. The grant to this most useful society is very small. I believe for the last thirty or forty years the same grant has continued, which is, as I find from the annual report of the society, Rs. 1,200 a month from the Government of India, and Rs. 250 from the Local Government. The population of Calcutta from 1872 to 1911 has increased from 6,33,000 to 8,93,000, but the grant remains the same. I earnestly pray that the Government may be pleased to make an increased grant to this most useful Society."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said :—

"My first words on this occasion will be an expression of hope that the time-limit allotted to us on this occasion may be extended to 20 minutes."

The Budget.

The President; Babu S. N. Banerji.

The PRESIDENT said :—

"The Hon'ble Member is already aware that I have ruled that a time-limit of 15 minutes is to be imposed. He will not therefore waste his alloted time by discussing that ruling."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said :—

"I simply want to bring the matter to Your Excellency's notice. That is all."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"I must request Hon'ble Members to aim at a limit of 15 minutes. Of course I won't stop anyone in the middle of a sentence which everybody wants to hear. But the Hon'ble Member must try to keep within the limit."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said :—

The Provincial Settlement.

"My Lord, this is the last year of the Provincial Settlement. It was temporarily arrived at in 1912 on the elevation of this Government to the status of a Presidency Government. My Lord, the Provincial Settlements have a very important bearing upon the financial position of the province. Looking at the Budget figures for 1914-15, we find that whereas the expenditure comes to about 7 crores, the revenue is about 6 crores. There is a deficit of about a crore of rupees, and but for the benefactions of the Imperial Government our position would be serious. I think, my Lord, having regard to the importance of Bengal as a province, we ought to be able to pay our own way, to stand upon our own legs, without any reference to any extraneous aid which we might obtain. A slight readjustment of an important provincial head would, I think, remedy this evil. Stamps are a divided revenue. The revenue under the head of Stamps is 216 crores of rupees. It is divided between the Imperial Government and the Provincial Government. We get one crore and eight lakhs, and the Imperial Government get one crore and eight lakhs. My suggestion is, and I submit it for the consideration of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Finance Department, that we should get the whole, that is to say, an addition of 108 lakhs to our revenue. I think that will square our accounts. I have called attention to this matter from my position in the Imperial Legislative Council, and I have no doubt that if proper representation were made by the Government of Bengal, a sympathetic response would be given.

Sanitation and Education.

Member after member have referred to the unfortunate fact that the authorities are not able to spend the allotments which are made under the heads of Sanitation and Education. I need not refer to these figures. They were given by my Hon'ble friend Babu Mahendra Nath Ray yesterday. My friend suggested that the Sanitary Board should be reconstituted. My friend the Hon'ble Rai Hari Mohan Chandra Bahadur in the speech that he delivered last year from his place in the Council recommended that a Central Board should be constituted in association with the Sanitary Board for the purpose of supervising the work of sanitation throughout the province. I do not know what answer the Hon'ble Member in charge of the department will give, but it does seem to me that it is important that we should have Standing Committees of this Council, one for sanitation and another for education, to be associated with the authorities in charge. The effect would be, I venture to submit, to quicken the pace of the administrative machinery; schemes would be rapidly submitted; work would be speedily carried out.

My Lord, in the course of the observations which my friend to the left made yesterday, he said that the examination standard of the University had been lowered, and—"

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"I did not commit myself to any expression of opinion. I said that there is an impression that the standard has been lowered, but I did not commit myself."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said :—

"I accept that. I am very glad that that explanation has been forthcoming. because the statement does not come before the public with the high authority of my Hon'ble friend to the left. It is an impression, but inasmuch as that impression has found expression in this Council, I deem it my duty to refer to it for a moment. The two points which my Hon'ble friend raised are, first, that the standard has been lowered, and secondly, that there are students who pass the Matriculation Examination who do not know English sufficiently well to be able to follow the lectures delivered in English. My point of agreement with my Hon'ble friend are so many that I can afford to record my dissent from him as regards this matter. So far as the standard of examinations is concerned, I do not think it has at all been lowered. No doubt the percentage of passes has been very high, and it is for the reason that in consequence of persistent pressure on the part of the University authorities, the efficiency of the teaching in the colleges and schools has greatly improved, with the result to which my Hon'ble friend has referred. So far as Calcutta students who pass the Matriculation Examination are concerned, I will say that I am in a position to speak with something like personal knowledge and authority. Up to January 1903, I was teaching the first year class of the Ripon College, and I was in daily contact with students who had passed in the Matriculation Examination. I did not experience any difficulty in carrying them along with me in the matter of the understanding of English, nor did I hear any complaint on this score uttered by any of the professors of the college.

Then, my Lord, with reference to the observations made by my Hon'ble friend the Nawab Bahadur of Dacca with regard to the well-to-do classes—I am sorry that the Nawab Bahadur is not here—I desire to record my most emphatic protest. My Hon'ble friend, the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, speaking from his place in this Council last year, referring to that matter, said that he was opposed to the establishment of a college for the well-to-do classes. That represents the concensus of public opinion in this matter, and if my memory serves me right, I believe a resolution of Government was recorded some time back in which the idea was disapproved of.

My Lord, passing from this matter, I come to certain points of detail in regard to which my Hon'ble friend the Director of Public Instruction will probably be able to give me some explanation. Free elementary education has received only Rs. 30,000 in 1913-14. This sum seems to me and everybody else to be inadequate. Then there has been a decline in the number of male students attending primary schools. On the 31st March 1912 we had 1,038,152 students, and on the 31st March 1913, we had 997,153. There has been a sensible decline, and my friend will probably be in a position to give some explanation in regard to this matter.

Then, my Lord, there are certain other items in regard to which I desire to call my friend's attention. I find that personal allowances amounting to Rs. 10.000 have been given to heads of colleges. I should like to know why these personal allowances have been given? Who are the recipients? Do they belong to the Imperial, the higher educational, or the Provincial Service? How many of them are Indians, and how many Europeans? In the next place, I find personal allowances given to two Inspectors amounting to Rs. 4,200. We should like to know something about them also.

Passing from education to sanitation, I desire to call Your Excellency's attention to the great problem of waterways. Our river systems are not what they should be. Many of our great rivers are silting up, and as a result, in consequence of the interruption of drainage, the country around is rendered unhealthy. My Lord, the Buriganga river in the Dacca district is silting up, dredging operations have been started, and a Waterways Committee, I understand, has been appointed. I desire to appeal to Your Excellency's Government to do their utmost to reclaim and extend the magnificent waterways of our province. My Lord, in this connection, it may not perhaps be out of place to call Your Excellency's attention to the Italian system which I understand engaged the attention of the Sanitary Conference. The system is known as Bonificazione. It is a double system of drainage and sanitation. It seeks to raise the level of the land, and to deepen the level of the rivers. It has been in operation for nearly 200 to 300 years in Italy, and has produced admirable results. It is very expensive, but I understand that it is also remunerative. I appeal to Your Excellency's Government to adopt the system in selected areas, and await the result.

Police.

My Lord, I now pass on to the question of expenditure on Police. The expenditure on Police has been steadily growing. In 1912-13 it was 83 lakhs; in 1913-14, it rose to 94 lakhs of rupees. In your estimate of 1914-15 it is about a crore and eight lakhs. It will be seen that in the course of three years the expenditure has increased by about 25 lakhs. My Lord, the verdict of public opinion is, and from my place as a popular representative, I feel it my duty to lay that verdict before you, that the efficiency of the police has not kept pace with this increase of police expenditure. A very large portion of this money, about Rs. 75,000, has been temporarily allotted for the Criminal Investigation Department, and some expenditure also has been incurred in connection with the division of the Calcutta Police Courts.

Provincial Judicial Service—Kanungos.

I now pass on to another branch of the subject. My friends have expressed their gratification at the large provision that has been made for the improvement of the condition of the members of the Provincial Judicial Service. I am in strong sympathy with the observations that have been made in that behalf. The members of the Provincial Judicial Service are a very worthy class, and deserve consideration at the hands of Your Excellency's Government. I desire to appeal to Your Excellency's Government on behalf of another neglected branch of the public service. I mean the Kanungos. It is a Persian word which has been naturalized into English. In these days we do not hear very much about these Kanungos. They work almost in subterranean channels. Their work is civil and not criminal. They often do the work allotted to Sub-Deputy and Deputy Collectors, and sometimes they come from the same class. They are divided into two grades. The lowest grade gets Rs. 50 and the highest Rs. 75 a month. I have not the slightest hesitation in saying that, having regard to the responsible character of the work they do, their remuneration is wholly inadequate. I venture to submit that at least four grades should be made of this class of public servants, the first on Rs. 75, the second on Rs. 100, the third on Rs. 125, and the last on Rs. 150. I hope that this matter will receive the sympathetic consideration of Your Excellency's Government.

In the next place I desire to call attention to the chaukidari tax. My friend to my left expressed the opinion yesterday that that tax should be abolished. My Lord, that represents a particular view. I do not know whether that view will be accepted by Government and the public, but there is not the slightest doubt that there is a strong body of public opinion which regards the tax as objectionable, as unequal in its incidence and oppressive in its operation. But, my Lord, I object to the chaukidari tax on the ground of principle. Watch and ward is the duty of the Government. Watch and ward should not be a charge upon local finances. I think that is a principle which is accepted and carried out in all civilized countries.

The Budget.

Nawab Saiyid Hossam Haider Chaudhuri, Khan Bahadur.

I think, therefore, my Lord, that if the chaukidari tax is retained or any other tax substituted for it, the proceeds of village taxation ought to be devoted to the benefit of the sanitation of the villages concerned. That is the position which I take up. That is the principle which I venture to lay down, and that is the principle which I think Your Excellency's Government should accept. We get about 62 lakhs of rupees a year as the proceeds of the chaukidari tax. My Lord, if we are to get 62 lakhs of rupees from the villages of Bengal, not by direct taxation (I am opposed to all forms of direct taxation, especially when levied in villages), but by some form of indirect taxation, we could turn the whole of this amount to highly useful and beneficent purposes, and no higher or more beneficent purpose could be found than the sanitation of these villages. My suggestion, therefore is this, that the chaukidari tax should be abolished, that in its place indirect taxation which will produce the same sum of money should be imposed, and that the whole of this amount—we take it at 62 lakhs of rupees a year—be devoted to the sanitation of the villages of Bengal.

Restoration of the villages of Bengal.

My Lord, Lord Morley has told us in his memorable despatch of the 27th November 1908, which is the sheet-anchor of Indian reformers, that the village is the fundamental, the indestructible unit, of the Indian social system. But what is the position of our villages to-day? They are ruined, dilapidated, deserted, owing to the prevalence of malaria. My Lord, I invite Your Excellency's Government to rehabilitate our villages, to restore them to their former condition of peace, plenty and prosperity. It is a task to which I desire to invite Your Excellency's Government, and it will be worthy of the great Government over which Your Excellency has the honour to preside."

The Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID HOSSAM HAIDER CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR said :—

Death of Lord Minto.

"My Lord, Before I make any observation on the Budget itself, I feel sure that I shall be permitted to express my sense of deep regret on the sad demise of one of our most illustrious Viceroys, the late Lord Minto, who inaugurated most useful reforms for the benefit of the people of India. His beneficent and peaceful measures will remain enbalmed in the loving and reverential memory of the present and succeeding generations of a grateful people.

General Remarks.

Referring to the Provincial Budget Estimate for the year 1914-15, I offer my warm thanks to the Hon'ble the Finance Member for the fuller information contained in the Financial Statement which he has laid before the Council. I also take the opportunity of expressing my appreciation of the careful and satisfactory character of the year's Budget, and beg to offer my congratulations to the Hon'ble Finance Member on its presentation.

Technical Education.

I am obliged to observe with regret that, under the head 'Education', the grant of Rs. 7,000, sanctioned in the year 1913-14 for opening up B and C classes in certain high schools, has been omitted from the Budget of 1914-15. Students desiring to take up technical education would be able to receive some sort of preliminary instruction if those branches of education were made available to them, and if some of the existing high schools were furnished with classes teaching this subject. The abolition of these classes from some of the high schools, such as from the Comilla Zilla School, is not,

The Budget.

Nawab Saiyid Hossam Haider Chaudhuri, Khan Bahadur.

I submit, in the best interests of the public service, and especially in the case of the Comilla High School which was the only institution of its kind teaching this subject in the whole of the Chittagong Division. It appears desirable, therefore, that Government should sanction a recurring grant for the maintenance of such classes in at least some of the high schools in the Presidency and especially in the one at Comilla.

Under the head 'Engineering and Survey Schools' there appears a decrease of about Rs. 61,000 in the revised estimate. This surplus should have been utilized for provincialization of certain technical schools and for opening up some industrial schools in quarters where no such schools at present exist and where they are absolutely necessary.

Agriculture.

The most important need of the country immediately next to the spread of primary education is the equipment of the agricultural population, and for this reason I would like to suggest that primary education be divided into two different kinds :—

(1) primary education general for the masses ;
(2) primary education specific for agriculturists and their children.

As regards the development of primary education under head (1), the Government are already in possession of a variety of suggestions and comments, and different shades of opinion have been received which still engage the attention of Government in order to give the scheme full consideration. But the necessity for agricultural education in the province seems so very great that the agriculturists as a class should no longer be allowed to remain in their present state of mental penury. They adopt at present a system of cultivation which is quite out of date and the force of habit and the influence of tradition oblige them to cling to it. The result is that they are not easily roused to intellectual activity, and the longer they remain in this state the greater hold does it have upon them and the slower are their chances of improvement. The situation is so alarming that prosperity cannot be expected among this class of people until fresh life is breathed into it. The manner in which this may be done must be left to the capable brains in Your Excellency's Government.

In a country like Bengal, where the bulk of the people live by agricultural pursuits, their material well-being always depends largely on the state of the seasons and the outturn of the crops. As the cultivators are slow in changing their present antiquated methods of cultivation, and the different kinds of manuring are little practised and artificial measures are little known, the systematic education of these poor agriculturists by practical methods and free of cost is a dire necessity. This is the first thing necessary to redeem rural life from ignorance and drudgery. It is high time that labour-saving machinery and other modern implements of agriculture should replace the present antiquated methods of agriculture practised by these ignorant people. There is no reason, except a lack of knowledge among the cultivators, why the soil should not be in a better state of fertility. As the agriculturists are ignorant of modern scientific methods of agriculture, agricultural education may be safely recognized as a new factor in the matter of exercising an ennobling influence in their lives and in the enriching of their profession. The solid strength of a country lies upon the substantial increase of its resources. Such practical knowledge of cultivation might tend to do much to yield an exuberant return of food-grains all over the agricultural area of the province, which I regard, rightly I think, as the chief need of the people at this critical period. What I wish to say is that the public mind should be made familiar with the idea of scientific culture. This should be called purely an agricultural education for the province, which should be encouraged and fostered by Government and supported by all classes of the people, in order that bounteous harvests by the yielding hands of Providence may be the order of the day. The differences of soil, climate, etc., might not be favourable to the application of all the principles of European agriculture; but something should, however, be done, and it is gratifying to note that, in spite of the existing old methods of cultivation, the art of cultivation is gaining ground slowly. If the people are trained and taught the art of scientific cultivation, in the right sense of the meaning, I am sure that the industrial and economic condition of the cultivators will no longer be in doubt, and as agriculture is considered to be the staple industry of the country, it will really form, if fostered, a bulwark for British rule based on the hearts of the people. As India is almost entirely an agricultural country, the people in India should be made thoroughly to understand their subject and be taught with regard to it the principles of sound business, and the virtues of self-reliance and thrift. I venture to make these observations, because the present situation always fills me with anxiety, and I submit to Your Excellency's broad-minded statesmanship that, if agricultural instruction be handled in an enlightened and efficient manner, the solution of this problem must necessarily conduce to bring economic salvation to India and to add to universal felicity.

The Budget.

Babu Surendra Nath Ray.

An early inauguration of measures of reform, with an adequate number of experts to instruct the cultivators in the knowledge of improved methods of ploughing their lands and manuring their soil, is urgently called for, and such a step forward will form one of the leading landmarks in the history of the province. This improvement, which will render the condition of a portion of the peasantry in the British Empire more prosperous and contended, lies in Your Excellency's hands; and the administrative machinery of the Government, of which Your Excellency is the revered head, will, if the improvement is effected, continue to be regarded as the harbinger of prosperity and happiness to thousands of agricultural homes and all the noblest aims and objects of Government will thus be fulfilled.

In conclusion, I congratulate Your Excellency's Government on the fact that the year under review is a year of prosperity and progress in almost all the branches of administration of Your Excellency's Government in the province."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY, said—

General Remarks.

"My Lord, the most distinctive feature of the present Budget, like that of the Budget of the last year, is the large opening balance mainly due to the allotments, recurring and non-recurring, made by the Government of India for the purpose of the development of education and better sanitation and also the amount assigned on account of Public Works cess being unspent. While thankful that the resources of the Government of India have been found sufficient to enable that Government not only to renew this grant but also further to increase them in a year of gloomy outlook, we cannot but feel that instead of these recurring grants for sanitation and education being yearly assigned to the Government of Bengal by adjustment through the land revenue head of account the arrangement between the Government of India and of Bengal should be the assignments to the latter Government of certain items of income which would be recurring and upon which the Government of Bengal could always look with certainty for meeting the vast expenditure of the province in its varied and essential requirements, whether sanitary, educational or otherwise.

Secondary Education.

In my last Budget speech I dwelt on the needs of Secondary Education and especially of the aided schools. The resources of the latter are but limited. Although it is the recognized principle of Government that the grants for high schools must not exceed one-half of the income guaranteed from private sources including fees, subscriptions, donations and endowments,

The Budget.

Babu Surendra Nath Ray.

it appears that during the financial year 1910-11, while the income from private sources was Rs. 14,73,916, the amount of Government grant-in-aid for aided schools was only Rs. 1,91,933 or only about 13 per cent., while in 1911-12 it appears that the percentage was but slightly increased, viz., to 14·8 per cent. The statements laid on the table by the Hon'ble Mr. Samman in answer to question No. 5 asked by me at the Council meeting of the 26th March, 1914, shows that in many cases the grants-in-aid have been increased liberally, but what we want to know is whether or not the increase has been allowed on condition of the school authorities being forced to raise from their limited resources an extra amount equivalent to the increased grant-in-aid, even in cases where the increased grant falls short of the recognized Government share of one-third of the total income.

Medical College Hostel.

We are thankful to Government for the provision of five lakhs of rupees for a hostel for the Calcutta Medical College. On the 4th April last I made the following observations regarding the Budget estimates for 1913-14 :—

'There is another matter in this connexion which I ought to mention for the consideration of Government. There is, so far as I am aware, at present no hostel attached to the Calcutta Medical College except probably one for the military students. Hostels are now attached almost to every Arts College in the province. If there is any class of students who require a hostel it is the students of the Medical College. They have not only to attend the College during lecture hours, but have to be on duty to attend to the patients of the Medical College Hospital both during daytime and at night. It is therefore a legitimate grievance with them that like the students of other colleges, they have no proper accommodation.'

It is therefore a matter of sincere pleasure not only to me personally but I think to most of the non-official members of the Council that within a year of the above remarks, the Government have made a provision of 5 lakhs of rupees which I think will prove quite sufficient to meet the urgency of the case, viz.. a good hostel for the students of the Calcutta Medical College.

Admission of Students into the Medical College.

There is however another matter in connection with the Calcutta Medical College which I wish to mention here. I had occasion to bring this matter before Government not only by my remarks on the Budget estimates of 1913-14 but also by various questions which I put in the Council on more than one occasion. It is the inadequacy of the provision for medical training in the province. In answer to my questions put in this Council on the 1st September last the Government was pleased to answer that in 1910, out of 380 applicants, 123 were admitted to the Calcutta Medical College, in 1911 out of 531 applicants 142 were admitted, in 1912 out of 544 applicants, 153 were admitted, and in 1913 out of 581 the same number, viz., 153 students. were admitted. I was further told that limitation of admissions was due not to paucity of staff but to the capacity of the laboratories and buildings, particularly the former. Students were admitted to the full number for whom practical work could be arranged in the laboratories. In answer to a further question I was told that Government had at present no proposals under consideration for the admission of a larger number of students in the Medical College. If the staff is adequate for the purpose of imparting medical education to a larger number of students it seems rather strange that Government should year after year turn away nearly three-fourths of the students simply because practical work in the laboratories could not be arranged for them. The need for a large number of men trained in medical science is admitted by everybody. There are two private Medical Schools in Calcutta which want to be affiliated to the Calcutta University or rather the passed students' of which schools want to have a recognized status, but that has been so far refused. There is no provision in the Budget to help these private medical Babu Surendra Nath Ray.

Schools in any way. In the circumstances one would have naturally expected that at least provision for teaching a larger number of students would be made in the Budget. But nothing has been done. One would have naturally expected that the Government who have taken so much pains to pass the Bengal Medical Bill should take all steps to give proper medical training to a much larger number of students than the limited accommodation in the Calcutta Medical College can at present afford.

The Provincial Executive and Judicial Services.

We are grateful to Government for increasing the pay of the last grade of Munsifs from Rs. 200 to Rs. 250, thus making the initial pay of the members of the Provincial Executive and Judicial Services equal. Provision has been made in the Budget for residences of Judicial officers not only for the year 1914-15 but also for the years 1915-16 and 1916-17. The amount is Rs. 50,000 in the first two years and Rs. 36,000 in the third year. We hope and trust that the whole of this amount will be spent in building residences of Munsifs, for they are a class of officers who feel the greatest inconvenience for want of proper residence, specially in the mufassal. I should like to make one suggestion with reference to the status of the members of the Provincial Executive Service for the consideration of the Government. It means no extra expenditure but it will give contentment to many. At present the members of the Provincial Judicial Service are divided into Munsifs and Subordinate Judges. The former draw a pay of Rs. 200 to Rs. 500, whereas the latter draw a pay of Rs. 600 to Rs. 1,000. Members of the Provincial Executive Service draw a pay of Rs. 250 to Rs. 800 and are, in whatever grade they may be, all known as Deputy Magistrates. In some districts senior Deputy Magistrates exercise the power of an appellate Court in criminal cases. This power is ordinarily vested in District Magistrates. I would simply suggest that Deputy Magistrates drawing a pay of Rs. 500 or Rs. 600 and upwards may, as soon as they attain the grade of Rs. 500 or Rs. 600, be vested with some at least of the powers of a District Magistrate and be designated 'Additional Magistrates.' This will have the effect of not only lessening the heavy burden on a District Magistrate but will please many senior men in the service without entailing any additional financial burden upon the State. There is much in a name. I think the Government need not await the report of the Public Services Commission to carry out the above suggestion.

Jails.

There is one item in connection with this subject to which I would like to draw the attention of Government. It appears that as regards dietary charges in Jails the sanctioned estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 4,17,500, whereas the revised estimate was Rs. 5,67,000. In the Budget for 1914-15 the amount put down is Rs. 5,00,000. This is no doubt an addition of Rs. 82,500 over and above the sanctioned estimate of last year, but it is less than the revised estimate of last year by Rs. 67,000. This increase of Rs. 82,250 is again put down to increase in the price of food-grains and not to better quality of food to be supplied to prisoners. I think the question of supply of better food to prisoners is at present engaging the attention of the Government of India, and I need hardly say Your Lordship's Government will see its way to revise the Budget estimates by the light of any recommendations that may be made hereafter.

Courts of Law.

Under the above heading we find in the revised estimate a provision of Rs. 4,02,000 in the place of Rs. 2,78,000, and we are told that the revised estimate includes provision for fees to counsel in the Barisal Conspiracy case. We cannot and ought not to demur to any expenditure incurred by

The Budget.

Mr. McLeod.

Government in political trials. The Government are quite justified in incurring all legitimate expenses or such expenses as it considers legitimate in the trial of political cases. But when we find a sum of Rs. 4,02,000 put down in the revised estimate in the place of Rs. 3,05,000 and we are told that the revised estimate includes provision for fees to counsel in Damodar Diara case, that the Budget includes large provision for fees to counsel with reference to past actuals, we are forced to raise our voice against such lavish—nay extravagant—expenditure. The case in which expenditure was incurred was a case of alluvion and diluvion, and I think the mufassal pleaders can conduct such cases as ably and efficiently as any one else. The Government has got a pleader of their own in all districts, and he is generally one of the ablest pleaders of the place. We cannot understand why this expenditure was incurred in counsel's fees when there was an appeal to the High Court and when the other side had the case conducted by the local pleaders. I think this is also the proper place and proper time in which we ought to raise our voice in regard to the expenditure by Government of Rs. 14,000 in what is known as the Small Cause Court Bailiff's case. This is the figure supplied to this Council in answer to a question put by me after the order of retrial by the High Court. We should like to know what further sum has been spent since in this case in order to compare the expenditure with the importance of the case. If the Government thought it necessary to defend the accused it could have ordered its own Law Officer, the Public Prosecutor in the Police Court, to undertake the task. But to engage the services of a counsel at nearly twenty or thirty times the fee of the Public Prosecutor to defend an accused in a petty assault case is something which passes our comprehension. I think I voice the opinion of not only the non-official members of this Council but of the public generally, when I say that money spent in this case has been, to put it most mildly, money not spent in a proper way, and the public did not expect this expenditure from the Government who are the trusted custodians of the Public Exchequer.

Sanitary Board.

We are thankful to Your Lordship's Government for appointing two non-official members of Your Lordship's Council and a non-official European gentleman who is Chairman of an important riparian municipality as members of the Sanitary Board. We hope Your Lordship's Government will invest the Board with larger powers erelong, so that not only the usefulness of the Board may be increased, but that it may be a real helping hand to Government in all sanitary questions of the province."

The Hon'ble MR. NORMAN McLEOD said—

"My Lord, in connection with the items grouped under the 'Medical' head of the Budget and the desire of Government to establish, in some form, an Examining Board with a view to raising the standard of medical practitioners in this country, I have this morning come into possession of some facts, which tend to dispel the suggestion made yesterday in the debate on the Medical Bill that Indians of the advanced age of 50 are unable or averse to go in for examinations. My authority is a member of this Council, a distinguished medical man, and I can therefore with confidence emphasize what I have already said that if a medical man wishes to excel in his art and raise himself to a higher standard of efficiency, there is nothing to prevent him doing so. The facts put before me are these: Some years ago, Government, with the laudable desire of keeping up the standard of men practising in the mufassal and elsewhere, instituted a scheme under which men, who had passed out of a certain school, were enabled to return to their studies, pass examinations and make themselves up-to-date. This has been keenly taken advantage of, and at the present moment there are men at a hospital of ages ranging from 39 years to 60—men who have re-entered on their studies with a view to passing examinations and thus of bettering their medical attainments. Governments all over India are paying away money in large sums for the advancement of education. I hope this Government will show a good example, and pay a considerable sum for the purpose of making it easier for our medical practitioners of whatever grade to make themselves even more useful in the future than in the past. We may educate our students to bursting point with knowledge, but what is the use of it unless they have sound bodies, and to that end the best means of preserving health and preventing disease is to have in our midst medical men of the highest attainments possible."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZ-UL-HAQ said :—

Muhammadan Education.

"My Lord, I rise with some regret to take part in these discussions, for I feel that in justice to the duty I owe to my community, I cannot allow this Budget to pass unchallenged. I know that the limit of time imposed renders detailed discussions impossible; but nevertheless I cannot, by adopting an attitude of silence, subscribe to any principle which would justify expenditure from public funds in utter disregard of the legitimate claims of my community.

My Lord, it is now 12 months, almost to a day, that I raised my voice in this Council as a protest against the policy of whittling down the claims of the Muhammadan community in allotments of public expenditure for the furtherance of education in this country. I used the language of strong comment, and I hoped that Government would either attempt a justification of their policy or a refutation of the charges I had brought against them. Neither course was, however, adopted, and 12 months have rolled away without effecting any change for the better, either in the attitude of the officials or the temper of the Muhammadan community. It looks as if my voice in this Council died away like a voice in a wilderness, and not even the faintest echo penetrated the stolid walls of the Government Secretariat. It may be consonant with official dignity to treat our remarks with indifference, but I would remind them that the only result of this attitude has been that my open indictment of Government policy remains unanswered to the present day.

It is true that in presenting the amended Draft Financial Statement in Council on the 5th of March, the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell said that he protested against any suggestion that the Muhammadans are not getting their fair share in the general improvements which the Imperial Grants are enabling Government to effect. I may tell the Hon'ble Member that a dogmatic assertion like this, coming even from a head of department, must fail to carry conviction unless it fits the fact, or unless it is backed by acceptable argument. Mr. Hornell is now to the department and it is a pity that before he had acquired sufficient grasp of facts to enable him to judge of our claims in their true perspective, he should have been led to identify himself with a policy which is open to serious criticism. I rather look upon the Budget allotments in the light of an insult to my community, and I cannot allow this protest to pass unanswered.

My Lord, it will save time if I begin with accepted facts. The Hon'ble Member has himself admitted that beyond an allotment of 2 lakhs for the acquisition of certain lands, no sums out of the 52 lakhs assignment have been set apart for specifically Muhammadan institutions. I do not think it requires much logic to convince anyone that an allotment of 2 out of 52 lakhs is a somewhat questionable recognition of the growing demands of an advancing community. But this is not all. Not only is the allotment itself extremely inadequate, but it is a distinct breach of many a promise held out to us by the late Director of Public Instruction and other officials, and is in conflict with the spirit of the Government of India Resolution on the subject of the encouragement of Muhammadan education. It will be within the recollection of this Council that on the 14th March, 1913, the Hon'ble Nawab Syed Nawab Ali Chowdhury, Khan Bahadur, moved a Resolution recommending the allotment of a substantial sum in Budget provisions in furtherance of Muhammadan education. This Resolution was accepted by Government without a controversy, and the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler, replying on behalf of Government, gave us the assurance that our claims would not be neglected. This was followed by my own Resolution of the 4th April, which was also accepted by Government, with a promise that sums to be specifically spent on Muhammadan education would be separately shewn in schemes for the distribution of Imperial Grants for Education.

The Budget.

Maulvi A. K. Faz-ul-Haq.

All these promises and assurances have practically come to nothing, and it is now sought to silence criticism by a rigid frown of official authority. Time will not permit a detailed examination of the question in all its aspects, but I will refer to only one particular to show how unjustly we are being treated—I refer to the question of hostel accommodation for Muhammadan students. In the speech already referred to, the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler admitted that one way 'in which the higher education of Muhammadans can be fostered and facilitated is by the provision of an adequate amount of hostel accommodation.' This was on the 13th March, and on 17th March, the Hon'ble Mr. Kerr stated that a considerable proportion of the 10 lakhs grant made by the Government of India for the erection of hostels in Calcutta, would be devoted to the provision of hostel accommodation for Muhammadan students. Not only has no attempt been made to keep this promise, but this year the authorities have gone one better, and have refrained from allotting even one single pice towards Muhammadan hostels in Calcutta. We are told that the Baker and Elliott hostels will be extended and that Rs. 91,000 has been set apart for this purpose. Even here we are being kept on the tenterhooks of impatience, and the story of Rs. 91,000 having been set apart is being repeated year after year. We first heard of this Rs. 91,000 in Mr. Küchler's speech on the 14th March, 1913; it reappeared in Mr. Kerr's reply on the 17th March; and this year it emerged out of oblivion in Mr. Samman's reply on the 28th February. I wonder how many interpellations in Council will be necessary to dislodge this sum from its impregnable position in the Budget, in order to be of some practical benefit to Muhammadan students.

My Lord, I have heard it said that no urgent case has been made out for any specific schemes of extended hostel accommodation for Muhammadan students. A refutation of such a statement requires more time than I have at my disposal, and I can only refer to certain facts which speak for themselves. The total number of Muhammadan students in the various colleges in Calcutta, including Law and Medicine, comes up to 660. It appears from the reply to the question by the Hon'ble Nawab Syed Hossain Haider Chaudhuri, Khan Bahadur, that of these only 109 live in existing Government hostels and 24 in hostels attached to private institutions. In other words, as many as 527 boys or nearly 80 per cent. of the total are left to shift for themselves in the precarious scramble for accommodation in the uncongenial and unsympathetic environments of a city like Calcutta. It is worthy of note that out of the 660 students as many as 521 belong to institutions roughly within ½ a mile radius of College Square. No amount of extensions to the Baker and Elliott hostels can bring these students any real relief. What is wanted is a well-equipped hostel situated in the vicinity of institutions in close proximity to College Square.

The case of mufassal students is equally bad, if not worse. One has only to take a rapid survey of the conditions obtaining in the 26 districts of the Presidency to realize how pressing is the demand all round for hostel accommodation. We have the cases of Burdwan, Murshidabad, Midnapore, Nadia and Jessore where there are absolutely no hostels for college students, while the accommodation for school students is of the most meagre kind; there are the cases of Dacca, Khulna, Chittagong, Tippera, Rajshahi and Pabna where the accommodation for both classes of students is grossly inadequate. In Dacca itself, out of a total of 211 college students there is hostel accommodation for only 54. At Rajshahi out of a total of 149 students only 28 are living in hostels ; in Tippera, there are 62 college students for only 16 of whom there is some kind of hostel accommodation. It is needless to multiply instances. We are told that only about one lakh will be devoted for the improvement and provision of hostel accommodation in the mufassal. Are we to understand that little doles out of this one lakh allotment distributed pell-mell all over the Presidency will effect any material change in existing conditions, or afford our students any appreciable relief? Let the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell answer.

My Lord, while on the subject of expenditure on Muhammadan education I cannot help saying a few words about the Calcutta Madrassa. The affairs of this institution badly require looking after. I am told there is a Madrassa Committee, but the duties of this body seem to comprise anything but the act of supervision over the affairs of the institution. The question of the Principalship of the Madrassa should at once be taken in hand. A sum of more than Rs. 13,000 a year is being spent to maintain this post, and Muhammadan opinion is practically unanimous that all this money is being wasted. I fail to see the propriety of having a European member of the Indian Educational Service to glorify a post whose duties are of such a meagre character. For more than a quarter of a century, the Education Department has been playing interesting experiments with this post, although the necessity for its maintenance really ceased with the abolition of the College classes of the Madrassa. European scholars have been foisted on this institution whenever the department seems to have felt a difficulty in making suitable provisions for them elsewhere. Dr. Hœrnle was a Sanskrit scholar, but the Hindu College would not accept him, and he was sent to fill the Madrassa sinecure, and carry on learned researches in Pali and Sanskrit archæology. The present incumbent is a Hebrew scholar, and I am told that his attainments in even homely Urdu are so meagre that he has to talk with his Muhammadan subordinates through the medium of an interpreter. It is time that these arrangements should be terminated the post abolished, and the saving effected devoted to more useful purposes.

My Lord, I ventured to trespass on the attention of this Council with my remarks on Muhammadan education because I am anxious that the widest facilities should be given to our students in order that Muhammadan education may be put on a par with the needs of the community and the country. But I mean no disrespect to the official world when I say that I have grave misgivings if my efforts will bear any practical fruit. Within the last 15 months, numerous attempts have been made in various shapes to draw pointed attention to the needs of our students and the necessity for making suitable provisions in the Budget for specific schemes in furtherance of Muhammadan education. But the success which has hitherto attended our efforts has been practically nothing. To our questions in Council, enigmatical replies have sometimes been given, and even our successful resolutions have been either ignored, or condemned to glorify the dusty shelves of the Government Secretariat. It is seldom that the non-official voice can successfully prevail against the official, and even if it does prevail it seems to receive the scantiest recognition. I do not know what other non-official members think of this, but to me the situation is most discouraging. We are in theory the chosen representatives of the people, and to please our fancy, we are even in a majority in the Council. But for real effective work on behalf of our country, our opinion is of little more value than that of the average man in the street. I believe, it was Lord Morley who remarked that Indians in agitating for representative institutions were really crying for the moon. Well, my Lord, we have perhaps got the moon after all, but our voice in the Councils of the Government seems to be as ineffectual as that of the man in the moon. I am disposed to think that our leaders in their eagerness for these representative institutions only clutched the shadow but lost the substance, and that while we have been crying hoarse for bread, we have been given only stones instead.

The Budget.

Dr. Nilratan Sarkar.

My Lord, I do not wish to detain this Council any longer. It is time that in grappling with the various and complicated problems of administration, officials should take note of the real temper of the Muhammadan community. It should not be forgotten that the Muhammadan community of to-day has outgrown the stage of political adolescence and can no longer be nurtured on fitful doles of official favour. We have become conscious of our rights and privileges, and any indifference to our claims naturally causes resentment. And where resentment exists, discontent is bound to follow, and it requires the highest statesmanship to deal with the complex problems of administration at such crises. The annulment of the partition deeply affected the minds of the community, and subsequent events have hardly improved the situation. I would appeal to those who have had knowledge of the state of things in East Bengal immediately preceding the annulment to testify how loyally the community stood by Government in the face of influences which might have weaned it from the paths of loyalty. I would appeal to Your Excellency's Government to reflect whether the pledges held out by the Government of India at the time of the annulment have been faithfully kept. I would appeal to the various heads of departments, in the name of that sense of justice which is at once the boast and the pride of every Briton, to consider whether Muhammadan interests have really been receiving due and proper attention. And lastly, I would appeal to Your Excellency in person to consider the matter carefully and so to shape the policy of administration as to ensure to us that justice, that fair-play, that equitable participation in State patronage. which are the birthrights of every British subject, and which are not denied to the most insignificant of the countless communities which go to make up the heterogenous population of the British Empire."

The Hon'ble DR. NIL RATAN SARKAR said :—

Education.

"My Lord, I do not think I can better utilize the few minutes at my disposal than by inviting the attention of this Council to a question to which public attention has very properly been drawn by the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell—I mean certain educational needs of Calcutta which have not been very scrupulously attended to either by the Corporation or by the Local Government. There does not seem to be any ground for dispute that the growth and organization of primary and industrial education in the first city of the Empire have been left mainly to chance. And if we have arrived at the rather satisfactory figures of 51·6 and 26·8 per cent. of boys and girls respectively of school-going age actually at school, it is as much due to a combination of happy accidents as to any efforts of those who would ordinarily be expected to forward the cause of education in this city

It is regrettable that the civic conscience of Calcutta has been at ease so long in this matter, having actually deluded itself into the belief that education is none of its primary concerns. And looking back to the year 1888, we are surprised to find that there was strong opposition even to the insertion in the Municipal Act of the permissive clause that now empowers the Corporation to provide for the promotion of primary and technical education. I will not detain the Council by entering into an examination of the question as to whether primary education of the city population should legitimately be reckoned among the duties of a municipal Corporation and should form a charge on its finance. Suffice it to say that in the countries of the West, it is counted one of the main responsibilities of local bodies. Even if one were to demur to this as a principle, there is another point of view—which, however, is not without a tinge of selfishness—from which the question can be looked at. As my distinguished countryman Sir Gurudas Banerji pointed out long ago, education should be widely spread in Calcutta, if only to ensure a better appreciation of the sanitary laws and the civic virtues and duties by the people at large. However, as the present provision in the Calcutta Municipal Act simply permits and does not enjoin it as a duty, the Corporation grant towards the maintenance of secondary and primary schools, and schools of industry and art stands at the ridiculously low figure of Rs. 32,894; and the total Educational Budget of the Corporation is represented by some seventy thousand rupees. which is made up of direct and indirect contributions to educational institutions of all kinds Even apart from this inadequacy of contribution, municipal apathy in this matter reflects on the educational progress of the city in quite another way. There being no other constituted authority within the city limits of Calcutta which can be called upon to assume responsibility, the cause of primary education remains a shuttlecock which is bandied by Government to the Corporation and by the Corporation back to the Government again. And as a result of this, we find that while even the mufassal towns and mufassal local bodies have amply reaped the benefit of the recent munificence of the Imperial Government in the cause of education, Calcutta has to remain satisfied with modest doles which it seems to be nobody's concern to see expanded. Even under ordinary circumstances, a mufassal municipality is expected to spend 3·2 per cent. of its local income on education; and in the year 1912-13, the District Boards in Bengal devoted more than 25 per cent. of the whole expenditure to education. If it were possible to get 3·2 per cent. of the total Corporation revenue for purposes of education, we would have at our disposal over three lakhs of rupees, which. coupled with an adequate Government grant, would be sufficient to meet the expenses of primary education. But if that is not possible to be realized, one finds no reason why this city should not emulate in this particular another Presidency town which is sometimes looked upon as a rival. Bombay, we find, contributes very liberally towards the primary education of her people, and what is more, the Corporation there has all the responsibility of primary education, this control being exercised through a mixed committee of eight members—the Corporation and the Government being equally represented. A section in the Bombay Municipal Act lays down that the municipal contribution in any year should not be less than a sum which, added to the fee levied during that year. would be equal to double the Government grant. In Bombay, in 1907-08, the total expenditure on primary education from all sources was about 2¼ lakhs, of which 1¼ lakhs was found by the Corporation, seventy-three thousand representing Government contribution. In Calcutta in the same year the total expenditure on primary education was 3½ lakhs, of which less than ½ lakh was met by the Corporation, a little over one lakh being contributed by Government. The present efforts of the Calcutta Corporation being purely voluntary, there is nothing to wonder at in these figures. That there is very great room for improvement in the matter of primary education, which is in a greatly miserable state at present, is admitted on all hands. And the question is one as much of finance as of a constituted agency which would thoroughly identify itself with the educational interests of Calcutta and hold itself responsible for the expansion of primary education. As for funds, it may be pointed out that Calcutta is not being very fairly dealt with by Government as there is no authority who can make a demand for money. Even in certain official circles this has given rise to some disappointment.

The Budget.

Dr. Nilratan Sarkar.

My Lord, I have looked through our Budget statement in vain for any special grant for primary education in Calcutta. But let us hope that a proportion of the lump education grants from the Imperial Government, which are not earmarked in the Budget for any special purpose, will be devoted to the cause of primary education in Calcutta, a portion of such non-recurring allotment being utilized in providing model houses and other equipments of primary schools in this city. The Excise revenue of Calcutta should be placed at the disposal of the Corporation for meeting the recurrent expenditure under the head of Primary and Industrial Education in the city. I am convinced that want of adequate funds is not an insurmountable difficulty, if the Government and the Corporation can be persuaded to make liberal contributions. But the real evil is the want of sense of responsibility of the Corporation. And the only remedy seems to lie in vesting the

The Budget.

Mr. Hornell.

Corporation with full responsibility in the matter of primary education. As the late Sir Charles Allen admirably suggested. "The Corporation should assume responsibility for primary education of a literary and vocational character throughout the city, receiving from Government an annual grant of expanding revenue, sufficient, when added to the present allotment, to pay for primary education which should probably be free and compulsory." I am glad to find that the Corporation has already taken some steps towards the attainment of this object. But in order that this object may be fully carried out, it will be necessary to make a legislative provision vesting the Corporation with necessary powers. And it is my hope that special amendment of the Calcutta Municipal Act will be undertaken in this behalf at an early date."

The Hon'ble MR. HORNELL said :—

"Your Excellency, the only really serious attack which has been made on the Government in connection with the educational estimates is that which is concerned with Muhammadan education. As regards this item of our educational programme we have been charged with a breach of faith, and a picture has been drawn for the benefit of this Council in which the Local Government are represented as radiant with the bounty of the Imperial Government but turning a deaf ear to the needs of those whose needs are greatest, and bestowing benefits upon those who needed them least. The charge of breach of faith rests mainly on a certain resolution of the Hon'ble Nawab Syed Nawab Ali Chaudhuri which was passed on the 13th March last. The Hon'ble Nawab has referred to that resolution, but perhaps in order to make myself quite clear I may just repeat to the Council what exactly happened on that occasion. The resolution runs as follows :—

'The Council recommends to the Governor in Council (a) that a substantial sum out of the educational grant of Rs. 75,00,000 be applied :—

(i) towards providing better facilities for the education of Muhammadan boys in existing colleges, schools and Madrassas, and

(ii) towards starting new educational institutions, with similar facilities, in centres of Muhammadan population, and

(iii) that a fair and reasonable amount out of the recurring educational grant of Rs. 13,20,000 be appropriated in that behalf.'

My predecessor, in accepting the resolution on behalf of Government, said as follows :—'Fortunately there is no financial objection to this resolution, as the Hon'ble Member has not asked for the allotment of any specific sum, but has merely asked for a substantial contribution from the Imperial grant which is being made for the general purposes of education. Moreover, the resolution, as will be noticed, is couched in general terms, and these terms are in entire accord with the policy which has been laid down by the Education Commission in 1884 towards Muhammadan education, and which, I take it, has been consistently followed by Government ever since.'

Before dealing more specifically with the attack, I desire to make a few general observations with reference to the Imperial grants generally. In the first place, I would remind the Council that all the Imperial grants have been assigned under specific heads, and their scope more or less clearly defined. In the second place, although the Hon'ble Nawab has referred to these grants as munificent, and although of course we are exceedingly grateful for having received them, I think that even he will admit that when you come to examine any specific grant in the light of the demands which are urgent in that particular branch of education with which the grant is concerned, you will be forced to admit that it goes a very little way indeed. I would also wish to emphasize the fact that the ability of the Education Department to take a grant and spend it quickly bears no relation whatever to the extent or the urgency of the demand with which the grant is concerned. Take, for example, the case of hostels in Calcutta. We all know how imperative this demand is, and here I will allude briefly to some remarks which fell from the Hon'ble Nawab of Dacca, who suggested that we took so long in considering our schemes that sometimes they became addled, and that we forgot that the object of considering and maturing a scheme was that eventually it should result in action. He brought forward, and the Hon'ble Maulvi Faz-ul-Haq also alluded to, the question of the extension of the Baker Madrassa hostel. He deplored the fact, and he deplored it rightly, that although a sum of Rs. 91,000 has been provided for some considerable time in the Budget, this scheme has not yet passed beyond the stage of discussion. I deplore it also. I can only assure the Hon'ble Nawab of Dacca that this delay has been most intensely galling to all the members of the Education Department who were concerned with the scheme. Perhaps, by way of illustrating the sort of difficulties which occur generally in connection with building schemes in Calcutta, I may just allude to one or two of the delays in connection with this scheme for the extension of the Baker Hostel. Something like this happened. The scheme was prepared, but it was discovered after the plans had been drawn up that in order to carry out the design it was necessary to encroach upon a lane to the extent of only a few inches. It was a small matter, but unfortunately this lane was a public road leading to a thana, and of course this brought in the Commissioner of Police, the Chairman of the Municipality, and all kinds of people. I have done my best to try and push the scheme through. I have paid several visits myself to the spot in the early morning and written long memoranda stirring up all the authorities concerned. I am sorry that the work has not yet been put in hand, but I am quite sure that the scheme which was drawn up was neither adequate nor satisfactory, and when we have fully discussed and worked out revised and extended proposals, the community concerned will not, I think, be ungrateful.

The Budget.

Mr. Hornell.

Well, in spite of the fact that the ability of the Education Department to take a grant and spend it quickly bears no relation, as I have said, to the extent or urgency of that demand, I think that the Council will agree with me when I say that it is a very bad thing to have unspent balances left in the Budget. If we keep money unspent, especially money allotted for capital grants, we lay ourselves open to the contention that we have got more money than we can spend, and we are of course confronted with a quite natural reluctance or indeed refusal on the part of the Finance Department to sanction any additional funds until we have spent those that we have got.

Now as to the specific charge, viz., that in allotting the Imperial grants we have broken faith with the Muhammadans, and have treated them with an illiberality which they do not deserve, I have been taken severely to task for suggesting that the Muhammadans share in the general improvements which we have been able or may be able to effect in secondary or primary schools by means of the Imperial grants. I must even now confess that when I wrote the sentence to which such exception has been taken I thought that I had scarcely ever written anything more harmless. But as a specific instance let me take the case of secondary schools. The Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray gave the Council yesterday a description of the very poor condition in which a great many of these institutions are owing to lack of funds. I entirely endorse what the Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray said. We have been told that these secondary schools, to which Muhammadans and Hindus alike resort, are in a deplorably weak condition owing to lack of funds. Well, what money, what additional recurring grants have we in hand to improve these conditions? I may perhaps remind you that as long ago as 1908 a scheme for the improvement of secondary education in the province of Bengal, as it then was, was prepared by Sir Archdale Earle and sent up to Government. The cost of this scheme amounted to 14 or 15 lakhs. We have received towards the improvement of secondary education two Imperial recurring allotments, one of 1½ lakhs and the other of Rs. 2,26,000. The grant for a lakh and a half was specifically earmarked and assigned for the improvement of existing schools, and we were told distinctly and definitely that the money was not to be spent on extending secondary education, but on improving it. The assignment of the grant of Rs. 2,26,000 has not yet been definitely settled. The Inspectors in the various divisions have been asked to consider the assignment of this allotment. I admit that the Muhammadans have special claims. I have travelled a good deal about the Presidency since I joined. I have seen how real their needs are, especially the need for hostels, and to this I shall come in a moment. I have said that the grant of Rs. 2,26,000 has not yet been definitely assigned, but I would ask the Council whether, should Government decide to allot that grant for the improvement of the ordinary High and Middle English schools, to which Hindus and Muhammadans alike resort, they will have acted otherwise than in a spirit of perfect good faith. I understand that the Muhammadans generally consider that it is desirable that their boys should resort in ever-increasing numbers to the ordinary secondary schools. Were it not so, there would be no basis for the criticism with reference to hostels, which I understand refers largely to the question of hostels in connection with high schools. If that is so, then surely, gentlemen, in all fairness, is it an outrageous thing to have suggested that, when the money we have in hand is totally and absurdly inadequate for the work which we have to do, the first charge on what money we have now should be those secondary schools which are open to Muhammadans and Hindus alike?

The Budget.

Mr. Hornell.

Reference has been made to the Madrassa Reform Scheme, and to the remarks which fell from the lips of my predecessor when, in connection with the Resolution to which I have just referred, he dealt with this matter. I quite endorse everything which the Hon'ble Nawab Saiyid Nawab Ali Chaudhuri said about the extreme importance of pushing forward this scheme as soon as possible. When I joined here, less than a year ago, I found a very great number of schemes awaiting me, amongst them the Madrassa Reform scheme. I saw that the introduction of this scheme, of which I entirely and absolutely approved, would be a matter of very great difficulty and complexity, and what is more, even to introduce it on a small scale would cost a considerable sum of money. I have also, as I explained, been more and more impressed in the course of every tour I make with the inadequacy and weakness of the ordinary secondary schools. Should I have been justified in advising Government to hold up a large amount of the sums—very small sums—which have already been allotted to secondary education, in order to finance the Madrassa Reform Scheme when it should be found possible to introduce it? Do not let me be misunderstood. The scheme has been most carefully considered in the last few months by Mr. Taylor, the special officer for Muhammadan education. It is one of the first things which I asked him to do, and it is now before me in detail. I cannot enter into any definite undertaking on behalf of Government, but I am quite sure that, in the course of the next few months, I shall have my proposals ready for the introduction of that scheme, and I do not despair of being able to suggest a means by which it can be financed.

Now, as to female education, the Hon'ble the Nawab Saiyid Nawab Ali Chaudhuri has painted a picture of a community which is calling out for the education of its girls, and a community which, faced with an allotment of Rs. 2,44,000, is told that it cannot have more than Rs. 10,000. Well, we are by means of these recurring grants financing various schemes, such as the Urban schools scheme and the Sadar school scheme, which were worked out in the old province of Eastern Bengal and Assam after consultation with, and careful consideration by, the Female Education Committee, on which Muhammadans were represented, and although I quite realize that there are difficulties which prevent the Muhammadans from taking the full benefit of these schools, I cannot but feel that it is at least fair to us to say that not only can they profit, but that they are actually profiting to some extent, by the introduction of these schemes. Only the other day I was in a mufassal town where there was an urban school, and I found that no less than two members of the staff, who were all ladies, were Muhammadans. Then again, the Hon'ble Nawab Saiyid Nawab Ali Chaudhuri has made no mention whatever of the fact that out of these additional funds which have recently been given to us, we have appointed an additional Assistant Inspectress for the improvement of zenana education in the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions, and that out of 15 new zenana teachers who have been appointed and financed out of these Imperial grants no less than 8 are Muhammadan ladies.

The Budget.

Mr. Hornell.

As to primary education, I venture here again to suggest, with all due deference, that the Muhammadans share in such general improvement as we have been able and may be able to effect. I have been in many parts of the Presidency where the majority of the teachers of primary schools are Muhammadans, and what is more, in the allotment of some Rs. 4,47,000 for increasing the pay of teachers in primary schools Muhammadans share equally with others. The Muhammadans have shared in all the capital grants for buildings and equipment which have been made during the last few years, which have aggregated between two and three lakhs of rupees.

I now come to the very vexed question of grants for hostels. I am afraid it is necessary to go into some detail.

The Imperial allotment concerned is the grant of 20½ lakhs for the construction of hostels throughout the Presidency of Bengal and what is known as the Dacca Enclave Scheme. In July last I found that we were not making very much progress with the allocation of these grants, and so I spent three or four laborious days in collecting all the demands which had up to that time been submitted to me and showing them against the grants with which they were concerned. Against this grant I found that we received schemes for hostels in various conditions of maturity amounting to a sum of 10 lakhs. Obviously, the first thing to do was to get Government to distribute each grant which had been assigned to more than one purpose under the various heads with which it was concerned. Having received the orders of Government assigning 5½ lakhs to hostels, all that it has been possible for me to do since then has been to draw up a list of the more matured projects and to press for the completion of these schemes. This list includes projects for Muhammadan hostels which amount to one lakh. If I have given the impression that one lakh out of 5½ lakhs is the share to which, and to which alone, the Muhammadans are entitled, I desire to apologize for having been misleading. The position is simply this : I find myself with 5½ lakhs to spend on college and school hostels ; for reasons, to the cogency of which the Council is fully alive, I consider it to be most desirable that the money should be spent with as little further delay as possible. Local inquiry with reference to the demands had previously been made, and as a result of these inquiries certain projects are before me. As each of these projects reaches me in a state of completion, I shall consider it carefully, with a view to deciding whether it can be sent forward to Government to be financed wholly or in part. But I am quite willing to consider any new scheme for the construction of a hostel, whether it be for Muhammadans or for Hindus, or anyone else. Nor should it be assumed that it would be vain to send up such a scheme seeing that no funds are likely to be available. The projects on the list above referred to are in various stages of maturity, and over and above this capital assignment, some funds—I cannot say how much—will be available for construction, for Government has agreed that some amount of the annual Imperial grant of Rs. 1,32,000 for hostels may be devoted annually, for the present at any rate, to capital contributions. As I have said before, we are quite aware of the special demand for hostels for Muhammadan pupils. I have noted this carefully in all my tours, and only the other day at Rangpur I had a meeting of the representatives of the district and encouraged them to send forward projects. We hope, as I have said, to do much more for Muhammadans. But have we done so very badly for them in the past? In 1913-14 we provisionally allocated about 8 lakhs of rupees for institutions which were specifically Muhammadan, and I desire to explain that when I said that 2 lakhs earmarked for the purchase of land in Calcutta was the only amount which was assigned to what I called specifically Muhammadan institutions. I was not thinking of such institutions as hostels for high schools, but of such institutions as will be used by Muhammadans alone. Even so, I would ask whether it was quite generous to seize upon that statement and to say what perfidy, what faithlessness is this ! This sum of Rs. 2 lakhs is the first contribution towards a scheme which will ential very considerable expenditure. It is not the time now to go into the details of the proposal to establish a Muhammadan Arts College in Calcutta which has occupied so much of the time of the Hon'ble Nawab Syed Shams-ul-Huda and myself during the past few months, but this amount of 2 lakhs, if spent on the acquisition of a good site, will enable us to make the first move towards a general reconstruction of the Madrassa and the establishment of an Arts college in Calcutta for Moslem students.

The Budget.

Mr. Hornell.

As I have just said, in 1913-14 we provisionally allocated a sum of Rs. 8 lakhs for institutions which were specifically Muhammadan. This figure includes the sum of Rs. 1 lakh, to which I have just alluded, as representing the estimated cost to Government of those hostels for Muhammadans which are on my pending list. In 1912-13 we allotted Rs. 3,05,399 to Muhammadan hostels and the Moslem Institute; also, as you will remember, a sum of Rs. 2,90,000 was assigned to the construction of hostels in Calcutta in connection with certain aided colleges, one of the conditions of this grant being that 20 per cent. of the seats should be reserved for Muhammadans. In 1911-12 we allotted a sum of Rs. 1,08,928 for Muhammadan hostels.

So much then for the case against Government with reference to Muhammadan education. I turn now to one or two other matters. The Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha has made a reference to the allotment of 1 lakh for manual instruction. He has complained of its inadequacy. But that is not our fault; it is the fault of the Imperial Government which made the allotment. He has also referred to the great need, as he considers it, of introducing into all secondary schools an element of manual instruction. I should only like to say that I endorse entirely what he has said, and I rejoice to find that such up-to-date and enlightened views should have fallen from his lips. This brings me to a criticism in connection with what may be called technical education.

The Hon'ble Nawab Syed Hossain Haider Chaudhuri and the Hon'ble Babu Upendra Lal Ray have referred to various projects in connection with technical education in Eastern Bengal. The Hon'ble Nawab says that the closing of certain 'B' classes, specially those in Comilla, has not been in the interests of the public service. He also deplores the decrease of Rs. 61,000 under the head of 'Engineering and Survey' and says that this money should have been used for the provincialisation of certain technical schools. The Hon'ble Babu Upendra Lal Ray has alluded to the scheme for the provincialisation of certain technical schools and the omission to provide funds for provincialising the Chittagong Victoria Technical School, and, with reference to Mr. Nathan's conference at Dacca in regard to industrial education, he has asked whether these proposals have been forgotten. First of all, as regards the 'B' classes, I entirely agree with the criticisms of the Hon'ble Nawab, but unfortunately we cannot have classes without pupils. The class at Comilla was closed before I joined the department, and I have since investigated the circumstances in which this was done. The class had come down to a very few pupils. In many cases the closing of the 'B' class was absolutely inevitable, simply because no pupils could be found willing to join the class. Then as regards Mr. Nathan's proposals for provincialising technical schools, I may say that these proposals have not been forgotten. I have visited nearly everyone of these institutions myself, but in view of the development that has taken place in the last two or three years, I have found it necessary in some cases to ask for further investigation. For example, when I went down to Chittagong to see the Victoria Technical Institution which Government had decided to provincialise, I found that the institution had ceased to exist. Thus the proposal to provincialise an existing institution had become a proposal to found an industrial school on the ashes of an institution which had failed. In these circumstances I thought it desirable to reconsider the general position.

Technical schools in Eastern Bengal and elsewhere consist mainly of three departments. There are the sub-overseer classes, survey classes and artisan classes. The sub-overseer classes were in a flourishing condition a few years ago, but they are now moribund. In 1909-10 there were 91 candidates who sat for the Sub-overseer Examination from the five technical schools in Eastern Bengal, while last year there were only 39 candidates. In many schools, which I have visited lately, the sub-overseer class has almost ceased to exist, e.g., not very long ago the Eastern Bengal and Assam Government decided to provincialise the Rangpur Technical School in order to preserve the sub-overseer classes which the District Board were inclined to abolish. Last year there was only one pupil in this class, and it seems doubtful whether there will be any at all next year. The survey classes seem to be promising, but there was some doubt whether they were to be continued in view of the proposed founding of a Survey School at Comilla. But I should like to say that I have been able to establish friendly relations with Major Hirst, and I see no reason why the survey classes in the technical schools need in any way clash with the Survey School at Comilla. The condition of the industrial classes is not very reassuring. In some cases I have examined the figures of the attendance of these classes for the last ten years, and I find little evidence that the training given in them is appreciated. Very few of the artizans who are persuaded to come to these classes to learn blacksmith's work do not stay for the whole course and many do not stay for more than a year.

The Chittagong College has been mentioned, as also its demand for extension. There again the position has been generally surveyed, and my office is working out the proposals for extending the affiliation granted to that institution. As regards the Principal's house at Chittagong the money has been taken out of the Budget. The provision of such a house is connected with a series of proposals for redistributing various Government buildings in the place. This brings me to a general remark made by the Hon'ble Dr. Sarbadhikari with reference to mufassal colleges. The Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor of the University referred to the great desirability of developing these mufassal colleges. I should like to say that I entirely agree with him. At present we are in some difficulty, because we have no recurring Imperial grant which we can spend on these colleges, and moreover, as regards capital expenditure. I may here remind the Council that the Imperial grant for capital expenditure on colleges, secondary schools and training colleges is only 7 lakhs, while the scheme for the improvement of the Presidency College alone amounts to over 18 lakhs. The Sanskrit College has been mentioned, and that, too, I hope we shall be able to improve during the next few years. The University Institute is one of the schemes which has been hanging fire for a long time, but it will perhaps be some comfort to those Hon'ble Members who take an interest in that excellent institution to know that the declaration for the acquisition of the land which is required has already appeared in the Gazette. The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Banerji has referred to certain grants of personal allowances to Principals of colleges and to Inspectors of Schools. The first of these is connected with a proposal which came from the Government of India in the course of last year to the effect that Principals of certain colleges should receive allowances. The proposal is still under the consideration of the Government of India, and I am therefore not in a position to say anything further on the subject. The allowances to Inspectors of Schools are connected with the scheme for compensating certain officers in the Provincial and the Indian Educational Services for such delay in their promotion as seemed likely to occur as the result of the holding up of certain proposals for the general improvement of the Service pending the report of the Public Service Commission.

I am afraid I have left many points out as I have not been able to deal with more than a few of the points that have been raised by the Hon'ble Members, but the Hon'ble Nawab Saiyid Nawab Ali Chaudhuri has said that the payment in support of local schools under District Boards stands at Rs. 2,88,560, as against Rs. 14,29,000, the decrease being due to the stoppage of the equilibrium grant on the surrender of the Public Works cess to the District Boards. The Hon'ble Nawab asks why the payment of these grants should be stopped and suggests that this alleged stoppage will defeat the very object of the Imperial recurring assignment. The Hon'ble Member has not understood the position, which is, I admit, complicated. Originally I understand pounds and ferries were made over to District Boards as a source of income, certain responsibilities in connection with educational and medical matters being assigned to them as sources of expenditure. The income did not increase at the same pace as the expenditure, hence certain grants were given by Government, which were called equilibrium grants. These equilibrium grants were resumed when the Public Works cess was made over to District Boards. The sanctioned estimate of last year amounted to 6½ lakhs, and the Budget estimate for 1914-15 amounts to Rs. 2,88,560 only, this reduction being due to the resumption of the equilibrium grants which amounted, I understand, to about 4½ lakhs, whereas the reduction is less than 3¾ lakhs. The revised estimate for 1914-15, which amounts to Rs. 14,29,000, includes the contributions from Imperial grants which were made over to District Boards. The contributions are not included in the budget estimate under the head 'Payment in support of Local schools,' because in the budget estimate the Imperial grants are shown in lump. The figures which the Hon'ble Nawab should have compared were 6½ lakhs, namely, the sanctioned estimate for 1913-14, excluding the Imperial contributions, and Rs. 2,88,560, the Budget estimate for the current financial year, in which of course no Imperial contributions have been taken into account."

The Hon'ble MR. KERR said :—

"My Lord, I propose merely to say a very few words regarding a few topics relating to the Revenue Department, which have been raised by some of the Hon'ble Members who have spoken in the course of this discussion.

The Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha has thanked Government for the suspensions of land revenue in Midnapore, but has expressed some doubts as to whether the provision made on this account in the budget is sufficient. The budget figures were based on the best information we could get, and I do not know whether the Hon'ble Member has any grounds for distrusting them. Anyhow I may explain that the amount of the suspensions does not depend in any way on the provision made in the budget. The revenue in the Government estates in Midnapore, which were affected by the recent floods, has been entirely suspended for a year, and no collections will be made till after the next harvest, whether the estimate made in the budget is sufficient or not. It is impossible at present to say how much of the suspended revenue will be collected next year, as all depends on the next harvest. But after the liberality which has been shown this year, the Hon'ble Member need be under no apprehension that Government will show any harshness in realizing their dues.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Banerji has raised the question of Kanungos. I have very great sympathy with what he said on the subject, and what is more important, Government have the same sympathy. I am glad therefore to be able to tell the Council that a scheme for improving the pay and prospects of Kanungos is in an advanced stage of consideration, and I have every hope that orders will be issued in the next few months. So far as I can recollect, the improvement in pay will not be quite so great as the Hon'ble Member suggested, but I think I may say that it will be substantial.

The Hon'ble Nawab Saiyid Hossam Haider Chaudhuri devoted a large portion of his speech to the question of agricultural education. This is altogether too large a question to take up at the fag end of a budget debate, but the Hon'ble Nawab's remarks will receive full consideration. The question has recently come up in connection with a very full discussion which took place at the recent meeting of the Board of agriculture at Coimbatore. I should like in this connection to invite the attention of all members of this Council who are interested in agriculture to the proceedings of the Board of Agriculture. The book, I think, is published for a rupee and contains nearly

The Budget.

Nawab Syed Shams-ul-Huda.

200 closely printed foolscap pages. It forms a complete record of the activities of the Agricultural Departments in the different provinces of India and of the views of the best authority as to the lines of progress. I venture to suggest that if Hon'ble Members would refer to that publication before raising questions relating to agriculture in this Council or elsewhere, it might help our discussion to take a more practical form and lead to more useful results.

Several other Hon'ble Members have touched on the subject of agriculture, but the remarks made are for the most part of a general nature and not such as to call for any detailed comment on an occasion like this. I may fairly claim that the budget shows that Government are fully alive to the importance of the Agricultural Department in this province. The total provision made for agriculture under various heads is over 7 lakhs—a higher figure than has ever before been reached."

The Hon'ble NAWAB SYED SHAMS-UL-HUDA said :—

"My Lord, Hon'ble Members have dealt with a variety of subjects, some strictly relevant and others not so relevant to the Budget. I do not intend to deal with more than one or two matters raised in to-day's discussion. I am extremely obliged to Hon'ble Members who have put forward various suggestions for the improvement of the department of sanitation. But whereas I welcome criticism, I must say that so far as the administration of this department is concerned, we can claim that we have done all that was possible for us to do. We have not been illiberal in making grants whenever opportunities have occurred. But our complaint has been that local bodies—municipalities or District Boards—have not come forward to ask for our assistance. We have departed considerably from the practice of past years. Some years ago it was laid down as a definite policy of Government that proposals should be confined to water-supply and drainage, that projects should be on a large scale, that no grant should ordinarily be of less than half a lakh, and that the general rule should be that one-third of the whole cost should be provided by a loan—not less than one-third from other local sources including subscriptions and not more than one-third from Government grant. If anyone cares to examine in detail the grants that we have made in recent years, they will find that we have financed schemes which were not strictly in connection with water-supply and drainage, that we have financed some small schemes, and sums much smaller than Rs. 50,000 have been given to various local bodies. It will also be found that we have not confined ourselves to a proportion of one-third of the total cost—in some cases we have made grants for more than half the total amount to be spent—but with all this spirit to meet the demands of local bodies we have not been able to spend more than a portion of the money that we had budgetted for. I can say this that if we find any scheme that has come up to Government but is not carried through, it will be found that the fault does lie on the side of Government. Proposals have also been made for improvement and reconstitution of the Sanitary Board. I cannot express a definite opinion. It is possible that the Sanitary Board is capable of further improvement, but we have only very recently added three non-official members to this Board, and we are waiting to see what new light these members bring to the work of this Board, and in the light of any experience that we may gain we may consider the desirability of further improvement in the constitution of the Board.

As regards the complaint that there is no agency which can properly draw up a scheme for municipalities or District Boards, all I can say is this that recently we have framed rules laying down the duties of the Sanitary Boards and of the Sanitary Engineer. Under these rules any municipality may request a Sanitary Engineer to prepare a scheme, and for the preparation of that scheme a certain sum has to be paid. But as soon as the scheme is carried through that amount is refunded. The money is asked because we do not want that the Sanitary Engineer should be requisitioned to draw up schemes which have no chance of being carried through, and I think that this is a very reasonable safeguard that we could impose. We have strengthened the Sanitary Department by the addition of Deputy Sanitary Commissioners, and recently we have passed a law requiring municipalities to appoint their own Health Officers and Sanitary Inspectors. This is still in an experimental stage, and we are awaiting further developments. I can assure Hon'ble Members that we have no desire to be stationary, that we have every desire to advance with the requirements of the time, and that if after a fair trial we find that something has to be done, we shall not be slow in doing it. It has been suggested that the Sanitary Board should be given authority, on their own initiative, to prepare schemes for municipalities and to see that they are carried through. I do not know what the feeling will be when that is done, and when the Sanitary Board begin to meddle with municipalities by pushing forward proposals which the municipalities do not like. I am not quite sure that the Hon'ble Member who made the suggestion will be thanked for it. We want that the local bodies should be left as far as efficiency will permit, unfettered in the exercise of their discretion, and I must say that so far as sanitary improvements are concerned, we have occasions to notice a desire to stand in the way of these improvements even when liberal grants have been offered by Government. I have found a feeling among many Municipal Commissioners that improvements of water-supply mean further taxation to the people, and that it is better to get on without it instead of having to pay money for good drinking water.

The Budget.

Nawab Syed Shams-ul-Huda.

It is not Government that can bring in great sanitary improvements; these must depend entirely on the people, and so long as the feeling exists that neither good water nor good sanitary surrounding are conducive to health, I am afraid any great improvement is not possible. There is a tendency to depend a great deal upon what we call kismet, and the feeling is probably well voiced by the Persian poet, who says that you need never be afraid of death, for on the day on which death is ordained nothing will save you, and on the day on which it is not ordained nothing can kill you. If that is the kind of feeling with which people look at the question, no Government ever can do very much, but all that I can say to my Hon'ble friends is that at the present time we have plenty of money to spend, and if they will ask their constituents to come forward with sound schemes which are capable of being financed by Government, it will be in no niggardly spirit that those demands will be met. I do not think that I need say more on this subject.

The next question to which I would make only a short reference is the question of Muhammadan education, as to which a good deal has been said, and in regard to which a great deal of feeling has been shown. The reply which has been given by my Hon'ble friend Mr. Hornell would probably dispose of many of the misapprehensions on the subject, because I think that they are nothing more than misapprehensions I would only say this: there is no desire on the part of the Government to be unsympathetic towards the claims of the Muhammadan community, but it must be remembered that the question of Muhammadan education is only a part and parcel of the general education of the people of the country, and that the demands on the time and attention of the Director of Public Instruction are so great that with all anxiety to examine these various important questions, he is not in a position to proceed with the same rapidity as my Hon'ble friends would wish. I have said that there is every desire to encourage Muhammadan education, and if my Hon'ble friends will only wait and see what is done, I do not think that they will have reason to be so despondent.

As regards the proposal for an Arts college in Calcutta, I can tell my Hon'ble friends that Government work takes time to mature. These schemes have to pass through various stages. Everything has to be carefully considered, everything has to be provided for, and it is only a few days ago that we have been able to calculate the cost of the scheme, recurring and non-recurring, and the accommodation that would be necessary, and we hope to proceed with it as early as we can.

The Budget.

Nawab Syed Shams-ul-Huda.

As regards the question of hostel accommodation in the vicinity of College Square, the matter is one of considerable difficulty. The difficulty has arisen in this way. There are a number of hostels which are, I believe, in course of construction or will shortly be taken up for construction. In these hostels provision has been made not only for the Hindu students but for the Muhammadan students also. As regards the hostels in connection with the City College, the Ripon College, the Scottish Churches College, and St. Xavier's College, we have one-fifth of the seats reserved for Muhammadan boys. We must see to what extent the accommodation in these hostels is availed of by Muhammadan students and what further demand there is which Government has still to meet. As regards the Presidency College, there is the further question that if a Muhammadan college is established in the Madrassa compound, how many students will resort to the Presidency College, and whether there should not be some restrictions to the admissions in the Presidency College at least as regards students taking up Art subjects, subjects as to which the new college may be affiliated. Of course there is still the question about accommodation for students of the Law College, and of the Medical College. These matters are occupying the attention of Government, but before we can make up our mind as to the extent of the accommodation necessary we have to consider the effect of the other schemes which are about to be carried through.

As regards the Madrassa reform scheme my Hon'ble friend opposite has complained that a great deal of delay has occurred in carrying this scheme through, and that we have not gone very far yet. I sympathize with my Hon'ble friend in his remarks, but the same difficulty has arisen here. In the first place, we had to take advice and consult different parts of the country as to whether they would have or would not have the reformed scheme. In my tours through the Chittagong, Rajshahi and other divisions, I consulted the leading Muhammadans as to whether they would have the reformed or adhere to the unreformed course. Then there has been a proposal that in some places we must have both. These questions we have considered, and now the scheme is before the Director of Public Instruction for further consideration. No doubt it is a difficult subject, and my Hon'ble friend will also realize that the Director of Public Instruction has not readily at his command expert advice about these matters. Therefore, what I say is this: do not be impatient, give us a chance of doing all we can, and if you find in the end that we are not up to your requirements, you can come forward with as strong an indictment as you like. I have nothing more to say on the question of Muhammadan education, although there is a good deal more which could be said; but most of the points have been met by my Hon'ble friend Mr. Hornell, and I think that his speech has convinced my Hon'ble friends that, after all, Government are not as negligent of Muhammadan interests as they are apt to think.

There is only one other point on which I would touch, and that is with reference to the Registration Department, which has been mentioned by the Hon'ble Maulvi Musharraf Husain. He bitterly complains and is prepared to shed tears for those officers of the Registration Department who have lost a long period of their service for purposes of earning their pension. One may sympathize with the feeling, but I cannot say more on the subject, because the question is one which is now under the consideration of a Royal Commission; but I may tell my friend that the hardship, if it is a hardship, is not a thing which we have created, but as a matter of fact what Government have done has been as far as possible to remove the hardship. Before 1905 there were no provisions for any pensions for sub-registrars. Since 1907 they have come under Government pay, and their services have been made pensionable. Now the complaint is that Government have not been sufficiently liberal in determining the scale of their pensions. If it is a question of sympathy, then sympathy is due to the hundreds who have retired or would retire before 1915, without any pension rather than to those few who retire in 1915 with small pensions. The whole subject is I believe under the consideration of the Public Services Commission, and I do not think it is necessary to say more about it."

The Hon'ble SIR WILLIAM DUKE said :—

"My Lord, I am afraid my remarks must be necessarily somewhat disconnected, for it is left to me to take up all the matters that no one else has replied to.

The first subject that I have to mention is that of the Judicial Service. Attention has been drawn to the fact that only a single Munsif's residence has been provided in the present Budget. That is because most of the money available for this year has been taken up to provide a residence for a Judge. But as a matter of fact, in the last two years we have provided five Munsifs' residences each year. We have during the next four years a considerable amount available under this head of the provincial equipment, and I believe we shall be able to make similar steady if rather slow progress in supplying an admitted want.

Satisfaction has been expressed that provision has been made for raising the pay of the lowest grade of Munsif's. I would ask members to adopt an attitude of expectation on this subject. I myself have always contemplated raising the pay of the lowest grade of Munsifs since the time when the Government decided to do it in the case of the Executive Service, and that was carried through about three years ago. We thought that probably what was fair for one service would be fair to the other, and in fact, so far as the Munsifs are recruited rather older, they have an additional claim. However, we decided first to take up the grading of the whole service. We were successful in obtaining considerable advantages for them, inasmuch as the average pay has been increased, and is now higher than that of the Executive Service. It is also higher than that of the Judicial Service in any province in India except Bihar. In that case the average pay was pushed as the main argument, and it is rather difficult, after successfully using the argument of the average pay to get the grading of the whole service improved, to go back and ask for a further concession because one particular grade is underpaid. However, my opinion on the subject has not altered, and I have only to say that if the High Court choose to take the matter up and make out a case, Government will give it the fullest consideration.

The Hon'ble Nawab of Dacca made an appeal to us to reserve a certain number of vacancies in the Medical College for Muhammadans with the necessary minimum qualification, that is to say, the Matriculation. For many years it has been possible to fill all the vacancies by men with higher qualifications, and of course it is very desirable that medical students should have as much general education as possible. We have heard with pleasure of the very great advance in the last few years of Muhammadan education, and I should have hoped that by now there would be no want of Muhammadan applicants at the Medical College who have the Intermediate Arts qualification. I trust that before long there will be no lack of such applicants, and to my mind that would be by far the more satisfactory solution. We desire to see Muhammadans get their fair share of medical education, and, over and above that, we really have the necessity for a certain number of Muhammadans in our own Medical Service. We are not getting sufficient of them. It is to the interest of Government to do everything possible to push medical education amongst them. At the same time, from our point of view, it would be much more satisfactory if the men who came forward had the proper standard of education. I would rather therefore wait and see whether we do not get the men whom we expect. If however we do not, it is the case that we have reserved a certain proportion, 20 per cent. of vacancies, for men with the minimum educational qualifications for provinces where education is somewhat less advanced than in Bengal, such as Bihar and Orissa, and if it should prove to be unavoidable, perhaps out of that 20 per cent. we may be able to reserve some portion for Muhammadans.

The Budget.

Sir William Duke.

The question of the pay of ministerial officers has been raised by Rai Hari Mohan Chandra Bahadur. I would only remind him that the pay of all the ministerial officers in the Presidency was revised between the years 1910 to 1912. I do not of course assert that that should last for all time, and that no revision will ever be necessary. It is no doubt the case that the prices of the necessities of life still continue to rise, but I do not think that the time has come for another general revision.

The Hon'ble Member has asked for some assistance for an inquiry into the number of dependants whom ministerial officers have to support. I am afraid that such an inquiry cannot be made by Government. It will be very difficult, very uncertain, and probably infructuous. Especially where men are members of joint families, it is impossible to say how many people they have got to support, and after all, I think it would hardly be our duty to direct that the pay should be dependent on the number of people they may have to support. It is only really essntial that the pay should be sufficient to keep an officer in suitable circumstances and to enable him to support an ordinary family, but if there are three or four times that number, it is hardly possible that the pay should be increased in proportion.

Another point pressed upon us was that subdivisional officers should receive some special allowance. So far as I know, amongst the officers of the status who are usually appointed to subdivisions, whether they are Civilians or Provincial, Hindus or Muhammadans, the position is very much sought after. It carries with it a free house, first class travelling allowance, whether the officer is ordinarily entitled to first class travelling allowance or not, and I am bound to say I have never found any want of men anxious for subdivisions.

The Hon'ble Babu Upendra Lal Ray asked us to do something to assure the inhabitants of Noakhali as to what their fate will be. It is impossible not to sympathize very much with the state of uncertainty and anxiety in which the people of Noakhali now are, but at the same time I hope that there will be no grave cause for apprehension for some considerable time to come. It is not likely that the operation of the erosion of the river will actually attack the town for another three or four years, and it is possible, and let us hope it is probable, that the river may turn back and never attack the town at all. All I think Government should do is to be certain in their own mind what measures they will take if the evil day comes, and how they should be carried out so as to avoid dislocation as much as possible. It would not, I think, be advantageous at present, when we are quite uncertain as to whether Noakhali will have to be evacuated at all, to designate some new place as a future head-quarters of the district. I think the principal effect of such a course would be to set up extensive speculation in land which, if the change were never to take place at all, would be really ruinous. If, therefore, Government eventually decide that it is necessary to provide a city of refuge, it will be done in reasonable time but not before the necessity really arises.

The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon is unfortunately indisposed and is not present to-day, but he wished me to refer to one or two matters which have been mentioned. I am afraid I am unable to treat them with the fullness with which he would have done, and I can only mention them briefly.

The first is the roads in the Dooars section of Jalpaiguri, which the Hon'ble Mr. Chaplin has spoken about. All that we have to say in regard to that is that on the whole the programme to be adopted by the Public Works Department will closely follow the local programme of requirements. We may not be able to provide the full amount asked for, but we do expect to provide the greater portion in the course of the next four years, and work will proceed rapidly.

Then as regards the port of Chittagong, this Government are fully alive to the importance of the port of Chittagong, at any rate to the eastern portion of the province. I think we have given sufficient proof of that, in that, although the Government of India subsidy has been cut down, we have ourselves provided Rs. 75,000 a year for the Port, although we have not in any way that direct financial interest in it which the Government of India have. Much has been heard in the past of the jealousy which was felt against Chittagong

The Budget.

Sir William Duke.

in Calcutta. I think that hardly any feeling of that kind operates now. I think the feeling is that no amount of trade going to Chittagong would ever be likely to affect Calcutta, but I think there is a certain lukewarmness about Chittagong in Calcutta. Calcutta people are so concerned with their own immediate affairs that they are not anxious to have the trouble of looking after business at Chittagong as well. However, that is by the way. We expect very shortly from Chittagong the report of Sir Francis Spring on the inspection which he has recently made, with the local views upon it, and when we have this we shall consider what is best to be done for the Port.

On the great question of waterways also, Government have not been idle. They have just now addressed the Government of India on the subject of dredgers for the subsidiary waterways, and they are about to address them almost immediately on the project for a grand trunk canal which was drawn up last year by Mr. Lees. These, I think, are the principal matters of detail on which I desired to speak. I would like to say a few words about the general financial situation.

Much has been said about the desirability of greater financial independence. Well, we all desire that. I have referred to it myself on previous occasions, and we should feel in a stronger position if we could have more control over our own progress—if we had more revenue in our own hands. At the same time it is not reasonable to represent the situation as being worse than it is, nor to ask for what is really impossible. For instance, we have had talk of having a deficit of one crore of rupees in our present Budget. That is a very artificial manner of speaking. Our ordinary income this year is the same as our ordinary income has been, or rather, is appreciably better than it has been for a number of years. Last year and previous years we had some special gifts given to us, and were able to spend very little, and a crore remains to be spent. Because we are spending that crore in addition to our ordinary income, it is hardly a correct representation of facts to say that we are a crore in deficit. The real fact is that this year the Budget is very much what it has been before with our growing income, increasing at the rate of something like 10 or 11 lakhs a year, and our ordinary expenditure tending to expand at almost exactly the same rate. As a matter of fact there is practical equality. What there is not, and what we should like to have, is some margin for new development. Our settlement is only temporary, it comes to an end with this year, and the Government of India and ourselves will have to discuss what the permanent settlement will be. We may hope that we shall obtain some increase under the head of 'Growing revenue'. As a matter of fact, a comparatively moderate increase would probably be as much as we have a right to expect. We have to remember that after all the Government of India have their own expenditure to face—very important expenditure—and we can hardly expect it to hand over all its growing revenues to the provinces; and some of the expectations which are raised could hardly be met by any Government. For instance, there is one point which I notice specifically, and that is the demand that Government should take over the whole of the chaukidari expenditure.

This has been objected to on various different grounds, but whatever the grounds be, the point is that Government will have to pay. I still see signs of the old idea that Government, like a Fairy Godmother, is able to materialize revenue at any moment it is required for any purpose. But the fact is that even if the system of village rating ceases, the tax will still be paid and the money will have to come out of the pockets of the people. That is one of several reasons why the system has not been changed. Another reason why I have been personally opposed to the change is that people would have to pay very much more than they have paid. At present chaukidari pay is extremely low, and one reason is that as the people assess themselves they naturally see to it that it is kept low. But if Government is to take over the burden, it will have to look much more closely into the rates of pay than it has been doing in the past and will probably have to pay half as much again or even more than that. While on that subject, I am bound to say that, although I do not deny the justice of some of the complaints about chaukidari assessment, I think that they are very disheartening when they come from those who press for the admission of the people to a larger share in the administration of their own affairs and especially for the revivification of the village system. After all, chaukidari panchayets have been chosen with great care during the last few years. They are selected from the best sort of people that can be got locally, if not by formal election, at any rate by common consent—and if their assessments in this petty matter of village taxes are as outrageous as they are represented to be, what are we to say of the capacity of these people? As a matter of fact, I do not believe that they are so bad. I think probably they sometimes fail in not taking as much out of certain people as they ought to, and that they take rather more than they should from some who are not in so good a position to pay. But I think that if there is any vitality in village life and the spirit of self-government, that sort of thing ought to cure itself.

The Budget.

The President.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Banerji demanded that Government should take over this charge because he says the charge for "watch and ward" is one which the Government defrays in all civilized countries. Well, I think that is going rather far. In the first place, it is denying the ancient civilization of India where the local watch and ward has always been a direct charge upon the villages. In the second place, though the Hon'ble Member may consider this to be of less importance, I have always reckoned Great Britain as a part of the civilized world and there the Borough and County Police are provided by local rating. I do not say that whatever is good for England is good for India, but I do say that there is no argument from English conditions that any change is necessary in India in this respect. I think, however, that the great point is that we should hope that people will become able to manage their own affairs. I have brought the subject in at this point as showing what enormous demands are made upon Government. Probably, if we were to take over the chaukidari as a charge upon the general revenues, we should find within a year or two that it was costing us little short of a crore of rupees. We could of course bear that, if we could obtain revenue according to the sanguine expectations of the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur, that is to say, if the Government of India gave us all the heads he wants, we should have about 2½ crores more revenue, but is anything of the sort reasonable or possible? Rather, as I have said, the best we can hope for is that at the end of this year, when we obtain our quasi-permanent settlement, we should secure some slight improvement in the present proportion of growing revenue which may enable us to provide not merely for the absolutely necessary expansion in our existing services but may leave a little margin for fresh developments.

My Lord, before I sit down I ought perhaps to try to put an end to the rather persistent statement that financially the Presidency of Bengal is treated in a different way from the other Presidencies. I have been at the head of the Finance Department of this Presidency since its formation, and I am unaware of what the differences are in the manner in which we are supposed to be treated, save and except that the present financial settlement is, as was inevitable, a temporary one. From next year it will be quasi-permanent. Still I do not think that the fact that the settlement is temporary has made any difference in the treatment of Bengal. It is also of course the case that we have not behind us the same length of tradition as the other Presidencies. We have to make our own traditions. I do not know what there is to complain of. The financial rules under which we work are exactly the same in all cases, and as far as I know, we are treated in financial matters exactly in the same way as other Presidencies."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Gentlemen, I think that every one who wished to speak on the Budget discussion has spoken. It only remains for me to say a few words before we adjourn for some time. According to precedent I shall refer not merely to matters dealt with in the Budget but to other matters also. First of all I thank all of you—officials and non-officials alike—for the help you have given my Council—help both in legislation and in administration. In the matter of legislation you have passed six bills : four of these have already become law and two more are awaiting the approval of the Governor General to become law. When we consider what has been done in cold weather sessions of Council in previous years, I believe we shall find that output of legislation quite up to the average. In the matter of administration my officers have all helped me as was their duty to do, but you non-official members have also helped me by asking questions and by moving or speaking to resolutions. thus drawing the attention of my colleagues and myself to matters which, in your opinion, interest the people of Bengal for whose welfare it is our duty to work.

The Budget.

The President.

Of the Acts which we have passed into law, the Sanitary Officer's Act introduces a new feature into the provincial Municipal Act by providing for the admission of sanitary officers and inspectors in mufassal municipalities; this I hope may prove to be an improvement. By the Doveton Trust Act we hope that greater effect may be given in future to the intentions of the founder of that institution than has recently been the case. The Calcutta Municipal Loans Act was much discussed, and I do not suppose that all of you look on it as perfect, but I think we may all admit that it is a step in advance at any rate; we all hope that it may result in greater efficiency in the administration of Calcutta Municipal Finance.

The Chittagong Port Bill will, I hope, tend to enhance the prosperity of Chittagong, and I believe it meets with the approval of those of you who are most interested in that rising Port. I need say little about the Bengal Medical Bill. It does not profess to accomplish a great deal, but I hope it is a first step towards corporate and self-conscious life in the medical profession in Bengal, and that it may help that profession to be more united in future instead of being divided up, as I am afraid it has to some extent been, without much common professional feeling and with a certain amount of jealousy amongst its members.

When we come to general administration, I would call your attention to three points which well deserve your attention, as they are to some extent starting points for further advance. In the first place, we are now able to see that the Calcutta Improvement Trust is active and has begun operations. No doubt you will look carefully, as will also Government, at the actions of that Trust in future. Then there has been the Port Facilities Committee, which has been sitting lately under the chairmanship of our Vice-President. I think we may all congratulate Sir William Duke on the rapidity with which that Committee got through its work and prepared its report. We shall give close attention to the report, and I hope we shall find that it will lead to a start being made very soon on those improvements, which certainly must be effected if Calcutta is to continue to keep the prominent place which she at present holds amongst the cities of the east. Personally I am anxiously awaiting another report, the Report of the District Administration Committee. I know that some of you do not expect as much good result as I hope for from the appointment of that Committee ; but both you and I, I am sure, realize the importance of general administration in the districts, and I believe that you will rejoice if the appointment of the Committee leads to some of the good which I expect from it.

I was glad to see how much interest was taken by all Hon'ble Members in educational matters. After what Mr. Hornell has said to-day, I need say little about this subject. I would, however, mention one point to which Mr. Hornell intended to refer, but which escaped his memory. The Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor, Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, yesterday expressed a desire to know about the fish-market site in northern Calcutta and was doubtful as to what was being done about securing it for the University. The site has, as a matter of fact, been already acquired by Government, and Government are prepared to give it over to the University so soon as the University shall have obtained the sanction of the Government of India to the proposals which it is prepared to make for the use of that site and can show how it will provide the necessary funds. I am under the impression that this information has already been conveyed to the University ; but if there is any point on which my Hon'ble friend wishes for fuller information, Government will be only too glad to do their best to give it. I regret that my colleague, the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon, should not be able owing to indisposition to be present to-day. He has asked me to correct any impression which may exist, and I believe that such impression does exist, that the large pending balances out of the Imperial grants indicate inability on the part of Government to utilize these grants. The Nawab Bahadur of Dacca for one expressed a fear that this was so. I sympathize very much with the Nawab Bahadur in his general dislike to keeping a large sum of money idle without spending it. Perhaps both he and I—certainly I—would be richer if we had not often thought alike on this matter ; but be that as it may, Hon'ble Members must remember that these large grants, for which we are very grateful, fall far short of the growing demands of this Presidency, and that therefore much care must be taken in examining the many calls on the public purse, so that Government may choose the best and most urgent schemes on which to expend public funds. It has been this consideration and not any inability to spend the money which has led to the balances remaining unspent.

The Budget.

The President.

Another matter in which Mr. Lyon has been actively interested is the Burdwan flood. This flood a few months ago caused us serious anxiety. There is one result of it over which we all rejoice—it showed how willing many of the people of Bengal are to work unselfishly for the good of their fellowmen. But there were other results not so pleasing. Public interest in these floods has to a great extent now died out. but it may not be out of place to tell you what the present position is. Three of the districts of the Burdwan Division, viz., Burdwan, Hooghly and Howrah, were restored to their normal condition early in the cold weather. In the Contai subdivision of the Midnapore district relief measures were more prolonged. Collections of rents were suspended in the Government estates ; the chaukidari tax was remitted for three-quarters of the year ; loans on a liberal scale were given to agriculturists, and special arrangements were made by the Public Works Department to provide work for all who required it. while gratuitous relief was given to those unable to work. These measures prevented distress from ever becoming acute, and the latest reports from the area are very favourable. There is every hope that if the coming season is a good one, all traces of the late calamity will soon disappear.

Many of you have shown great interest in the means of communication, whether by rail or by water, throughout the Presidency. Increased prosperity, growing wealth and the advance of education will make that interest grow even more. I feel sure that the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon and Government as a whole will do their best to meet all reasonable demands in this matter.

I was also glad to observe your great interest in sanitation, of which my colleague the Hon'ble Nawab Syed Shams-ul-Huda has already spoken. In this connection I would merely say that I hope you are giving close attention to the scientific work in this connection which has been so ably done by Major Fry, by Dr. Bentley and by Major Clemesha.

One point of general administration. to which I would like to refer, is the complaint that the pay of menial servants is not what it ought to be. The rise in the price of food has undoubtedly given good ground for this complaint : that rise has pressed hard on many menial servants of Government. I am not in a position at present to say what the recommendations are which we are making to the Government of India, but you may take my word for it that Government are determined to improve the lot of their menial servants.

We have heard a good deal about the Police. They are much criticized and their faults have often been pointed out. Government do not profess that the police are all that they might be ; there is room for improvement, although there has been much improvement and Government hope gradually to secure more. But on behalf of Government as well as of myself I would like to say a word in recognition of the services which have been rendered by those of the police whose duty it is to deal with those crimes which we believe are political in nature. We know how dangerous and difficult it often is for those officers to perform their duty, and we admire the way in which, in spite of being themselves only too conscious of that danger, they have persevered in their task. We deplore the loss from time to time of the lives of some of our ablest and most devoted officers. I believe that you all here deplore that loss. It is the duty of Government to make provision for the dependants of those officers, and Government, I hope, will always act up to this responsibility, though this is but a small consolation. It is only from time to time that the public come to know what excellent work is done by members of the police force, and therefore I think it is but fair that I, who am constantly being reminded of the dangers which these men run, should take this opportunity of publicly expressing my admiration for their bravery. Speaking at Bombay on the 20th of March the Viceroy expressed his admiration for the heroic qualities of these men, who, as he said, 'with no watchword on their lips but duty, have steadily gone about their work, carrying, as sad experience has proved, their lives in their hands.' Like the Viceroy, I feel sure that the day will come when it will be recognized that those men have acted as bravely as any of the military heroes of whom we have so often read. If I were an Indian I should be proud to have those men as my fellow-countrymen. I am not an Indian, but as one responsible to some extent for the government of India, I am proud to know that in the service of Government there are Indians who can show such fortitude in knowingly facing danger in the execution of their duty, without any hope of great reward.

The Budget.

The President.

I now wish to say a few words on another matter—the state of affairs which causes this danger to which I have just referred. Speaking at Dacca last summer I said that I feared that the public of Bengal hardly realized what a risk some of the young men of Bengal were running. Much that I have learned since, makes me feel, even more than I did then, the gravity of that risk; and makes me even more anxious than I then was that all who can help by their influence to lessen that risk should do so. You, the non-official Indian members of my Council, are, I feel sure, as anxious as any one to put down political crime in the interests of your own country which you love so well. Time and again you have told me this, and I believe you. I believe you hate, as much as I hate, to read the aspersions sometimes cast in ignorance, let us hope in misinformed ignorance, on Bengal in this matter. Many of you have told me that the political situation in Bengal, and I believe you, is better than it was; there is less ill-feeling towards Government than there once was. I rejoice, and you rejoice to know, that; you are loth to think—you are right to be loth to think; you are hard to convince, you are right to be hard to convince, that any of your fellow-countrymen are capable of acting as some of her detractors would have us believe that many in Bengal would like to act. But, gentlemen, evidence which has been brought before me forces me to believe, and I think must force, however reluctantly, others to believe, that there is a small number, a very small number in proportion to the whole of the population of Bengal, who are prepared to go to extremes of crime, or to make others go to extremes of crime, if only they think they can thereby do harm to the established Government. And there is a somewhat larger, but still small number of people in Bengal—young men for the most part, who, through ignorance, or perhaps I ought rather to say through incomplete knowledge, are ready to be led by those more guilty than themselves to go to any length in crime, sometimes in the firm belief that they are acting nobly. There is again a number of persons, actually and still more relatively small, who, though not prepared themselves to act, yet have a certain sympathy varying no doubt in degree with those who are prepared to commit crimes; and who may, under pressure of some emotion, pass out of the one category into the other. Gentlemen, I believe that what I have said is true, I believe that there is a great risk that some of our boys and young men, actuated perhaps even by generous motives, may join one of these bands. I do not ask you to accept this merely on my word; and you cannot have the evidence put before you which I have had put before me. All I ask you is to believe that there is evidence enough to make me—and I do not think I am prejudiced in any way—believe this, for I feel sure that there is not one of you who would not admit that if there are any such men as I have described, they are not only risking doing much damage to themselves but may also cause much pain to their relations, and certainly are doing grave hurt to their fellow-countrymen, for by their action they risk delaying the carrying out of reforms which will be for the good of their country. It is the duty of Government, if they be convinced that there is danger, to take such steps as they may deem necessary ; but I need not dwell on that. The real cure lies in public opinion, and I do appeal most earnestly to you, who obviously can affect public opinion, to take any and every chance which may offer itself to guide the young men of your country to look on the future of their country in a way less likely to do harm to it than I fear may be the case if they listen to the persuasions of some persons who are, I believe, at present anxious to influence them.

ADJOURNMENT.

Gentlemen, I say no more, but I declare this Council adjourned sine die."

The year opened with a balance of Rs. 22,167-6 and closed with a balance of Rs. 23,331-0-4.

III. Election to vacancies, etc.—(1) The annual election of foundationers was held on Wednesday, the 15th January. For the 12 vacancies advertised, 51 applications were received and 12 girls were elected on the recommendation of a sub-committee consisting of the Ven. Archdeacon Wickins, the Revd. Father A. Van de Mergel, the Revd. D. H. Manley and Mr. G. D'O Maclear. Of the girls elected, 5 were placed in the Loreto Convent, Entally (4 in the orphanage and 1 in the boarding school), 2 in the Calcutta Girls' School, 2 in the Pratt Memorial School, 2 in the Calcutta Free School and 1 in La Martinière.

(2) Of the 26 girls withdrawn during the year, 15 had attained the age of 17 years, the limit ordinarily allowed under the rules, 10 were withdrawn before they had attained that age, including one on account of ill-health and one on account of failing sight. One girl died from fever.

(3) Of the girls who had been withdrawn during the preceding year, and in respect of whom reports have been received during the year under review, one is employed as a matron in a school, one found a post as a telephone operator, another is being trained for Kindergarten work at LaMartinière as a free student, and one got married.

(4) At the close of the year there were 123 girls on the foundation against 137 in the preceding year. They were distributed as follows :—

(6) The health of the girls was on the whole satisfactory.

IV. Educaation and maintenance.—(1) The nature of the education imparted to the girls on the foundation was generally that prescribed for elementary and higher elementary schools under the Code of Regulations for European Schools in Bengal, and in a few cases that for the Cambridge Local Certificate Examinations.

(2) Parents and guardians are generally given the choice of any boarding school for the education of their children or wards who may be elected, provided that the school has been approved by Government as suitable for the beneficiaries of the Bruce Fund. A sum of Rs. 21-8 or Rs. 16 a month is paid for the education and maintenance of each foundationer, in a boarding school or an orphanage, as the case may be. A sum of Rs. 40 or Rs. 25 is also allowed for each foundationer for an outfit on joining a boarding school or an orphanage, as the case may be. Under the rules a girl is not ordinarily allowed to remain on the fund after she has attained the age of 17 years, when an outfit grant of Rs. 50 is generally given to enable her to make a start in life. If, however, a girl elects to take up teaching as a profession an extension may be given under the rules. One such extension was granted during the year. Short extensions not exceeding a year are also generally allowed to girls who are preparing for examinations under the Code of Regulations for European Schools or for the Cambridge Locals or who are learning shorthand and typewriting. Two such extensions were granted during the year.

(3) The monthly average cost of the education and maintenance of each girl on the Fund amounted to Rs. 18-8-9 against Rs. 19-0-4 in the preceding year.

(4) The amounts paid under the different heads of expenditure were as noted below :—

V. Inspection.—The Revd. D. H. Manley was appointed Visiting-Governor for the first-half, and the Ven. Archdeacon Firminger for the second-half of the year. Mr. Manley's report was satisfactory. He states that he found all the girls present and well, except that at the Loreto Convent, Entally, two or three girls were slightly ill. Also that the girls looked well cared for in all the schools. Mr. Manley also made special enquiries in all the schools to find out if the financial circumstances of the parents or guardians of any of the wards had changed for the better materially, but he believes that there are no cases worthy of notice. There was no report from the Archdeacon.

VI. Meetings.—Four meetings were held during the year and among the various resolutions passed the following may be noted :—

"That the Governors desire to place on record their sense of the valuable services rendered to the Institution by Mr. Küchler and express their best wishes for his health and prosperity."

CALCUTTA,
The 25th March 1914.

W. W. HORNELL.
Honorary Secretary to the Governors.
